Club President to Be Honored

Difficult Score Sung Well By Canadian Tenor

By FENTON R. MATHEWS

"Unorthodox but timely" characterized the new musical production "The Ninth Minute" at Willard's Birmingham Theatre Tuesday evening.

This is the play belonging to Celia Merrill, sister of William, children of Fred and William Miller, the father that sought to get and gets things done, using Jewish traditions and a story by Israel Zangwill. Celia has written the music, which is unusual for this unusual production that has a combination of comic opera, light opera and oratorio.

Bright, the play and the music, in concert, make the kind of a musician—the music based upon strictly correct forms of composition, canons and fugues—the audience can appreciate the music, where it stands. The orchestra, using only violins, violas, cellos, two bassoons and a flute—a rarity in itself—was excellent.

It was to be a luncheon at noon and an extra-special men's banquet that evening for members and their guests. Various golf events will be off all day.

Mrs. Christoffel parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Christoffel, will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Christoffel of River Forest, Ill.

Tuesday they will fly to Culver Academy and bring home the Culver Academy boys, Ernest F., and Don E.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Murray, and their children, Dona Jean and Charles, left Friday for a two-week stay at Bathawana Bay—on Canada.
