

Village Players Plan First Play for Oct. 25 and 26

Rachael Crothers Play Scheduled For 2 Day Run

Birmingham, it would seem, is never idle. Its residents are no sooner finished with one party before they are up to their ears in plans for something else.

Take the Village Players, for instance. They are only just recovering from all the work that went into their opening tea a few Sundays ago and now they come forward with plans for their first full production.

Rachael Crothers' "When Ladies Meet" has been chosen for a two-day run at the Playhouse Friday and Saturday evenings, Oct. 25 and 26.

Helping George M. Dwoley with the director's duties will be Mrs. Edward S. Reid, Jr., while Mrs. Rolfe C. Clark is in charge of the lines. Mrs. Clyde L. Hagerman, Mrs. George D. Spink, Mrs. Clement A. Penrose, Jr. are in charge of property.

In the cast are Mrs. W. C. Scott, George Howard Fox, Mrs. Arthur J. Genting, John L. Lander, F. Farrington Holt, Dr. J. B. Hassberger and Mrs. Donald S. Bell.

Mrs. Fox is chairman of the ticket committee and helping her will be Mrs. Warren Pease, Jr., Mrs. William M. Merrill and Mrs. W. H. Knowles.

The ideal wife is one who grows dearer all the time instead of merely more expensive.—Los Angeles Times.

Frances Morley Is Bride

Speaks Vows at Ceremony at Lone Pine Road Home

The lovely bay of windows of the Bert Morley home on Lone Pine road in Bloomfield Hills was the setting Saturday evening for the 8 o'clock wedding of Frances Ann Morley and Mark Anthony Beltaire, III.

Mr. Beltaire is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark A. Beltaire, Jr., of Strathcona drive in Detroit.

The Rev. Charles H. Cadigan performed the ceremony before a large arrangement of clobotium ferns and palms and great displays of shaggy white chrysanthemums interspersed with tall glowing tapers.

For her wedding the bride wore a gown of ivory faille fashioned along Mary Tubor designs. The frock was distinguished by a deep, heart-shaped neckline, set in a yoke of heavily embroidered faille. The bodice fitted closely and formed a deep V at the back from which point began the full skirt and circular train.

She wore a heart-shaped cap of tulle and from it fell the folds of her veil. Her loose, shower bouquet was of white carnations and stephanotis, filled in with bows of ribbon.

Catherine TenEyck Wilson was the bride's only attendant and she wore a replica of the bridal gown in soft blue alpaca. She carried pink carnations with velvet ribbon bows and on her head was a tiny cap of blue tulle bound in a dark shade of blue.

Robert H. Owen was Mr. Beltaire's best man.

The couple left by motor to spend a month in Mexico and for traveling Mrs. Beltaire wore a black wool ensemble with a long coat trimmed with beaver. Beaver also trimmed her small black hat and her accessories were black.

Mrs. Beltaire

Kingswood Carnival Date Set for Nov. 2

All activities at Kingswood School are pointing toward the carnival which is to be held Saturday, Nov. 2. An all-school project, the girls of the school are busy themselves with making plans and arranging decorations for the affair.

Invitations were sent out this week by the following girls who are in charge: Mary Ellen Downey, Carol Crane, Gail Isbey, Mary Lou Chapman, Mary Addie and Gloria Raquet.

The theme of the carnival this year will be the comic strips and it is planned to have booths and a program that will consist of dancing and skits.

Day Camp to Open At Fort Lauderdale

A new day camp at Fort Lauderdale is to go into operation Dec. 1 with May 15 as the closing date. Mrs. Gwen Bradshaw announced this week.

Mrs. Bradshaw, who conducts the Hills-and-Dale camp near Holly during the summer months, will have her headquarters at 1009 S. W. Seventh Street in Fort Lauderdale. A private school is to be run in connection with this camp. Mrs. Bradshaw announced.

Lena E. Eggert To Wed Nov. 9

Although wedding plans are still pending, definite arrangements, Nov. 9 has been set, as the date that Lena E. Eggert and Blake V. Miller will exchange their vows.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Henry Eggert of South Adams road, and the late Mrs. Eggert, while Mr. Miller's parents are the William E. Millers, of West Lincoln, avenue in Royal Oak.

Martha Eggert will entertain at her home this evening at a miscellaneous shower for her sister and the following Thursday June DeVaney and Margaret Canning will be co-hostesses at an evening party at the DeVaney home.

Franklin Village

THE TOWN THAT TIME FORGOT

The Hills Are Aflame

Imagine your home as you would like it to be—complete to the last luxury—against a setting of browns, reds, yellows and greens. Then come to Franklin Village—and you'll find that you haven't imagined half enough.

You'll find a home—if you come soon enough—like the rambling like the one you see in the picture. 4 bedrooms, 2 baths, screened porch, and breezeway connecting a 2-car garage. The exterior is stone and white siding. Price, including 1/2 acre, $13,150.

COUNTRY PLACES—
That's the imagination of Architect and Builder

A HILL-A VIEW-A STREAM—
1/2 acre overlooking down the hill across the meadow to an old brook, $14,500.

HIGH ON A RIDGE—
2 acre—a refreshing panorama of hills and valleys—dotted with well-known established homes, $12,000.

5 ACRES AND SECLUSION—
Riding meadow—emerging into acres of flowering trees—a natural setting for a spring-fed pool, $23,250.

For the family desiring a certain seclusion and restful recreation, we suggest Wing Lake Shore where private fishing, bathing and boat mooring is available. Prices to suit your fancy.
