Dearborn, Toughest Opponent Yet, Faced by Maples Friday

Game to Be Played On Enemy Ground, A League Contest

By ALLEN JONES

Two closely-matched teams will go to the kickoff this Friday when Dearborn meets the Birmingham beef trust on the Dearborn grounds. It will be the toughest opponent the Maples have faced thus far in their drive for another Twin Valley championship.

With every man looking forward to the game and thoroughly prepared to fight tooth and nail, the contest starting at 3:30 should be a red hot one.

Dearborn matches Birmingham's 166-pound average with a similar weight of 163 pounds.

Coach Rabe, of Dearborn, expressed the belief that there were two exceptional squads in the league this year, one being Birmingham, the other the battling Ecorse gridders whom Dearborn fought to 6-6 standstill last Friday, Oct. 1.

Sheldon Olson, once again in the line-up, will replace Baldwin's speed merchant, Frank Armstrong, at end, instead of playing fullback. Frank was injured at the end of a beautiful run in the Ypsilanti game, Oct. 11, but will soon be back in shape.

In view of the fact that Frank Armstrong is temporarily out, Coach George Wurster will undoubtedly have the punts handled by Kelly and Hopkins, or perhaps Breitmeyer.

Expressing his view upon the coming game, Coach Wurster declared, "If Dearborn wins, it won't be by much, and the players will certainly know they have been in a ball game."

Hills School Paper Begins Seventh Year

"Blue and White," the official student publication of the Bloomfield Hills School is now engaged in its seventh continuous year of service to the pupils at the school on Vaughan road.

The staff this year is headed by Editor Jerry Palms. Other staff members are production, Bob Hartman and Ronnie Hall; business manager, Marion Clarke; cartoonist, Fred Czufin; athletics, Jack Lauyer and Marion Clarke, columnists, Bob Noyes, Pete Jenks, Bobbie White and Russell Dostal. Mr. Tilden, faculty advisor has been given the official title of technical consultant.

Baldwin Conquers Ypsilanti 34 to 0 In Game Friday

By DICK GILBERT

Marching to its third victory of the season, the Birmingham High School football team remained undefeated by conquering Ypsilanti High School 34-0 last Friday at Ypsilanti.

Again the Maple Leafs outplayed their foes in every department, scoring in every quarter except the first.

Frank Armstrong, star Maroon end, was injured in the second quarter, but he is expected back in the lineup within a week or two.

Dick Neely, Jim Garfield, and Dave Kennedy sparkled in line play. In the backfield, Hugh Mack and Joe Armstrong packed the power and speed needed to win.

Drop-kicks 4 of 5

Paul Kelly rated and received applause on his fine exhibition of drop-kicking when he booted four out of five extra points. He might have performed 100 per cent except for a bad pass from center on his second try.

For his fine work of last week, John Adams was made captain for the game.

Bill Rowe and Wilson, guards on Ypsilanti's eleven, were outstanding.

The game started slowly with both teams playing rather cautiously.

Baldwin began its first drive after eight minutes of play. Taking the ball on his own 33 yard line, Hugh Mack almost single handedly brought the ball on two plays to Ypsilanti's 38 yard line. Frank Armstrong picked up 12 as the first quarter ended.

End Run Scores

Bill Hopkins, Bill Merrill, and Hugh Mack combined to carry the ball to the three-yard line, whence Frank Armstrong, on an end-run, scored the initial touchdown.

The Leafs started their second touchdown march from their own 37-yard line. A 12-yard gallop by Mack and a nice pass from Mack to Jim Lee brought the ball to Ypsilanti's 36. A pass from Phil Breitmeyer to Joe Armstrong was good for another first down. Mack plowed through to the five yard line and Merrill carried the ball through the center of the line for the second touchdown.

Two plays later the half ended with the score 13-0 in favor of the local eleven.

Joe Armstrong provided the crowd with the biggest thrill of the day when he took the third quarter kickoff on his own 13-yard line, and, behind beautiful blocking, raced 87 yards for the score.

Aided by three completed passes to Joe Armstrong, the Maroons moved from their own 40 to their opponents' 20. Another pass and lateral from Mack to Lee to Joe Armstrong placed the ball on the three yard line. After Mack plunged for two, Joe Armstrong plowed over for his second touchdown.

27 at End of Third

The third quarter ended with the score at 27-0.

The final quarter found Coach Wurster substituting frequently.

Birmingham scored the final touchdown on a sustained drive from midfield by Hopkins, Kelly, and a sophomore, Bill Golling. The march terminated with Golling's three yard sprint over guard for the last touchdown.

Ten seconds later the game ended 34-0.

One of the pleasing sidelights of the game was the appearance of an all girl drum and bugle corps of the Ypsilanti High School. Dressed in red plaid skirts and white jackets, they performed expertly.

Tomorrow, Friday, Oct. 18, Birmingham will play at Dearborn in a tough Twin Valley League contest. Dearborn has won two League games to date—Wayne and Ypsilanti.

NAVAL R. O. T. C.

ANN ARBOR—Unexpected interest in naval science and tactics at the University of Michigan this fall has led University officials, with the cooperation of the U. S. Navy, to increase the enrollment of the newly established unit of the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps to 110 students, according to Captain Lyal A. Davidson, professor of naval science and tactics.

Radio Club Collects Sound Effect Objects

One of the interesting clubs conducted during activity period at Baldwin High School is the Radio Club. The group has collected sound effect materials, some of which are cellophane to imitate fire, a train whistle, and beach shells for horses hooves.

The club intends to buy a few sound records, one of which is a running automobile.

Officers are Nina Kalbfus, president; Ernest Chritten, vice president; Clayton Gordon, secretary-treasurer.

The club is of unusual size, having 56 members.

Sports Showup

By BOB CRAIG

Until the Ypsilanti game, the only accidents this year were two sprained ankles acquired by Dick Neely and Bill Hopkins, and a bad elbow by Dutch Olsen. The Ypsilanti game is the first in which Olsen has not played this year.

* * *

With Frank Armstrong out of the lineup for perhaps two weeks, the loss will certainly be felt as the tough part of the schedule comes up now. Frank's punting and running ability have helped keep the team on top so far this year.

* * *

The English bulldog mascot of the team exemplifies the spirit of all the boys. After three games Birmingham is undefeated, untied, and unscored on. It looks as though the bulldog is the lucky charm.

* * *

Last year, to open the football season, the Baldwin boys met Dearborn at Pierce Field and a 13-0 score resulted, with Birmingham on the long end. This year Dearborn entertains Birmingham on the former's home grounds. With these two strong teams facing each other, it should be a hard fought game.

* * *

The Birmingham eleven piled up 18 first downs to Ypsilanti's two last Friday. That is the most first downs in one game so far this season.

* * *

The Maples have lost 130 yards on penalties to their opponents' 35 in the first three games.

* * *

To date Birmingham has tried 21 passes and completed 10. This shows the Baldwin boys are not only gainers on the ground but that they do all right in the air, also.

* * *

Dick Neely played a fine game on the line for Birmingham in the Ypsilanti tussle last week. In fact, he consistently turns in a good performance.

* * *

Ken Kirby and Jack Roberts keep a keen eye on the team from along the sidelines.

* * *

Phil Breitmeyer and Bill Golling showed up well in the Ypsilanti game with Phil flinging some sweet passes and Bill Golling pushing over for the last touchdown.

* * *

Paul Kelley drop-kicked the points after touchdowns getting four out of five for .800. That's consistency of a high order.

BALDWIN HI-LIGHTS

By ANN NONIMOUS

We hear that last week Annie caused a serious hole in Ohe Olsen's plans, but from what we saw at the dance Saturday night, he's rapidly mending it. So watch out, Haefner!

That dance was stupendous! Colossal! And more fun! It seems every one was there, and with quite a few boys home from college. (That always brews things up!) Annie hasn't had such fruitful ground for snooping in years.

Did you notice Barb Eddy strolling in, with sophomore president Fred Jeffers on one arm, and his colleague, Bud James on the other?

Did you by any chance see Mary Gardner and Phil Breitmeyer cooing off in the court?

Annie was right there when Jack Roberts and Gina Hannes met! My! My!

The powder room chatter was good Saturday night, too. Annie thoroughly enjoyed hearing Jane Bronsing explode when her date decided to leave because too many of her Detroit friends dropped in! And Anne Halladay coming with a beaming smile—by the way, her escort was Bill Roberts. Let's watch this and see what happens!

Allen Jones was certainly taken up, or taken back at the dance; yes, it was hot in the ball room, in Allen!

Annie thinks it's just wonderful what a girl will do for one of her men—you're simply wonderful, Gloria!

Happy Birthday, Dick Gilbert! Oh, by the way, Dick, who does have the 20th? Mary, Maggie, or Carolyn?

Annie had quite a laugh later in the evening when some of the crowd retired to Hedge's. It seems "Howie" didn't like the interference, so(o—he up's and leaves it—the Gerning sitting there all alone with the big bad villain!

A wise old owl lived in an oak. The more he saw the less he spoke. The less he spoke, the more he heard. What if Annie were that old bird?

Adams School Plans Hallowe'en Dance

A Hallowe'en dance will be given Oct. 25 in the Adams gymnasium from 7:30 to 10:30, sponsored by the Student Council.

President of the student council is Don Fisher, with Nancy Neuman as vice president, Francis White, secretary, and Joe Hardey, treasurer. Their plans are well-organized and under way. Each homeroom has a part in planning the dance. The 7B's have charge of the SB's entertainment; 8A decorates 8 B's entertainment; 8A decorations.

Tickets will be handled by the 9B's and refreshments by the 7A home room.

There will be prizes awarded for the most original costume, the funniest, and the best character costume of both boys and girls.

Current Events Club Studies World Affairs

The Current Events Club meeting during activity period at Baldwin High School discussed last week the election and campaign of President Roosevelt and Wendell Willkie. This week the members discussed the strategy of Europe.

Officers of the club are Frank Wangberg, president; and Patricia Armiger, secretary.

INTEREST IN SPANISH

ANN ARBOR—Popular interest in the nation's good-neighbor policy toward Latin American republics is indicated in greatly increased enrollment in elementary Spanish courses at the University of Michigan, according to Professor Hayward Keniston, chairman of the University's romance languages department.

The Difference

The optimist says his glass is half full; the pessimist says his is half empty.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

"We should be careful what we say," said the careful friend.

"Of course," said Miss Cayenne, "although it isn't so much what you say that makes trouble, as what somebody else says you said."

Quiz Contest Held At Barnum

In a quiz contest held in Barnum's auditorium last Thursday, Louise Bolz and Bernard Levinson scored high for their home room. A prize was awarded to the Vikings home room for this honor by the Mohican's room, which sponsored the contest.

State Uses Plane To Check Fishermen

LANSING—Pontoon - equipped, a state-owned airplane is carrying enforcement officers of the conservation department on an inspection tour of commercial fishing operations along Michigan's more than 3,000 miles of shoreline on the Great Lakes.

Flying at a height of 2,000 feet, officers can check location, closeness to shore and depth of nets, and, at need, the plane is landed alongside commercial fishing boats when nets are being lifted. Its approach is so swift, fishermen have no opportunity to drop nets, once the lifting operation has begun.

Captain C. J. Allers, commanding the department's biggest patrol boat, is directing the airplane check-up. The plane covers distances in a few days that would require weeks of cruising with the patrol boat.
