

Two Departments Of Woman's Club Outline Meetings

Birmingham Women's club will hold its department meetings on Tuesday afternoon next. Mrs. Russell McBride, of Fairview avenue, will be hostess to the American Home department and Mrs. W. Mack, of Yorkshire road, will entertain the Art department. A dessert luncheon will precede the American Home department's session, which will feature a discussion on "Rebuilding the Grippling Child," led by Mrs. W. S. Toothaker. Mrs. H. E. Tremper will be chairman for the day. Assisting—Mrs. McBride with the luncheon will be Miss Esther and Miss Lucy Purdy and Mrs. Benwick J. Bell.

The Art department is to hold a recipe tea and each member may bring two guests. In charge of arrangements are Mrs. William A. Daley, Mrs. D. C. Ebert and Mrs. E. F. Painter. Miss Harriet Harwood of Detroit, will be the guest speaker and will have as her subject, "Party Decorations and Favors."

Black lace on white, or pink is popular and striped muslins are used for the more sophisticated.

Club Notes

Young People's Club Formed by Lutherans

The Rev. Theodore Wuggenzer, Jr., Pastor of the Redeemer Evangelical Lutheran Church, on Lincoln and Ann streets, has formed a Young People's Society, it will be affiliated with the Waltham League of the International Young People's Association of the Lutheran Church.

At present there are 15 members who will be under the sponsorship of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kuder, 1817 Henrietta street, at whose home the group plans to meet twice a month.

Staff Assistance Course Closes

Eight weeks' course in Red Cross Staff Assistance work was concluded Wednesday with an all-day institute at the Community House.

Lillian Tracy, field representative of the mid western branch of the American Red Cross, in St. Louis, was the guest speaker and told of the various Red Cross volunteer services and activities of each. Miss Tracy disclosed information regarding the distribution of garments for European war refugees and stated that garments have already reached German and neutral countries where refugees have settled.

Vera McLeod, branchlet, from the Ingham County chapter, spoke of Braille progress and demonstrated the use of the typewriter and methods by which brailleists distribute materials for the use of blind people.

Also appearing on the program was W. C. Lucy representative for first aid in life saving, who told members of the activities and curriculum since early depression days. The winner discussed the Bill of Rights.

Cockin Woodruff arranged the meeting. Judges were Oliver Kirk, H. Kenneth Bingham, Harold Kaur, Dr. V. P. Wood and E. W. Osborne.

Next Tuesday, members will meet for luncheon but will adjourn early so that a number of the members may attend the Detroit Food's sewing gauge. On April 23, a party will be held at Otto Beck's home.

Dr. John P. Wood Invited to Speak At Convention

Dr. J. P. Wood, of Birmingham, trustee of the American Osteopathic Association and chairman of its Bureau of Industrial and Institutional Service, has been invited to be a principal speaker before the Orthopedic Section of the 44th annual convention of the American Osteopathic Association which will be held the week of June 24 in St. Louis, Mo., according to word from Chicago.

The invitation came from Dr. Robert Starks, of Denver, program chairman of the section. Dr. Wood is asked to participate in a symposium on "Pathologies Peculiar to the Spine and Pelvis," with several members of the Detroit Osteopathic Hospital Staff. He will discuss "Congenital Anomalies."

The convention will be attended by about 2,500 osteopathic physicians and surgeons and specialists from all parts of North America.

A new silhouette which is becoming popular for women is that with the bloused bodice and narrow skirt.

Dick Harvey Wins Speech Contest

Richard Harvey, 17-year-old student at Baldwin High School, was adjudged the winner of the extempore speaking contest held Tuesday noon at the Exchange Club meeting. He will compete further in the district contest to be held here on Tuesday, April 30, with representatives of half a dozen other nearby cities competing. The metropolitan champion will be selected in a contest May 15 in Detroit.

Harvey, Harry Mack and Robert Fisher were the three contestants, each speaking for about five minutes on some phase of the year's situation. Their instructor, Mrs. Geraldine Forsyth, and Principal Ray H. Boehlert, were guests at the meeting. This semester is the first time public speaking has been included in the metropolitan curriculum since early depression days. The winner discussed the Bill of Rights.

Cockin Woodruff arranged the meeting. Judges were Oliver Kirk, H. Kenneth Bingham, Harold Kaur, Dr. V. P. Wood and E. W. Osborne.

Next Tuesday, members will meet for luncheon but will adjourn early so that a number of the members may attend the Detroit Food's sewing gauge. On April 23, a party will be held at Otto Beck's home.

We Heard It Said By:

JOHN P. HACKETT, chief of police: "It's a strange thing how people change the minute they step into an automobile. Walking down the street, or in a crowded building, everyone is courteous to the other person, but in an automobile, courtesy seems to be forgotten and the first impulse of people is to blow their horns."

Fullness seems to be towards the back in skirts and in blouses.
