

PART TWO
Christian Scientists
To Take Refugees

BOSTON—Christian Science child evacuees from Great Britain are being placed in American homes by the "Committee of Placement of European Children" and similar Committees in other large cities in the United States and Canada cooperating today by the announced Science Board of Directors.

Since July, the Committee has been able not only to bring evacuee children and American sponsors together, but also to assist Americans in bringing to this country the children of British relatives and friends.

All applications from England should be sent directly to the Committee in Boston.

The response from those wishing to care for children has been generous, according to a statement of the Committee.

Shortly after the Committee of Christian Scientists was established, it was learned that four or five children would land in a few days and would require Christian Science homes.

The United States Committee required a deposit of the sponsor of $50—to provide insurance to take care of the child should the sponsor fail, and the time of landing until the guarantee of expenses, not to exceed $75 additional, of the child from the time of landing until it reached its sponsored home.

To some sponsors these payments seemed rather large, but if the home was desirable this sum was furnished by other sources or from those who could bear the expense, although unable to furnish the home.

Child and Sponsor Meet
Under the procedure of the Boston representative of the United States Committee, the child and sponsor meet before placement and the child is shown its prospective home. After this meeting either the sponsor or the child, if it is of age to make a decision, is at liberty to decide whether or not the arrangements seem suitable.

The Committee of Christian Scientists has learned that it is not wise to place children, except under unusual circumstances, far from the port of landing, unless the demand for homes is greater than at present.

Water Meter Price Is Going Up

The City Commission, Monday night, accepted a bid of the Worthington-Gamon Meter Company for a year's supply of water meters, priced at $8.80 each. The order will probably amount to about 300 of buildings continues, City Manager Egbert declared.

At the end of last year's contract, the city elected to buy 100 meters at the old price of $7.50, and about 60 of these are now being installed, the city saving about $125 in this stroke, Egbert told the Commission.

Old Traffic Ticket Ignored; Arrest Man

For neglecting to pay an old traffic ticket issued May 28, Ambrose Walsh, of Detroit, formerly of Benniville avenue, was arrested and brought before Justice Forber S. Hascall this week. He pleaded guilty to charge of failure to stop for Woodward avenue when turning out from Benniville, and he paid an $8 fine.

BE CAREFUL WITH BACKFIRES

The most difficult angle of our defense program is that it tends to call into the foreground of our national life the same elements that are in evidence in Hitlerism. One of these is an increasing impatience with divergent opinions—already some awfully small brains under some familiar domes in Washington have been railing each other "right columnists" because they don't happen to agree. Certain feverish injections into our patriotism can easily produce dangerous deliriums. These developments can rapidly destroy the very democracy which we are calling up our boys to defend. America is suffering seriously right now from the lack of strong spiritual leadership, or the lack of a spiritual quality in our political leadership. Soldiers, politicians and industrialists are rising to defend the shores of America. But who will guard its soul?—Charles A. Wells.

Evangelist Here For Two Weeks

Friends have invited A. F. Johnson, well-known evangelist and Bible teacher to conduct revival services in Birmingham for two weeks. These meetings are being held daily at 608 South Woodward at 7:30 p. m. They opened last Sunday at 10 a. m.

Meetings for Sunday will open at 10 a. m. with Bible school for all ages and a sermon will follow at 11 a. m. Services of an evangelistic nature will begin at 7:30 p. m. and will be held each day next week at the same hour.

Commenting upon the work, the Rev. Mr. Johnson said, "I am very happy to be back among my good Birmingham friends. The attendance is fine and the spirit of the meetings could not be better. These Birmingham people want the old time Gospel of Christ."

The public is invited to these meetings.

U of M Extension Offers 8 Sunday Afternoon Lectures

"Our American Heritage," a series of eight weekly lectures on some of the forces which have shaped the course of American development in the past and are now operating to shape it in the future, is very timely in view of the present interest in all things American. The course is being given in Detroit this fall by the University of Michigan Extension Service in collaboration with the Detroit Public Library. Lectures will be given at three-thirty, Sunday afternoons, beginning Oct. 6, in the auditorium of the Detroit Public Library, Woodward at Kirby.

The subjects and lecturers, who are all outstanding in the field on which they speak, are: "American Humor and National Sanity," Professor Mentor L. Williams; "The Music of America," Professor Glenn D. McGehee; "Humanitarianism and Christian Humanism," Professor Dwight L. Dumond; "The American Concept of

2 Detroit Girls Found Near City

Two Detroit girls, both missing, were brought to Birmingham police station at midnight Saturday after being "rescued" by a passing motorist, Kenneth Tycard, of Pontiac.

One girl was 16 years old, the other 14, and they communicated to police that they had left a Detroit housing alley in the company of two youths. When the boys became offensive, the girls jumped from the car on Coalgate road, just outside the Birmingham city limits.

Here they were found by Tycard, who brought them to Birmingham police. The girls could not give a description of the man, although they described the car. Police here notified the Sheriff's Office and the parents of the girls.

Carveth Wells Opens Adventure Series At Arts Institute

The thrilling adventure of climbing Africa's Mountains of the Moon, told with exciting motion pictures and, accompanying word description by the explorer, Carveth Wells, in person, will open the fall program of the World Adventure Series, public lecture course at the Detroit Institute of Arts, Woodward at Kirby, next Sunday afternoon, Oct. 6 at 8:30. Mr. Wells, internationally known for his expeditions in Malaya, the Arizona and other little-known spots throughout the world, is one of the very few persons to have scaled the Mountains of the Moon. His motion pictures reveal not only incidents of the perilous climb but also show wild animals in their native haunts, native African tribes and the strange customs, and other interesting and entertaining phases of life in Africa.

Sunday evening at 8:30, Mr. Wells will take his audience on a tour of the world with motion pictures in natural color.
