

Junior League to Hold Fall "Bundle-Tea" at Community House Wednesday

Party Will Benefit League's Project, The Thrift Shop

A general invitation has been issued to all Birmingham- and Bloomfield-Hill to drop in at the Community House next Wednesday afternoon from 3 to 6 p. m. for a cup of tea, and at the same time to leave a bundle of used clothing or household goods for the Junior League Thrift Shop. This will be the semi-annual "Bundle-Tea" sponsored by the Junior League in support of its year-around project, the Thrift Shop.

Used wearing apparel, and particularly that which is suitable for fall and winter use, and household goods of all kinds, will be welcomed by the Thrift Shop board. The goods are to be public at a very low cost.

Mrs. Paul B. Hoffman and Mrs. E. Schinner are the general chairwomen in charge of the tea. The four retiring members of the Thrift Shop Board will assist them. They are Mrs. Carl A. Underhill, Mrs. W. O. Briggs, Jr., Mrs. Vernon B. Hoar, and Miss Ronald Thompson.

Hostesses will include the present members of the Thrift Shop Board. Doris Otter is general chairman and is assisted by Mrs. Washburne Wright, vice-chairman, Mrs. George J. Bogard, business manager and secretary, will also be a hostess during the afternoon as will the other committee chairmen. They are Mrs. John R. MacManus, in charge of marketing, assisted by Mrs. James M. Taylor; donations chairman, Mrs. Martin P. Vorberg and her assistant, Mrs. Ralph L. Polk, Jr.; Mrs. John Huntington, personnel; Mrs. Paul B. Hoffman, and Mrs. E. Schinner, entertainment committee; and Mrs. Donald Blanchard, bulletin chairman.

Mrs. G. C. Bowling Wed in Denver

Announcement is made this week of the marriage of Mrs. G. Curtis Bowling, of Phoenix, Ariz., and formerly of Birmingham, Mich., to Dr. Alexander S. Chandler, of Chandler, Ariz. The ceremony took place at noon on Tuesday, Sept. 6, in the Brown Palace Hotel at Denver, Col.

Attending the wedding were Mrs. B. W. King's two children, Steven, who is attending school in Denver, and Mrs. Dudley F. Taylor, who lives in that city.

Dr. Chandler is the founder of the city of Chandler, where he and Mrs. Chandler will make their home at the San Marcos Hotel. At present they are vacationing in the Northwest.

Bits of Birmingham

A Mrs. Gallagher, 283 East Lincoln, whose first name was not obtained, reported to police last week that her son red and white Hasbrouck bicycle had been stolen.

A Townsland street resident complained to police early last Saturday morning that certain young men were imbibing alcoholic stuff in their car. Police found the car and part of a bottle about 4 and police asked them to cut down on the volume. However, the meeting and of private property and therefore perfectly legal.

At Watrous and Margaret Russell, of Oakland Hills, are again Michigan's best man-woman golf duo. They won their second title last Friday at the Country Club of Detroit.

Frank Alexander, the Franklin poet, has just published a little volume of verse under the imprint of the Blue Ox Press, Troy, Mich. Included is the Cranbrook Sonnet which The Eccentric published some months ago. One of the longer pieces in Mr. Alexander's book describes his feelings at Franklin Cemetery, and who knows but what this spot will become immortalized as "Gray's Elegy"!

The wanderer liked it bit describing downtown Detroit. "Cone-hilled by coal, sharp nipped river rippled. "Crouch cement-crusting walls, fort banded plant rounded. "Catact stare through "Cinder-glare and "Coke-furnace flare." The book is on sale at LaBelle's.

This Wanderer is puzzled about a recent decision of the State Supreme Court covering the so-called scavenger sale purchases.

exchange of ideas on the local picture taking. It is so important that you get out of your shell and move, and let us hear from you! Surely photography opens up a noble and avocational field that is unexplored and unlimited.

To folks in Birmingham, young and old, male and female, who have the notion of moving on beyond the "drug store" stage, and to those who already develop and print their own, we would like to suggest that we band together in the formation of a worthwhile camera club. We would like to suggest that you drop a brief note to Camera Corner and express your views along these lines. Surely there are many here who just fail to meet, at which a social participating with a special effort for new membership is always made, at the Community House on Tuesday, Sept. 23, at 7 p. m.

Who to Watch

Who to watch in the Birmingham area? We want to find and publish such names. What a world of interesting personalities heretofore! We have them here a lot of them, and it is so important to meet them. So if you think you've got that Photo of the Month mail it in to us, mail it our print or show it up too much. An 8 x 10, or even 5 x 7 on glossy will do the trick. Send it to the Editor, and the honor and glory yours. Deadline for September competition for Birmingham's best photo is Oct. 1.

What's on Your Mind?

And because this is your Camera Corner we want to hear from you. What kind of a photo column do you want? What do you want to publish? Many thoughts come to mind, such as a who's who photography magazine and book reviews, club rosters, national calendar, advance notice of national price contests, articles on methods, short cuts, photo formulas, dark room hints (etc., etc.). Always register your ideas and address and suggestions, and as we feel the pulse of your likes and dislikes, we will endeavor to give this column worthy of The Eccentric.

Carry SUMMER HEALTH into Fall

Protect and preserve that vibrant health you enjoyed during the Summer by taking vitamin concentrates daily. The need for vitamins is best shown by a statement of a government spokesman who said that 60% of the American people are starving—not because of lack of food, but because the food they eat do not supply the necessary vitamins and nutritional elements. Supplement your diet with vitamin concentrates and be sure you are getting all the vitamins you require for a healthy life.
