

Seniors Are Busy At Final Parties As School Ends

Seniors of Baldwin High School are having the time of their lives this week as many formal and informal parties. Last night they were honored by the Junior class at the annual Junior-Senior reception at the Roney Brook Country Club.

School colors, maroon and white decorated the decorations. Motifs large white peonies spelled out "11" on one side of the balcony, while the other side of the balcony was decorated with the opposite side "42" was written. Large baskets filled with maroon and white pennies lightened the corners of the dance floor.

A buffet supper was served at 7 o'clock. A wide satin maroon ribbon ran down the center of the banquet table and a large glass bowl of flowers formed the centerpiece. Stagnant were scattered on small tables, large enough for two couples, spread around the dining room.

Credit for the decorations go to Natalie Senhous, chairman of that committee. Others responsible for the party were Sally Carey and Margaret Newell in charge of food; Maynard Zimmerman and Joseph Hogan in charge of decorations and invitations were issued by Jackie Botter and Sally Booth. Michael Cannonay in charge of the program. Joseph Armstrong gave a welcome to the seniors and which was followed by the presentation of a program class, followed.

This evening, following final speeches, Susan Averill is holding a reception for the entire senior class at the home of her parents, the George R. Averills, on Riverton avenue.

Frank O'Toole is entertaining about 50 of his classmates tonight at the home of his parents, the John O'Tooles, on Clifton street.

Sponsored by afternoon Betty Roth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Roth, will have a "end of school" tea for about 90 friends at her home on Franklin road. Assisting Betty will be Marian Hoekel, Shirley Trump, Jane Waller, Barbara Sauer, Doris Franklin, and Gloria Scott, who is coming down from Michigan State College for the affair.

200 Guests Attend Altar Society Party

Approximately 200 guests attended the garden party benefit, sponsored by the Holy Name Altar Society, which was held Tuesday afternoon at "Red Oaks," home of Mrs. John Myers, Rev. Fr. From the benefit will go toward the new Holy Name rectory.

Mrs. Myers' beautiful garden, and the junior hostesses, in their garden frocks and big floppy hats, furnished a charming background for the party. The entertainment included a flower arrangement demonstration, many musical numbers and a game. The guests were present from Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Grosse Pointe, and Detroit.

'Mikado' Offered Both This Evening And On Saturday

St. Dunstan Guild's second performance of "The Mikado" will begin at 8:30 p. m. this evening at the Greek Theatre at Cranbrook, and the final show will be held at the same time on Saturday night in the Cranbrook School Auditorium. Tuesday evening dress rehearsals indicated that the hard work of Director Vernon R. Koffel, these past few weeks, has borne fruit, and that this will be among the outstanding of the Guild's productions. The first show was given last night.

The scene of this Gilbert and Sullivan light opera is laid in Japan, about the year 1880 when the Mikado was ruler of that country. Nanki-Poo, son of the Mikado, disguised himself as a wandering minstrel, because his father wants him to marry Kaula, an elderly lady. He goes to Tamu, the palace of Ko-Ko, here high executioner, who he falls in love with Yum-Yum, who is not only the ward of Ko-Ko, but is also engaged to him.

The Mikado himself, the ultimate that Ko-Ko, for high executioner, must soon be hanged despite Ko-Ko's warnings Nanki-Poo to be headed on the execution
