Bloomfield Hills to Be Setting for Two-Day Vassar Alumnae Meeting

Foreign Policy To Be Discussed By Mrs. Shain

A discussion on "What Would You Have the Foreign Policy of the United States Be?" is to be conducted by Mrs. Charles J. Shain at the meeting of the League of Women Voters to be held Monday afternoon at 1:30 at the Community House.

Mrs. John K. Ormond was re-elected as president of this group at a recent meeting. Others elected at the same time, and all serving in their particular office for the first time, are: Vice president, Mrs. Stanley Spiegel; recording secretary, Mrs. Paul L. Penfield; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. C. Goli; treasurer, Mrs. E. S. Johnson. New directors are Mrs. Russell Barnes and Mrs. William E. Essary.

Dinner on Friday Evening to Open Gala Festivities

Bloomfield Hills will buzz with the activities of the Detroit Vassar Alumnae group this week end when the bi-annual meeting of that organization is held here on Friday and Saturday.

Birmingham and the Hills has a large and particularly active representation in the Detroit club and to the local women has fallen most of the detailing for this convention.

As plans now stand dinner, to be served at Devon Gables Friday evening, will open this two-day meet and from the dinner members and their guests will wind their way to the Pavilion at Cranbrook to view the Cranbrook-Life exhibition of contemporary American painting. This exposition which opens Friday evening is in ventional and members of the Vassar group consider themselves fortunate to be included in the select group invited to attend this formal opening.

The business of the two-day meeting will be conducted Saturday morning when alumnae meet at Bloomfield Hills Country Club at 10 o'clock and during the course of this session reports will be made on the two million dollar scholarship drive which has been underway since the first of the year. According to late figures $1,500,000 has been raised nationally towards this fund leaving only $400,000 to be collected by the many Vassar alumnae groups throughout the United States.

Mrs. Abraham J. Levin, of Franklin, one of the most active members out here is scheduled to make a report on the April council meeting held at the college in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

Luncheon at 12:30 and a tour of Cranbrook beginning at 2:30 is to be followed by a 4:30 tea at the home of Mrs. Leonard T. Lewis on Pilgrim avenue. Assisting Mrs. Lewis will be Mrs. Martin L. Butzel and presiding at the tea table will be Mrs. Thomas Mann, who is president of the Detroit Vassar club.

Mrs. Leigh Lunch is in charge of transportation for this event. Mrs. Levin is arranging for housing and Mrs. Stewart W. Kehler is busy with plans for the dinner.

Birmingham will be well represented at the dinner which opens festivities and among those who have already made plans to attend are Mr. and Mrs. Buswell, and Mrs. Kehler, the Sidney Oviatts, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, the Lewins, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Brewster, Mr. and Mrs. Berrien C. Ketchum and the Marcus E. Cummings.

Only guests at the ceremony were Ewell Rouse, the bridegroom's attendant, Mr. and Mrs. George Gilbert and Mr. and Mrs. Cummings.

Detroit Girl Weds Clifford M. Streb In Paducah Friday

A wedding of interest to Birmingham was quietly solemnized Friday evening in Paducah, Ky., when Anne Shirley Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Streb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Streb, of Pierce street, were united at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Cummings, relatives of the bride.

The ceremony was read by the Rev. Curtis Fletcher before an improvised altar decked with mock orange and white irises. Standing candelabra had been placed on either side of the fireplace and the mantel which had as a centerpiece a crystal bowl of lilies of the valley.

For her wedding Mrs. Streb wore a light brown dress with white collars and cuffs. Her picture hat had a brown trim and she wore a shoulder corsage of Talismian roses.

Her only attendant, Mrs. Ewell Rouse, was gowned in navy blue with white embroidered trim with which she wore a white Bakso straw sailor. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Other guests at the ceremony were Ewell Rouse, the bridegroom's attendant, Mr. and Mrs. George Gilbert and Mr. and Mrs. Cummings.

Mrs. Frank M. Smith is Lovely Bride at Ceremony on Saturday Afternoon

In the midst of numerous white lighted tapers and before an altar banked with white irises and calla lilies, Algie Henderson Osterman, daughter of the A. Gustave Ostermans of "Oak Knob" in Bloomfield Hills and Frank Melville Smith, of Detroit, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank P. Smith, of Fort Worth, Tex., in one of the most impressive weddings yet seen this bridegroom at Christ Church Cranbrook.

The Rev. Charles H. Cadigan, rector of the church, performed the ceremony at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Setting off the dark beauty of the bride was the eggshell satin gown she chose which was embellished with the new wasp waistline, which swung into a full skirt and ended in a circular train. The dress was accentuated by a sweetheart neckline and full length tight fitting sleeves that ended in points at the wrist. Her short veil of princess lace was attached to the bonnet-like headgear and ended at the waist. Tulle was used over the veil and ended at the train. Her bouquet of calla lilies was wrapped in satin.

Virginia Osterman, who was Mr. Smith's maid of honor, wore a gown of silk net in the hyacinth blue shade. Her frock, also with a neckline and extremely full skirt, had short puffed sleeves. Her small hat, that dipped low over her eye, was covered by a veil of hyacinth blue matching the gown that fell almost to her shoulders. Her bouquet was a Colonial one of violets with streamers, also in the violet shade.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. John L. Shepherd and Helen Smith, of Birmingham, Mrs. Winston Ely and Adelaide Ely, of Toronto, and Jeanne Macdonald, of Bloomfield Hills, wore gowns like the maid of honor's but in pale French blue. Their hats, also fashioned like the maid of honor's, matched their bridesmaid gowns.

Jack Macken, of Detroit, was Mr. Smith's best man and ushers. His sister's maid of honor, who wore a gown of silk net in the hyacinth blue shade, was Miss Macken.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Smith expect to live here.

Murphy and Bill Tracy, all of Birmingham.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Osterman chose a simple gown of dusty pink with which she wore a corsage of orchids.

Vari-colored spring flowers were used in profusion about the rooms of the Osterman home on Robinson road for the reception which immediately followed the ceremony at the church. A large cloth covered the bridal table and the wedding cake with lilies of the valley about its base was used as a centerpiece.

An route to Mexico for a six weeks' trip the couple will stop at Fort Worth where a large reception is being arranged by the bridegroom's parents who were unable to attend the wedding in the city.

Wedding Gifts

WHEN the Spring bride steps across the threshold of her very own home, it is the happiest moment of her life. And lending it the grace and individuality that makes it so very interesting are the numerous gifts from her dear ones. Gifts of silver, crystal and hand wrought metals in many beautiful designs, speak eloquently for many years of your thoughtfulness and good taste. Choose from scores of lovely, unusual things at—
