

5 Piece W.P.A. Dance Band to Play for Street Frolic this Friday Evening

Holy Name Center To Sponsor Party At Baldwin High

A fifteen-piece dance band, of Detroit, will be in Birmingham Friday night for the pleasure of singing and everyone who wishes to attend the weekly street dance, being held this time on the court in front of Baldwin High School. Recreation director, Lloyd Chapman, who whipped up the arrangements, announced that music will begin at 8 p. m. and last till 11 p. m. The orchestra was obtained through cooperation with the Works Progress Administration in Detroit.

Street dances are held each Friday night for the duration of the summer recreation project. Holy Name Center sponsors this week's dance under the direction of Supervisor Ise de Noyelle, assisted by the following hosts and hostesses: the Rev. Father David Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Beasley, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Judkins, Mr. and Mrs. James Lapine, and Mr. and Mrs. James Powell.

Besides the music played by the dance band, gophers and Salisbury will also be on hand with their library recordings so that local rug-cutters (or cement crushers) will enjoy an evening of continuous music.

Giles-Wells Vows Repeated Saturday at St. James Church

Before an altar adorned with white gladioli and daisies in the St. James Episcopal Church at one o'clock on Saturday afternoon the Rev. Warner L. Reynolds read the marriage services for Hester Elizabeth Young Giles and James Bertram Wells. Miss Giles is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Macdonald Giles, ofrosse Pointe Woods, formerly of Birmingham. Wells is the son of Mrs. Hester Woodruff Wells, of Floral Park, Woodruff Island.

The bridal gown was that worn by Miss Giles' friend, Mrs. Allan Read (the former Ruth Stanford) of Birmingham, of Detroit at her wedding about a year ago. It was fashioned from off-white lace, with a full skirt ending in a train. A full skirt ending in a train. A full skirt ending in a train.

Miss Giles wore a blue and white dress with a navy redingote and white accessories for her wedding. Mrs. Wells wore a gown of light blue and white with just accessories. Both had corsages of roses.

John Read, of Detroit, was the best man and Hester Giles and Wilfred K. Donaldson acted as bridesmaids. Mr. Giles gave his daughter away in marriage.

Following the ceremony, a reception for 150 guests was held at the St. James Parish House, which was decorated with garden flowers. Assistants at the reception included Fred H. Haysworth, Mrs. Wilfred K. Donaldson, Lynn Moore, Mrs. Allan Read, and Mrs. Lawrence Quill of Ann Arbor.

When leaving, the bride was wearing a multi-colored silk jersey.

P-T. A. Theatre Review

WOMAN'S FACE—An unusual and dramatic picture weakens by a typical Hollywood ending. Stark drama. Out of the ordinary and worth seeing. This picture is not for children and is mature for adolescents, but excellent for adults according to the American Association for University Women. ROAD SHOW—A rollicking comedy with clean non-sensational fun for members of the family from 4 years up, as reviewed by the California P-T. A. (Birmingham Theatre, starts Friday, August 8.)

SEA WOLF—Jack London story, excellently acted and directed. Best strong meat for all but the most hardy. The American Association of University Women believe it too brutal for children, all right for adolescents over 15, if they have read the book, and excellent for adults. SCATTERGOOD—BAINES—A constructive and entertaining story based on the Clarence Budington Kelland series. Family picture according to the California P-T. A.

John P. St. Clair Surprised With Party on His Birthday
