Glaciers Determined Location of Forests

In general, the large pine stands of Michigan's primeval forests developed on the lighter soils, the sands and gravels, while the hardwoods grew on heavier lands like loams and clays, and "swamp" conifers flourished on peat soils. Thus the pattern of the original forest was determined by soil patterns left by glaciation.

Bits of Birmingham

Is local politics going to be absolutely dead this spring?

—o—

Art Kane and Lawrence Hulbert haven't said so, but they probably will be candidates for the Commission again. There have been rumors that Ralph Coryell might run.

—o—

What amazes this observer is that the boss, G.R.A., can find time to write his usual column, "This and That," while on a vacation. As most of our readers have probably observed, he is currently writing his impressions of a trip to Mexico. When this scrivener is away from his desk, a typewriter is a thing to be regarded with great disfavor. George's last letter was postmarked Saturday in Mexico City, and was on our desk Monday morning, so apparently Mexican airmail is just as fast as Joe Byrne's and Jim Farley's.

—o—

Detroit Institute of Musical Art is holding a faculty dinner Saturday evening at the Women's City Club, and we note among the list of those to be honored, Dr. William Howland, of this City; and Miss Jessica Rose. Can that be the same Miss Ross who gave piano lessons to the neighborhood kids 15 or 20 years ago?

—o—

Bob Halsted, 14, and Bill Krieder, 14, both of Dorchester, road had a lot of fun last Saturday morning rolling big snow balls on to the street. But the police did not think so much of the idea.

—o—

C. W. Rados, 815 Madison, complained to police last Friday that boys were creating a disturbance in the tunnel under Hunter boulevard. He suggested that an officer be stationed there after school.

—o—

We noticed an ad in the Detroit Sunday papers, placed there by our City treasurer, telling people that certain bonds had been called, and that if they wanted their money, they can get it. A new bond issue at a lower rate of interest has been substituted for the old one.

—o—

Passing a barber shop on Woodward we noticed a rare sight nowadays: a man getting a shave. Yes, the shave business is in the doldrums just like the buggy whip trade.

—o—

John Shaffner, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Shaffner, 824 Wimbleton, has been pledged to Pi Kappa Alpha at Syracuse University, we are informed in a note from the publicity bureau. Shaffner is a junior in the college of business administration and is majoring in marketing.

—o—

As a service to the public, the Police Department has had auto license blanks available during the past several weeks.

—o—

Patrolmen Ralph Bell and Robert Emmett certainly earned their salaries the past week when twice they were called upon to chase an automobile thief. At terrific speed, over icy roads, they risked life and limb in an attempt to halt the lawbreaker. It is a wonder that no one has been hurt. A couple of weeks ago, Birmingham police participated in another such chase.

Madison-Rivenoak Project Postponed

A proposed Madison-Rivenoak avenue sewerage project, proposed last fall and resulting in a crowd at the City Commission session to protest, was indefinitely postponed by the City Commission, Monday night. City Manager Egbert reported that many still opposed it. "Wait until the spring rains; perhaps by then some will change their mind," one Commissioner declared.

Obituary

Mrs. Anna Teahan

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Teahan, who died suddenly Saturday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Grist, on Trobridge avenue, Detroit, were held Tuesday at 2 p. m., at the Manley Bailey Funeral home. A reader from the Fourth Church of Christ Scientist, Detroit, officiated. Burial was in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Teahan, who lived for many years in Pontiac, was the daughter of the late John and Mary Lawrence, who settled at the corner of Lone Pine road and Woodward avenue in 1858. She was born there 75 years ago and attended school in Birmingham.

Surviving, besides Mrs. Grist, are a granddaughter, Mrs. Ernest Hagen of Flint; a great granddaughter, Gayle Hagen, and two sisters, Mrs. Alice White of Pontiac, and Mrs. William Dowling, of Akron, O.

Alvah F. Moore

Funeral services for Alvah F. Moore, former Birmingham resident who died Sunday at his home at 2552 North LaSalle Gardens, Detroit, were held at the Bell Funeral Home Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock with the Rev. Hillis Duggans, of the Grosse Pointe Christ Church, officiating. Cremation was in White Chapel.

Mr. Moore, born June 10, 1859 in Ohio, formerly lived on Vinewood avenue and on the Thirteen Mile road before finally moving to Detroit. He was affiliated with the Michigan Life Insurance company for a number of years.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Jean Marshall Moore, a son, Donald D. and a sister, Mrs. Ethel Kinsell of Denver, Col.
