

Public Invited To Organ Recital

As part of the Ladies' Program for the 60th Annual Convention of the Michigan Engineering Society being held Tuesday, Friday and Saturday at Grandview School, an organ recital will be given at 2:30 p. m. Friday at Christ Church Cathedral.

At the console will be August Macekclerger, composer and organist at Stratford, W. J.

His program: Toccata and Fugue in D Minor — Bach; Concerto in G — Vivaldi; Bach Intermzzo and Minuet; Vesper Meditation — Macekclerger; Gavotte from Classic — Macekclerger; Symphony — Prokofiev; Piece Heroique — Franck.

Visitors are cordially invited to attend this recital, according to Mrs. Ralph A. Macekclerger, chairman of the Ladies' committee.

About Your Public Schools

QUESTION: What is being done in the High School to help students in their choice of careers and colleges?

ANSWER: A procedure unique has been carried forward this winter in the secondary schools of the city. The greatest interest in the matter has, of course, been manifested by upper classmen. A period of time known as "College Month" was designated. It was during this month, which began on Monday, Feb. 9, and extended through Friday, March 15, that such information was shown, in planning for college.

Each year many institutions of higher learning, both in Michigan and elsewhere, send representatives to confer with interested students in the high school. Institutions were notified of the plans and were asked to so arrange in the fields of business, finance, engineering and many more will meet for dinner at the cafeteria of the Baldwin School. Following the dinner the leaders will be available for conferences and discussions with interested groups of students or parents. The public schools, Birmingham Branch of the American Association of University Women and the Y. M. C. A. are co-operating in this event. Miss Robinson, Lloyd Chapman, Mrs. Corine Keller and Robert Lynd have planned together for an evening that they are hopeful will assist some of our pupils to think through the problems of taking their place in the life of a community and the greatest of challenges to work happily and productively with their fellowmen.

The local school administration over the past few years has been increasingly concerned with the future of the pupil of today. Each pupil is entitled to have and to examine all evidence possible before attempting a choice of vocation or profession. This is the object of "College Month" and "Careers Night" in our schools.

Another interesting feature is the students for Careers Night. This has been set for Tuesday, April 16. On this occasion speakers in the fields of business, finance, engineering and many more will meet for dinner at the cafeteria of the Baldwin School. ## Six Photographs Are on Display

Six photographs taken by members of the Adams Junior High School science class are on display in the front window of the Executive. They are enlarged and mounted in salon style.

The exhibits include a shot of the Lincoln Memorial by Constance Coulter; "Aisle of Pains," by Marilyn Gould; a fine snap of a hunting dog on point by Karen Olsen; a cat sunning itself by Barbara Scott; an excellent night shot of Baldwin Library by Charles Coe; and a child walking on the beach by Jack Billingsley. In a poll of students, the library picture was voted the best.

Because of lack of space, four others could not be shown. They were made by Nannette Jensen, Marilyn Adams, Lynn Lytle and Phyllis Chapel.

The students have their own darkroom, and learn to take, develop, print, enlarge, spot and mount their pictures as part of the science course.

Wanted A Retake
A film director who had recently returned from China was telling an interviewer of his experiences there. "As for the attack," he remarked, "it wasn't at all exciting. It was so tame I went out of my hotel and told 'em to shoot the scene all over again."

'Evil Old Man' Takes a Drink

With the Collegians

Norman Is Busy
Oberlin, O.—Norman Lytle, sophomore at Oberlin College, from Birmingham, has one of the lead roles in the fourth annual Oberlin College Mummer's Club all-male musical comedy "Starting from Scratch" to be given here Thursday and Friday, March 28 and 29.

The musical comedy is student-written and directed. This year the cast and choruses number some 60 men. The plot is laid in a mythical kingdom in Europe where the King is beset with financial trouble and the problem of marrying off his ugly daughter. Lytle plays the part of the American efficiency expert who falls in love with the "ugly daughter."

Named to Committee
W. O. S. T. E. C.—Sue Burkhardt, a sophomore here at the College of Wooster, has been named on the costume committee for the Color Day pageant which will be given here May 18. Nancy Day is home during the week recess from her studies at Bradford Junior College, Bradford, Mass. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vance H. Day of Salford, Ohio.
