

Betty Jane Crawford Reveals Plans for Her Wedding

Late October Date is Set For Ceremony in Detroit

The date of her wedding, the bridal party and a score of pre-nuptial parties have come to us this week from Betty Jane Crawford, whose marriage to Arthur J. Brandt, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Brandt, of Kennesaw avenue, is to be solemnized Oct. 26.

Because Betty Jane's parents, the Milo H. Crawfords, moved out to Birmingham only a year and a half or so ago, the nuptial service is to be read in the Woodward Avenue Presbyterian Church in Detroit. The Rev. Joseph A. Vance of the First Presbyterian Church, Detroit, is to officiate and will be assisted by the Rev. W. Glen Harris of the First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham.

Duties of the maid of honor will fall to Lenore Warner, of Detroit, and also from Detroit will be Margaret Jean Cogdell, Amy Sanders and Irene Musgrove who will act as bridesmaids. Swelling the bridesmaids' ranks will be Dorothy Tydeman, of LaGrange, Ill., and Chloë Ann Van Schoick, of Hanover, both Della Gamus sisters of the bride-to-be.

Dirk Brandt will be his brother's best man. Ushers will include Bob Goodyear, Charles Rosenberg, Jack Servis, of Detroit; Charles Manning, Art's cousin, of Cleveland; Tom Courtney, of Lakewood, O.; Ken Meyer, of Toledo; and Walter Clement, of New York City.

Following the service a reception is to be held at the Detroit Golf Club.

And now comes word of the party for Betty Jane, several considerably in the future and yet each meticulously arranged even at this early date.

The Jean Fishbaugh and Martha

Betty Jane Crawford

Knutson will be co-hostesses on Friday evening, Oct. 17, at a dinner at the Detroit Golf Club and the following afternoon Betty Jane's mother's brides club in Detroit will entertain for the bride-elect also at the Golf Club. A luncheon is to be given Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 15, by Mrs. B. A. Mullen at her home on Baylis avenue, Detroit.

Coming back to a date some what closer is the dinner party Saturday evening which Mr. and Mrs. Beh Hefler and Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Hefler will hold. Cocktail tails will be served at one home and dinner in the other. The Jean Fishbaugh and Martha

The bridal party and members of the two families have been invited to this affair. Sunday evening Lenore Warner entertained at a bris-a-brac shower and buffet supper at her home on Colorado avenue. And before she left for school at Mt. Holyoke College in South Hadley, Mass., Margaret Jean Cogdell entertained at her summer home at Orchard Lake at a miscellaneous shower for Betty Jane.

Mrs. Owen, Mother Entertain Detroiters

Mrs. Robert B. Owen and her mother, Mrs. E. H. Fowler, entertained recently at Mrs. Owen's home on Bingham lane for Marian Richardson and Harry Linder, both of Detroit, who are to be married Oct. 25 at the Boulevard Temple Methodist Church.

Guests at this buffet supper were Mrs. Henry C. Forester, Jr., of Birmingham; Mrs. Gordon Guile, of Flint and the following from Detroit: Rosemary Sanders, Mrs. Lawrence Richard, Madeline Owen, Marjorie Gilray, Peggy Clement, Jane and Peggy Shaw, Mrs. L. P. Richardson and Mrs. Mary Richardson.

Mrs. Ball Honored Tuesday on Birthday

Mrs. Byron L. McNellis and Mrs. Donald C. Nebert were co-hostesses Tuesday afternoon at a luncheon at Devon Gables honoring Mrs. C. O. Ball on her birthday.

A large subscription party was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Dodds, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Welch, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Alan W. Joslyn, Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Eade, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Nalle, Mr. and Mrs. Harry V. Collins, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dickinson of Los Angeles, Calif. In another group, which also came subscription fashion, were Mr. and Mrs. George A. Florio, Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Dinsley, Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Lauer, Mrs. Julian Frye, Miss Doris Otey, William Hovener and John P. Reeder.

Noted among the dancers also were Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton H. Patterson, Mrs. and Mrs. C. Hugh Whitelaw, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Chamberlain, Miss Marjorie Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon H. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. William A. McCarty and Mr. and Mrs. Frank D. McAllister.

The next big dinner-dance at Orchard Lake is scheduled for Friday, Oct. 11. It will be sponsored by the women golfers, who that day will hold their last all-day golf outing of the season. Mrs. Ferd M. Boush and Mrs. Franklin Robbins are in charge of arrangements.

Big Party Marks President's Day At Orchard Lake

The president's party and the Monte Carlo party of Orchard Lake Country club were one and the same event this year, being held on Saturday night, following a two-ball golf tournament at the club.

Godfrey Strangler is this year's president of Orchard Lake and, of course, he and Mrs. Strangler were at the dinner-dance, which in their party being Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Klein, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sylvester, Mr. and Mrs. Lantieri Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Hood and Mrs. Anne Hood of Buffalo.

The E. Dean Alexanders gave a party for the pleasure of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Wall of Indianapolis former Birmingham residents. Their other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Carter, Mrs. Thompson Tizarda, Mrs. J. P. Bushong of Gladstone, who was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Alexander, and Lawrence E. Tucker.

Others entertaining at dinner included Mr. and Mrs. Rodolph C. Giffin, whose guests were Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Heizer, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Rice of Detroit, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Edmonds. The Guffins had a cocktail party first at their home on Waddington road.

At this banquet awards are to be made to both men and women who distinguished themselves in sailing activities during the current season. Waldemar F. Adams is waterfront committee chairman. Frederick Strong, III, was winner of the men's sailing events during the summer and his brother, Jack, was runner up. Placing high were Herbert H. Gardner, Warren S. Booth, Arthur Griswold, Paul L. Penfield, C. Tieton Van Dusen, Benjamin H. Mico, Harold Ward, William Averill, Fred Strong, Jr., Spencer Hopkins, Mr. Adams, Robert F. Grindley, William Lambert and Clem Page.

Mrs. Mico was winner in the women's sailing division and Mrs. Edward J. Boyd, Jr. won third place. Mrs. J. W. East is to receive an award for having crewed the most races.

Finals in the men's division were sailed last Saturday with Mr. Van Dusen winning the final two lap race, this boosting his percentage for the season.

On the race committee for the year were Mr. Penfield, Mr. Averill, Mr. Booth and Mr. Grindley. Art Griswold was fleet captain.

Mrs. Armstrong Browne will entertain her flower arrangement group Tuesday afternoon, at her apartment in the Fox and Hounds.

Mrs. James Q. Goudie To Fete Miss Wendel

Among the important functions to be held out here in the Hills for Mary Helen Wendel, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. S. Wendel, of Wildemere avenue in Detroit, and Charles W. Williams, son of Mrs. Walter H. Williams, of Bloomfield, whose marriage is to be solemnized Oct. 15, at Christ Church in Cranbrook, is the rehearsal dinner which Mrs. James Q. Goudie, aunt of the bridegroom-elect, will give at her home here Friday evening, Oct. 18.

Banquet Saturday Marks Conclusion Of Year's Sailing

The banquet at Orchard Lake Country Club Saturday evening at 8 o'clock will wind up the year's sailing activities for both men and women of the club. Between 50 and 75 persons are expected to attend and the affair is to be preceded by a cocktail party at the Fred Weed home near the club.

At this banquet awards are to be made to both men and women who distinguished themselves in sailing activities during the current season. Waldemar F. Adams is waterfront committee chairman. Honored for Orchid Work

For the quality of "Orchids of Michigan," published recently, Mrs. Binham was made an honorary member of the Eugene Field society. Orchard's editor is serving as vice president of the Detroit Academy of Natural Sciences, and is a member of the Michigan Society of America, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the Sullivant Museum and the Michigan Academy of Science.

And if all of this weren't enough, she took me on a quick inspection tour of the library at the Institute, which she has put into working order during the seven years she has been at Cranbrook. In this phase of her work she is a member of the Michigan Librarians' association and the Metropolitan Library club.

This is what Mrs. Binham's working day. Her leisure time is spent in Scout work resulting from her organizing three years ago the Girl Scout troop at Walnut Lake. And then there are her two daughters, Margaret, 15, and Jessica, 13, both students at Bloomfield Hills School, who take up a considerable amount of her leisure hours.

What is left of the day's activity—belongs to Mrs. Binham herself.

Donations Sought By University Women

Donations of books, magazines, sheet music, games and cards are being sought by the American Association of University Women for the book sale to be held in October. The exact date as yet undetermined.

Donations may be left at Baldwin Public Library, Mrs. Stanley R. Saunders is in charge of the sale.

Money from this project is used for the association's scholarship fund.
