

William E. Holler Writes Tribute To Press for National Newspaper Week

By WILLIAM E. HOLLER
General Sales Manager Chevrolet Motor Division

(Editor's note: Oct. 1 to 8 is National Newspaper Week and a tribute to the Press. William E. Holler has written this message to be reprinted in many newspapers throughout the country.)

Sometimes it is genuine pleasure to lift our eyes momentarily from our own individual fields of effort and pay tribute to those hard-working people who are doing an outstandingly able and worthwhile job in another and a different field of effort.

That is exactly what this writer wants to do here and now, to the best of his ability, in this brief appreciation of the newspapers and the newspaper profession of America.

I want to salute the men and women of the press—the editors and publishers, reporters and photographers, and all other newspaper workers—for the marvelous job you are doing of gathering, editing and interpreting the news of our own country and the rest of the world in these fast-moving and critical times.

"Well Done!"

I want to salute you and say, "Well done!" and I am thoroughly convinced that the great majority of the people in all parts of the land are equally eager to pay you this same tribute.

All the more so because newspapers and newspaper men who print millions of words every day about the rest of the world, seldom bother to say anything at all about themselves.

All the more so because newspapers and newspaper men who perform so many varied and valuable services for other branches of society, seldom if ever ask society to perform any particular service for them.

All the more so because newspapers and newspaper men, who wield such great power and influence in the community, make it a point of honor never to abuse that power and never to misuse it for their own selfish interests.

Citations for Service

And so, if you will permit the great silent majority of your newspaper readers to become newspaper writers for a little while, here are a few of the things you are doing that we're like to "write up" for you—a few of the things that have aroused our best interest, our admiration—a few of the things that inspire our white-hearted appreciation.

"Here are our citations for your faithful and efficient service to us and to all America.

"Citation—For your constant efforts to report all the legitimate news of the day fairly, accurately, completely.

"Citation—For your willingness to aid and support all sound progress.

Car-Motorcycle Crash Suit Explained

In the recent lawsuits involving Harold Wangerberg, of Birmingham and Arthur Ouellette and Jean LeDuc, both of Detroit, the matter was settled out of court. The Eccentric was asked to state this week the facts of the LeDuc suit, in which $25,000 was asked, a jury rendered a verdict of no cause for action.

Ouellette's suit was not tried but a settlement was made with him by Wangerberg's insurance carrier to save further litigation. The latter was driving an automobile which was struck by a motorcycle on a highway on which the other pair was riding.

Lightning Strikes In Rocky Areas

Dorothy Maynor Will Give Concert Oct. 15

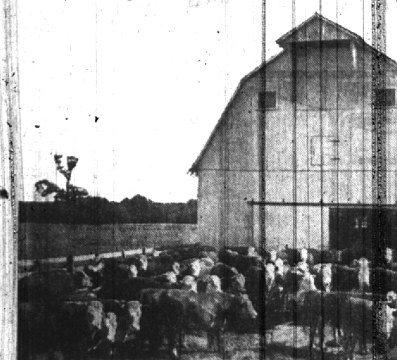

The management of the Masonic Concert Series announces that Dorothy Maynor, successful young Negro soprano, will open the current season of the series with a recital at Masonic Auditorium on Wednesday evening, October 15.

Although a comparatively new star, having made her debut just two seasons ago, Miss Maynor is not at all inexperienced in the concert stage. Having been discovered by George F. Root, conductor of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, and having sung as soloist with the outstanding symphony orchestras of the country, Miss Maynor sings with authority, taste and technique.

Critics are essentially eloquent in regard to the remarkable range of Miss Maynor's voice. Not only does she sing with great depth of feeling the low notes of the Negro spirituals, but she also executes the brilliant high notes of the classics with amazing ease and clearness. The artful notes in French and German as well as English, enjoying the varied high composure in Mozart and Handel as well as the German lieder.

Her voice, like tuning the folk songs of her own race, while singing and without accompaniment, she is used to do her father's church in Norfolk, Virginia.

Michigan Beef for Michigan Brawn

A baysward-full of Hereford steers. The "whitefaces" are among the most popular beef cattle breeds.

SYNTHETIC foods may have their place in the war-time economy of some nations, but Michigan workers who are raising America for defense want meat that will "tick to their ribs"—good roasts, steaks and stews.

The farms of Michigan will sell more than $27,000,000 worth of beef every year and calves this year. Wherever there's a surplus of corn and other grains, steers are fattened for market.

Farmers who specialize in beef cattle use the telephone to buy young steers, order feed, and keep in touch with the market price of beef on the hoof. The meat packer does much of his buying and selling by telephone. And the amazing efficiency of the system that keeps every neighborhood store supplied with fresh, wholesome meat would be impossible without complete and dependable telephone service.
