Eastern Colleges' Alumnae Plan Play

Detroit alumnae of seven eastern women's colleges are jointly sponsoring a theater benefit this year for the fourth time to raise money for their respective scholarship funds. On the night of June 2 the group, including Barnard, Bryn Mawr, Mount Holyoke, Radcliffe, Smith, Vassar and Wellesley alumnae, will take over the Cass Theater for the opening performance of Clarence Day's comedy, "Life With Father."

The cooperation of Mrs. Clarence Day, a Radcliffe alumna and a member of the New York City Seven Women's College Association, made it possible for the Detroit clubs to have the Broadway hit. Dorothy Gish and Louis Calhern will head the distinguished company which played in Boston.

Mrs. Douglas Brown is general chairman in charge of arrangements; Mrs. Hale Clark is ticket chairman, and Mrs. Theodore Dow is in charge of publicity. A committee made up of representatives from each of the seven colleges is at work perfecting arrangements. It held its second meeting at the Woman's City Club of Detroit on the morning of Monday, May 19. Representatives from the various alumnae clubs are as follows:

Barnard—Mrs. Louis B. Heavenrich and Mrs. Frederick Dykstra.

Bryn Mawr—Mrs. C. B. Marts, Mrs. Stevens T. Mason and Miss Helen Flinn.

Mount Holyoke—Mrs. Harry P. Jennings and Mrs. T. K. Smits.

Radcliffe—Mrs. W. S. Gillis and Mrs. Lewis A. Dillon.

Smith—Mrs. R. B. Rains, Mrs. Stanley MacKenzie and Mrs. Holmes Martin.

Vassar—Mrs. Ford Ballantyne, Jr., Miss Peggy Webber, and Miss Rosemary Heenan.

Wellesley—Mrs. Ralph Fordon, Mrs. Francis Phelps, and Mrs. Dorothy Angevine.

Conspiracy Joined To Make Readers Holiday Conscious

BY LINDO MOORE

It seems there's a conspiracy afoot to make us all vacation conscious. The sunshine is so bright and golden, birds do a lot of singing from every tree, the grass is a beautiful green look at it. Oh, my, balmy breezes who wants to work? Golf courses are dreamy and beaches and mountain and their respective lodges are calling for that vacation. Yes, sir, that's the way it is. In the aforementioned conspiracy lies in the shelf of recently added issues from the American Circle Series, Books in this series are complete, descriptive, historical and all parts of our state. The books are prepared by the Federal Writers Projects and are fully illustrated. Each volume is provided with numerous maps.

Among the new volumes added to the library shelves, including Florida, Georgia, New York (State), Pennsylvania, Oregon, Virginia, Ohio and South Carolina, Michigan, not yet off the presses, has been ordered.

The rental shelf also boasts some new additions, including recent novels and volumes on current events.

Strike the Wind Retired, by Rachel Knight. A stirring novel of Chinatown and the Asian exhibit during the early Nineteenth century.

Mind My Wrecks, by Ward Weaver. A Civil war story by one who was there. A story full of southern officers and beautiful southern belles. Focuses all time high in excitement, on the fate of the Confederate gold. Includes the names of those who stole a locomotive, a railroad train, set fire to bridges, tore up tracks and was pursued by another locomotive manned by Confederates.

Between Two Worlds, by Upton Sinclair. The author carries his hero, "World's End" through the turbulent world events that ended with the 1929 crash.

This Above All, by Eric Knight. The moving story of two young lovers whose beings faced with the crumbling of their world, during the Battle of Britain.

Wake Up Laughing, by Emily Loring. A romance for one's lighter moments.

The Avenging Sword, by Leslie Charteris. More adventures of the redoubtable Saint for mystery story fans.

Enjoy ELECTRIC HOT WATER IN YOUR HOME
For refreshing baths of showers, for washing, shaving, cooking, housecleaning, dishes, the laundry, you need hot water many times a day. ELECTRIC water heating provides it automatically, the minute you want it. Ask about this service at any Detroit Edison office — or see your plumber, electrical dealer, hardware or department store today. The Detroit Edison Company.

A "THINKING" TEA KETTLE ...just in case you forget!
This clever teakettle has a special "pop-out" plug to guard against damage to the heating element. If negligence lets the water cook too low, the kettle shuts itself off. To save running back and forth, you can use the kettle anywhere in the house. Simply plug it into the nearest convenience outlet. $4.95 at any Detroit Edison office (for Detroit Edison customers only).

Obituary

Mrs. Annabelle Cone

The funeral of Mrs. Annabelle Cone at Bell's Funeral Home on Wednesday last marked the passing of one of the oldest citizens and of a beloved and valued friend to a considerable circle of acquaintances. Mrs. Cone has been a resident of this city and its vicinity without interruption for 75 years. Born in Ontario County, New York, Dec. 17, 1840, she was the daughter of George and Hannah Mosely, originally of Yorkshire, England. The family upon coming to America first settled in New York state but during Mrs. Cone's youth moved to Springfield, Mich., and subsequently to Troy, Oakland county, the deceased married Frederick W. Cone of Avon, son of Captain Linus Cone, the latter being one of Michigan's most prominent agriculturists and an associate editor of The Michigan Farmer. A few years after the demise of her husband's death in 1897, Mrs. Cone became a resident of Birmingham.

Her relations to her community were represented in her activities as Sunday School teacher successively of the Troy Baptist Church, the Troy Methodist Church, and the Birmingham Baptist Church. She was for a number of years Treasurer of the Ladies Aid Society of the Troy Baptist Church, now extinct. While a resident in Avon she maintained membership in the Troy Farmers' Club.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. O. B. Harper, of 512 Riverside drive, Birmingham; a grandson, Clifford F. Harper, of Lake Geneva, Illinois, and three great grandsons. Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. J. O. Nelson, pastor of the Birmingham Baptist Church, and the Rev. Peter Marsay, retired, of this city. Burial took place in Crooks cemetery.

Mrs. Ottilie Pravel

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m., Monday afternoon, at the Bailey Bailey Funeral Home, for Mrs. Ottilie Pravel, of 5784 Inkster road at Walnut Lake. Burial was in the Glen Eden Cemetery.

The Rev. Theodore Waggaser officiated.

Mrs. Pravel died on Friday, May 16, at the Oakland Sanatorium. Surviving are her husband, Herman Pravel, and four children at home, Herman, Jr., 20, Raymond 17, Ethel, 19, and Edith 15. Also remaining are several brothers and sisters.

Born in Frankenmuth, Mich., in 1893, Mrs. Pravel moved to Oakland county shortly after her marriage to Mr. Pravel in 1918. She was a member of the Redeemer Lutheran Church of Birmingham and of the Missionary Society of that church.

Mrs. Mary H. Pike

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 today at the Bell Funeral Home for Mrs. Mary H. Pike, 88 years old, who passed away Tuesday afternoon at the home of her son, Ollis E. Pike, at 15632 Muirland avenue, Detroit. She had been ill two weeks, and lived at 1230 Purdy street, Birmingham.

She was a member of the First Baptist Church, and the Rev. J. O. Nelson officiated with burial at Mt. Vernon, Mich., cemetery. Before moving to Birmingham 19 years ago, she lived most of her life at Rochester.

She leaves her sons, Ollis, and Lewis, of Glendale, Calif.; one daughter, Mrs. Ina Kelly, of Oxford; four grandsons; one great granddaughter; and a brother C. D. Baldwin, of Detroit.

Right-of-Way Crash

Another crash was occurred at Martin and Henrietta streets when Mrs. Harold Bell ran through puddles drivers, there being no stop signs. Karl Kraleigh, of 17840 Wanda, Detroit, going east on Merrill, collided with a car driven by Alvin Warner, of Mount Clemens, going south on Henrietta.
