The office of President of the United States is referred to as Chief Executive. This means that a President should be a Favor Willkie Favor Willkie Practical people: a man's personal redord as a received of fig. So, in considering the contest between Franklin D. Roosevelt and Wendell Lawlikkie, on equip to "go into the record." Prior to his becoming President, Mr. Roosevelt was anything but a brilliant success as an executive: Mr. Willkie, on the other hand, struggled from scratch to a $75,000 per year job in private industry. That's why, in making our choice for Mr. Wilkie; the record shows him to be an able executive. Further than this there is no mystery about our choosing.

Tomorrow's meeting in Grand Rapids may upset the control of political bosses McKay, McKeighan, and Barnard; it may not, too. But dispansed to the control of political bosses McKay, McKeighan, and Barnard; it may not, too. But igan, who wear the Republican tog, really hope that the bosses will be on the outside, looking in.

The editor of this newspaper has repeatedly pointed out to Republicans in Michigan the fact that very soon the federal government, through its FBI investigators, will return quite fact that very soon the federal government, through its FBI investigators, will return quite a number of indictments against public and private a number of indictments against public and private a number of indictments best tomorrow's Republicans convention is very careful to eliminate certain people from its November candidate ticket, the indictments may embarrass the Republican clances of victory November 5.

Of course, the Democrats, both public and private, are under FBI investigation; eventually, we expect that all wrong-doers in this State will go the way the political machines did in Kanass City and Louisians; but that may take time-time perhaps to be selected after the November 5 election. We hope not, naturally, but that is the way of politics.
