Suggest Crow Hunt Using Finnish Garb For This Off-Season

LANSING.—Crow hunting in mid winter, borrowing an idea developed successfully by Finnish troops, can allay the itch of inactivity of Michigan hunters.

"White overalls worn over hunting clothes—that's the ticket," says H. D. Ruhl, chief of the conservation department's game division.

"There is real sport in crow shooting," he adds. "Crows are smart. Hunters can sharpen their wits and their shooting in going after them. Locate their flyways, patrol country roads from about 4 p. m. until dark and spot their roosting places.

"Owls make good decoys—a stuffed owl on a pole, a live owl held by leash. Crow calls rattle help, if the hunter is proficient.

"And hunters who hanker for the taste of game will find crows are good eating, if properly prepared, Ruhl suggests.

Those who hunt crows in off seasons need gun permits.

Young Singer Hits High Notes

Lura will make her debut singing the diva's role in "Lucia di Lammermoor," presented by junior group of San Gabriel Opera company in Los Angeles.
