

Gardeners' Corner

(This column is conducted for The Eccentric's readers by Mrs. Mable T. Patton, manager of field hills. Questions on gardening matters may be addressed to Mrs. Patton and they will be answered in the Gardeners' Corner or directly by mail.)

FALL COLORS
Fall rather than Spring inspires one to plant trees. It is their season. What more thrilling sight than a sugar maple—golden yellow with black sharply outlined trunk. Red or swamp maples are flaming red, oak deep red, liquid ambers, red and yellow.

What better basis of choice in picking out trees than the blends of their fall colors? Nature seems to do better than most man-made gardens ever achieve. We can train our eyes and learn many tricks in color combinations from the observation of fields and woods at this time of year. Native material is also successful as it is suited to soil and climate. Try the maples and oaks, the sassafras for yellows, the dogwoods for the purples and the sumacs for brightest reds. Plant smaller trees and shrubs now.

ROSES
Fall rose-planting time is here. Let us hope you have prepared the beds some time in advance. These beds must be dug as deep as you can manage. The soil must contain either peat or rotted leaves or compost, and if old leaves are dug in to cover the entire area under the roots, the moisture will be held there during the hot, dry seasons. Plan the bed so that the drainage is adequate and that the surface of the bed is at least a couple of inches above the surrounding territory. Plant roses with crown just under the surface. Prune the roots when planting but be sure that the roots are amply spread out in the hole. Never let the roots dry in sun or wind.

BIRMINGHAM GARDEN CENTER
The Birmingham Branch of the Detroit Garden Center will again give lectures and round-table discussions in Baldwin library. The purpose of the gatherings is to help the local gardeners helpful and stimulating gardening material. These meetings are open to anyone interested, without charge. The first talk is to be a discussion of Berried Shrubs led by Mrs. George Bouton of the Detroit Garden Center and is to be in the nature of round-table, illustrated with actual shrubs. Come, bring specimens if you

Rotarians Hear Institute President

Dr. Paul Hickey, president of the Detroit Institute of Technology, addressed the Rotary Club, Monday.

He emphasized the need of training young people in learning how to live rather than merely how to make a living. It was a foreful talk, illustrated with example and humor.

The Detroit Institute has 2,500 students. This was a youth service program.

Ray Cook gave a report of the Boy Scout troop; Rotary Service information was given by Mark Hardin.

Next week, Sheriff Spencer Howarth will give an illustrated talk on the work of his office.

Reilly Gives Report To Exchange Club

A long-awaited report of the State Exchange Club convention held last summer aboard the S. S. South American was made Tuesday by Dr. James J. Reilly, Jr., past president.

Ed Kichin, member of the Royal Oak Exchange Club, was present and showed movies proving in that Reilly actually attended various business meetings, confounding his friendly critics in the club.

Next week, the Rev. Fr. David J. Duncan, pastor of Holy Name Catholic Church, will speak.

Interest Shown In Home Classes

Much interest is reported shown in the cooking and food classes sponsored by the adult education division of the WPA now being held at the Barnum and Adams Schools.

These classes meet at the Barnum School each Wednesday morning from 9 to 12 and at the Adams School each Thursday afternoon from 2 to 5.

Help is given on any sewing or needlework problem by Mrs. Lauretta G. Formax, sewing instructor. Mrs. Edith Doernch, cooking teacher will give help in menus, meal planning, balanced meals, etc.

These classes are free and everyone is welcome and invited to come and enroll.

If a sufficient demand is shown for any of these homemaking classes, they will be offered in the evening as announced.

Too Perfect
Our idea of the perfect gentleman is one who, called out of bed at 2 o'clock in the morning by a wrong number call, accepts the apology and says, "Don't mention it."—The Albany Evening News.

NOW'S THE TIME
Cultivate a last time before the frost. This destroys the weeds and leaves the ground clean for winter.

Reset Lily-of-the-Valley or plant new plants. Set two inches deep, planting in clumps.

The garden club meets Monday afternoon at the Community House.

Shubert-Wilson Series Will Open Saturday

The musical comedy season of 1940-41 at the Wilson Theatre will get under way Saturday night, Oct. 12, when the Messrs. Shubert will present the new musical play "Unfaithfully Yours" with music by Carl Millöcker and book by Rowland Leigh. Michael Bartlett will sing the principal roles. There will also be a colorful ballet which has been directed by Carl Randall, as well as a vocal ensemble, and a chorus of the most beautiful girls in America. Watson Barratt, internationally famous scenic designer, has provided particularly elaborate settings for the production which will inaugurate the Wilson Theatre.

J. J. Shubert, who will personally supervise all of the productions which are to be presented at the Wilson during the season, is making Detroit an important theatrical producing center with his new venture. During the fall and winter he plans to produce at least 15 musical shows at the Wilson Theatre. Each will have a limited engagement of two weeks at that house before being taken to Chicago for presentation there.

FILES DAMAGE SUIT
Paul C. Haviland, of 620 Bloomfield Court, and the Astra Insurance Company have filed suit in Circuit Court against C. L. Anderson and James H. Sillett of Pontiac. The suit, for $1,000, is for damages to Haviland's car. Another suit, filed by Sillett, is for $5,000 against the same defendants, asks $10,000 for personal injuries.

Don't be a "fall" guy. Watch where you're going.
