

Artists to Join To State Exhibits, Swanson Reveals

A collaborative exhibition including work of architects, landscape architects, sculptors, and other arts to be shown in cities throughout the state was announced this week by Robert F. Swanson, of Birmingham, chairman of the committee on Allied Michigan Society of Architects.

Plans for the exhibition, which is to be sponsored by various local civic organizations, were laid at a recent meeting of the committee including Swanson, Wm. C. Rowland, Branson V. Gamber and Owen A. Lukenbach of Detroit, Chris Skeates of Grand Rapids and Wells I. Bennett of Ann Arbor.

Architecture and the allied arts are so inter-related that none of the professions can afford to play a lone hand in the matter, Swanson commenting on the cooperative movement to bring closer harmony.

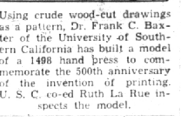

"No work can be creditable which does not take into account the work of others," he said, "and each, right from the beginning of the scheme. Therefore, we all have worked together in a closer affiliation and mutual understanding of each other's problems."

Swanson, with offices in the Wa-beek Building, Birmingham, is on the staff of Cranbrook Academy of Art, and associated with Eliel and Eero Saarinen in the Cranbrook architectural office.

Builds Model Of Ancient Press

Using crude wood-cut drawings as a pattern, Dr. Frank C. Baxter of the University of Southern California has built a model of a 14th century hand press to commemorate the 500th anniversary of the invention of printing.

SCOUT NEWS BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA

All right, so we were wrong, we can't make a mistake just like any one else. At this time, permit us to say that we realize that Troop B-7 did not open ten days at Camp George. Only about twenty six of the Scouts that went on that notable excursion have told us so. We are well aware of the fact that only three days were spent there and that they were told so. 'The Lieutenant Governor

BY ELTON R. EATON
Editor and Publisher, The Pinosaw News

When the state legislature sometime ago passed a law making the Lieutenant Governor a member of the executive branch, it placed a state official in a position to give to the citizens of Michigan exceptional public service.

The original law creating the board made all of the elective state officials, except the Lieutenant Governor, members of the board. All of these officials are the heads of departments employing large numbers of people. They have much to do with policies and administrative actions that directly involve public good will or displeasure.

The Lieutenant Governor will be the only member of the board who is not the head of any department or agency employing large numbers of people. Because of this departmental freedom, he will be able to act more independently than any other member of the board.

Next week's article will be a brief historical review of the office.

Canada and U.S. Border Rules Told

OTTAWA—Whilst after July 1 residents of countries adjacent to the United States have been required to be in possession of passports as a condition of entry to that country, there has been no change in the Canadian Immigration regulations. American tourists and visitors are cordially welcomed to Canada and do not require passports to enter the Dominion. Citizens of the United States still retain their pre-war freedom to enter and travel in Canada without any new restrictions.

Returning to the United States The United States Department of State advises that, "The new (United States) regulations impose no additional requirements on United States citizens and they may, as heretofore, proceed to their homes in the United States without any specified documentation. They need have only a matter of convenience the documentary evidence customarily carried in the past."

Bona fide American citizens should have no difficulty through answers to questions and otherwise in satisfying the Examining Immigration Officer. In case they are asked to show papers to establish their identity and place of residence, the possession of personal papers or other identifying documents would be helpful, for example, old passport, birth or baptismal certificate, voter's certificate, tax bills, letter of identification from a bank or responsible municipal official, personal letters, car license, driver's license or similar papers.

It is suggested that naturalized citizens carry with them their naturalization certificates.

Aliens Returning to U. S. Citizens of other countries, including Canadian citizens, who are permanent legal residents of the United States should secure a re-entry permit from the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service before departing from the United States. Application for a re-entry permit should be made approximately 30 days before departure. The fee for a permit is $5.00 and a separate application must be made for each person. A re-entry permit is valid for only one year and may be used for only one entry to the United States. Should such a citizen leave the United States without a re-entry permit, a new immigration visa, involving fees and documents, must be secured from the United States Consular authorities before he can re-enter the United States.

Persons who visit Canada frequently should apply to the nearest office of the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service for a border identification card.

Red Cross Women Prepare Fourth Quota

Women volunteers of the Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross, are completing the fourth quota of garments, knitted articles, and surgical dressings for relief of war refugees in Europe. Shipment will be made Sept. 1.

Workrooms which have continued in operation during the summer months are the Postage Auxiliary, Women's Relief Corps, All Saints Guild No. 2, Daughters of the Union Veterans, Wednesday Community Club, and the Camp Fire Girls have been making garments for the quota. Christ Church Cranbrook workroom has increased its workers and has made great strides in its completion of garments and surgical dressings. Birmingham has also continued its sewing and the Royal Oak workroom has been working on garments and surgical dressings every day during the summer. Despite the heat, many women have been giving their time in order that the Oakland County quota may be filled.
