Says Dickinson ‘Rebels Against Evil’

Rev. John Martin Views State’s Governor

(Reverend John Martin is the editor of The Birmingham Eccentric. His views are sometimes at odds with the state’s governor, John B. Nixon.)

Here’s the latest from the man known as the leader of Alabama’s reform movement.

The people are tired of being governed by a state that doesn’t care about their needs. It’s time for change. We must stand up for what’s right and fight for our rights.

For A New Family Here

Miss Thompson’s Candid Opinions Collected in Book

By LINDO MOORE

(Thalia Thompson is a prominent author and social critic. Her latest book, “Candid Opinions on Alabama,” is a collection of her thoughts on the state’s politics and society.)

I am convinced that the state is in need of a new moral compass. We must work towards a better future for all Alabamians.

Pictured above is the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Lorine S. Forest, located in Laketown Park. The house was built by Laketown Homes and is located on the 18th hole of the Laketown Golf Course. The couple moved in last month, and their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forest, are very excited about their new home.

Real Estate Trend Depends on the War

HARRISON H. NELSON, President

Alabama Real Estate Association

It goes without saying that the war has had a significant impact on the real estate market. With the increased need for homes and commercial space, we are seeing a rise in property values.

Quartermaster School District is more popular than ever

If you haven’t done so lately, drive down Fairfield Road and you will be amazed at the development of beautiful homes on this street. A few new homes are still available at very reasonable prices.

New Brick Colonial

This home is ideal for a family now requiring three bedrooms and one bath in the future. The house includes amazing features such as a fireplace and a large enclosed porch.

A Checking Account

HELPS YOU TO ECONOMIZE

Successful budgeting depends on the careful control of all expenses. With a checking account you have a complete, permanent record of every transaction. For a check book account you see what you spend and where it goes and helps you to keep within your budget. In addition, the time-saving efficiency of paying by check is an important consideration.
