

Lathrup Townsite News

by LILLIAN DIEDERICH

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Freese, of Lathrup boulevard, will be hosts over the holidays to R. P. Wilkins of Cleveland, Mr. Wilkins is Mrs. Freese's father. Last week Mrs. Freese entertained her Detroit bridge club.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Knorr, of Glenwood boulevard, will motor to the Irish Hills for the holidays, to visit relatives there.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Walker and children of San Jose boulevard, will spend Christmas day with Mr. and Mrs. Frank La Grove and family who reside in Detroit.

Going to Texas

The J. D. Squibbs and family, of California drive, left last Saturday to visit their relatives in Texas. Both the Squibbs and family, they decided only Friday to surprise their parents and so when we heard of the trip, things were in a mad scramble, we were told.

The L. W. Clines will be hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Kepp, of Detroit, over Christmas. The traditional Christmas party will be given for relatives numbering 25 on Christmas Eve, in the Cline home on Saratoga drive.

Girl Scouts will sing Christmas Carols all through the Townsite on Christmas Eve.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Neubauer, of Saratoga boulevard, expect E. J. Moran, and daughter, Mary, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Simmer of Kalamazoo for the Christmas holidays. The girls are Mrs. Neubauer's nieces.

Christmas Spirit!

William B. Mason of Saratoga boulevard, reports that this year his home will not be lighted outside as has been his custom in years gone by. All last week end Bill worked arduously on the pine trees wiring them, and getting them in readiness for Christmas. He installed some 80 lights and was delighted with the completed job. While he and Mrs. Mason were at the theatre on Wednesday night, someone helped himself to the entire outfit!

A contingent of students from various schools will arrive home on Saturday. Marion Leucht from Ann Arbor; Betty Waddell from Michigan State; Patty Stock from St. Joseph's; Adrian Donald from Howe Military Academy; Bill Tieman from Assumption College.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bonhage of California drive are anticipating guests for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Schnable, of Eldorado place, had breakfast for six Lathrup neighbors, last Sunday morning after which they attended church together and then drove to Lapeer and had dinner in the evening. The R. S. Wendells and J. P. Madlock were the guests. Mrs. Schnable expects her cousin from Nashville, Tenn., in early January.

Guest Last Week
Mrs. Guy S. Peppatt had as a guest last week her aunt, Mrs. Harry Vial, of Ypsilanti, who came to do her Christmas shopping in Detroit.

The U. and I. Bowling team of Detroit will hold their surprise dance at the Leland Hotel on Monday, from 4 p. m. until midnight. This event is for members and their families. The club now numbers 70 members. P. A. Madlock, of San Diego boulevard, was recently elected secretary, and will take office Jan. 1.

Six couples met at the Edward C. Tieman residence on Lathrup boulevard, to celebrate the opening of the games room last Saturday night. (No, it is not un-)

Center of State In Lake Michigan

Geographic center of Michigan is a point in Lake Michigan between 28 and 29 miles west of the southernmost point of South Manitou island, lying west of Leelanau County. Geographic center of the northern peninsula is a point in Lake Superior approximately 18 miles north of Laughing Fish Point, a few miles east of Marquette; and of the southern peninsula, a point in Isabella county about eight miles north and east of Mt. Pleasant. Port Huron is the farthest east city, Ironwood the farthest west, and South Camden the farthest south among Michigan cities. Copper Harbor on the Keweenaw peninsula is farthest north on the Michigan mainland and Tobin's Harbor on Isle Royale is the northernmost settlement in Michigan.

Veal Birds With Mushroom Sauce

Veal birds are steaks, spread with dressing and rolled and into shape and braised. Here is a particularly tasty recipe that combines the delicate flavor of veal with a savory bread stuffing and a mushroom sauce.

Veal Birds with Mushroom Sauce
2 pounds veal round
Bread stuffing
3 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons lard
Salt and pepper

1 small can mushroom soup
Have veal round cut into one-half inch slices. Cut into pieces for individual servings as nearly two by four inches in size as possible. Place a spoonful of stuffing on each piece, roll and fasten edge with toothpicks. Dredge with flour and brown on all sides in hot lard. Season. Pour mushroom soup over veal birds, cover and cook very slowly, until done, about forty-five minutes.

For variety, instead of using a bread stuffing, spread finely chopped onion over the meat, place a partially cooked carrot in the center, roll and fasten.

Institute Purchases Dinosaur Footprints

Recently in a quarry near South Hadley, Massachusetts, has come to light a quantity of dinosaur footprints, ranging in size from a few inches to more than a foot in length. Apparently, hundreds of millions of years ago the mud flats in this vicinity were favorite striding grounds for these prehistoric reptiles, since over twelve superimposed layers of tracks have been unearthed. It is said that no other discovery has produced such a number of excellent specimens.

The Cranbrook Institute of Science has purchased a slab of the sedimentary rock on which several distinct trails of dinosaur footprints are preserved, one set with single tracks 12 inches wide, much larger than the others. They are now on exhibition in the Institute Museum where they may be seen each afternoon.

Bits of Birmingham

There is a pleasant bubble about Christmas. The little of the season Army kettle, people standing around in Christmas tree lots looking for that symmetrical, bushy tree that never is found for the price you want to pay.

Fred Wilsons were there, as were the Beans, the Robert Bonhages, the M. L. Kuykendalls, Earl Loomies and the McMcandalls.

Mrs. William Orth and son, Bill, of San Jose boulevard, will spend Christmas day in Grossete Point with Mr. and Mrs. George Yokler.

much of it suffers from one great fault: Its rhythm is faulty. A poem may be uninspired and really not worth much, but if its rhyme and rhythm are correct, the thing will sound all right anyway. Good verse, except for this modest trash, must follow a pattern of stressed and unstressed syllables, yet the mechanics of it are unknown to most novices. A little study would improve their stuff, no doubt. Our local poetry club could do well to look up some instructional material on this problem.

Early Friday morning, police found a girl's bicycle on Chester street near the Hill School. It was blue and white and bore the license 595.

Boys from the county juvenile home enjoyed their annual theatre party Saturday afternoon at the Birmingham Theatre.
