

Gardeners' Corner

This column is conducted for the Eccentric readers by Mrs. Marc T. Patton, Box 146, Bloomfield Hills. Questions on gardening matters may be addressed to Mrs. Patton and they will be answered in the Gardeners' Corner or directly by mail.

ANNUALS
The Perennial Border has an alluring sound, but we are not always in a position to create so permanent and alas so expensive features. Fortunately we can use annuals. The real color in the garden from June to September, riding the gap from the turgor of Delphiniums until the fall colors and chrysanthemums, is in the annuals as well. Whether we have a large or a tiny bed to fill, the thought we give to the colors and heights of our material will repay us many times. To thoughtlessly combine many colors or many kinds of flowers in a small space does not usually lead to success. Some of the annuals should be started in April at the latest: snandragons, stock and carnations come in this class. If you can't conveniently raise your own it pays to buy a flat of the desired color at setting out time. There are other annuals, however, that will grow if sown directly where they are to bloom and are almost "sure fire." Try combinations of two or three at most, varying the colors if a larger space is to be planted. Use one color in a block instead of "mixed" colors. Collecting of different colors can be brought with a real saving. (The mixed colors are better saved to use in the cutting garden, where you want variety for indoor use.) Starting with the lowest plants and working toward the back we suggest the following by colors:

Blue—White: Sweet Alyssum, Candytuft, Blue Ageratum, Blue Pimpernel (Anagallis), Rose and Lavenders: Candytuft, Sweet William, Potunias, Orange and Yellows: Dwarf Marigolds, Zinnias, Separate color Portulaca.
Medium height—Each variety can be had in various separate shades: Annuals, Phlox, Zinnias, Marigolds.
Tall—Lavatera, Giant Zinnias.
Note: All these annuals are sown out of doors after danger of frost is past in a prepared bed in full sun.

VIOLAS
A flower that is used all too rarely is the perennial "many-violet," the viola. It is one of the first blooms in the spring and is not unusual to find a Misson well into December. It can be used as an edging plant, by itself in a bed, in a rock garden, tucked in at the side of a step or as a ground cover planted with bulbs. Violas come in many shades and the flowers vary from the tiny violet sized pansy face of the much loved Johnny-Jump-Up or viola tricolor to the extra size blossoms of the Latest Jersey Gem.
Sutton's Apricot viola is a plant that is always admired. Black Imp is the darkest purple imaginable.

Contest for Emblem For Citizenship Day Will Close March 30

The competition for an Oakland County emblem sponsored by the Citizenship Day Committee, closes Saturday, March 30. All designs must be received at the Court House in Pontiac or be post-marked not later than that date. It will also be impressed on the certificates these new voters will receive.
