Telephone Bridge On Tuesday, Dec. 3 Given by Society

Several members of Holy Name Altar society are opening their homes Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 3 for a telephone dessert bridge to benefit the society.

Not Just Another Tea Party—Affair Tells of Engagement

What began inauspiciously enough as just another tea turned out to be one of those awfully important things that happen but once in a lifetime.

For the tea which Mrs. Walter J. Fry gave at her home on Vaughan road for her daughter, Peggy, was more than a mere tea—it was the announcement of Peggy's approaching marriage to Prof. J. Letchworth, Jr., son of the George J. Letchworths of Buffalo.

Centering the tea table was a fluffy little bride and groom, demurely placed upon a shiny silver platter. The whole color scheme was carried out in blue and white with two large hearts on either side of the center piece inscribed with the names "Jeff and Peg."

Others who will be there will be Mrs. E. N. Rousseau, Mrs. John P. Wood, Mrs. Otto Hans, of Detroit, Mrs. E. R. Rogers, of Pontiac, Mrs. H. A. Hoerns, of Detroit, Mrs. Clarence V. Gardner, Mrs. Edmond Mansfield, Miss Edna Connelly, Mrs. John Savage, Mrs. Arthur V. LaFave and Mrs. Jack Howling.

Mrs. O'Toole will have as her guest Mrs. A. J. Mamock, of Detroit, who is bringing with her 20 guests, all of Detroit. Mrs. Nicholas Dreystadt, of Pontiac, expects to attend the tea, too. Mrs. Dreystadt will move to Birmingham shortly.

Mrs. Hindley and Mrs. Hayes are co-chairmen of this event. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gotley will entertain at 10 tables of mixed bridge Tuesday evening for the same charity.
