Plan to Organize Local Food Councils To Guard Against War Profiteering

By GENE ALLEMAN
Michigan Press Association

LANSING—Anticipating a war emergency by spring, the Michigan Food Council comprising producers, retailers and distributors is taking steps to establish local and county food councils throughout Michigan.

The consumer will be recognized in the county personnel which is to include retailers, farmers and consumers.

As the consumer was penalized in the World war when selfish interests profiteered in the purchase and sale of foodstuffs, the state food council is on record today as advocating consumer protection through local advisory groups.

The names and addresses of members of all local food councils will be placed at the disposal of Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner "for any assignment he may deem advisable."

This decision was taken by representatives of independent and chain retailers, wholesalers, State Grange, state department of agriculture, and the state press.

Strike Threats

To maintain law and order in Saginaw where rival labor groups had precipitated a strike in an industrial plant, Governor Van Wagoner recently ordered 200 state policemen to assist local law enforcement officers.

Production of National defense contracts was temporarily stopped.

It gave new importance to an opinion, made by Attorney General Herbert J. Rushton, that factories engaged in national defense work come within the "public interest" scope of the state labor mediation act and thus a 30-day strike notice must be given by labor. Directly involved also, was the Duplex Printing Press Co. of Battle Creek which has a $2,000,000 contract from the war department for gun carriages.

The governor has not indicated his approval or disapproval of the strikers' notice apart from the state mediation act, which was intended to afford a "cooling-off period" and thus to discourage hastily-called strikes. For the time being the governor may decide to permit national developments determine the advisability of any amendments in the state mediation set-up. As for extending the federal wage and hour act to industries in intrastate commerce, the governor is already committed to blanket "all Michigan workers" under it.

He recently received a delegation of striking employees of the Neisner stores of Detroit and told them that he had plans for remedial legislation which would establish a floor for wages of retail employees.

Under the federal wage-hour act, most retailing is specially exempt. Legislative leaders see numerous bills shaped ahead of the governor, plans to regulate wages and hours of store clerks throughout the state. Another possibility would be enactment of a minimum wage law for women.

Small Business

According to Irving T. Fox, counsel for the National Retail Dry Goods Association, in session last week, new legislation will be in place all retailing under the scope of the national labor relations act.

He reports, that attempts are being made by legal procedure to establish that the receipt of merchandise from outside the state brings the receiver under the act with regard to collective bargaining for wages.

If a United States supreme court decision puts all retailing under the federal act, then the Van Wagoner program for labor would have these leading objectives:

1. Amendment to the unemployment compensation act to include firms which now have less than eight employees.

2. Wage-hour legislation, paralleling the federal set-up for employees of industries engaged in interstate commerce.

3. Restriction of court power to issue injunctions in labor disputes. A bill has been introduced in the house of representatives by Edward J. Walsh, Detroit Democrat, with administrative backing.

Spring Election

G. Donald Kennedy, Republican state highway commissioner, is expected to be the Democrats' choice for the four-year position as the 1941 spring election. Kennedy was deputy to Murray D. Van Wagoner during the latter's administration.

Republican state officials are said to be favoring Secretary of State Smith, Wayne county sheriff Dingeman J. Smith lives in Detroit's Delray district where the Republican need votes badly.

Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, Republican incumbent, will run for re-election as state superintendent of public instruction. Democratic opponents may be T. Thomas Thatcher, Ravenna, or Prof. Ray Hamilton, Alma college.

For the state board of agriculture, governing body of Michigan State College, Republicans will probably name Wallace R. Brooks, Coopersville, and Harry H. Brody, Lansing, to succeed themselves. Candidates for university regents include Charles F. Hemans, Lansing, and Franklin M. Cook, Hillsdale, on the Democratic ticket. Alfred E. Connable Jr., Detroit, has announced his candidacy for the Republican post.

The Democratic state convention will convene Feb. 19, the Republicans' convention on Feb. 28, both in Grand Rapids.

Hudson Announces New Station Wagon

There will be greatly increased demand for station wagons in the 1941 season, according to G. H. Hall, Hudson's General Sales Manager. To meet this demand, the Hudson Motor Car Company announces new styling, exceptional roominess and many new refinements in interior finishes with utilitarian appeal, for the 1941 Hudson Super Six Station Wagon. This Station Wagon is available with six or eight-cylinder power plants of 102 or 121 horsepower respectively. Both are mounted on 121-inch wheelbase.

This Hudson model has the characteristic styling of the 1941 Hudson line with a specially designed body of selected white ash and genuine mahogany faced panels, and special rear fenders. The roof is correctly contoured to the normal headroom.
