Just when it seems that there can't possibly be another method to announce an engagement, something very new and different turns up. In the middle of the news was the announcement of Della Mae Clemmer, daughter of the George D. Clemmers and H. Waldo Bird, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Bird of Bloomfield Hills.

Around 200 guests gathered at the Clemmer home on Roland road for a cocktail party Sunday afternoon. In the middle of the afternoon a loud speaker was attached to the Victrola, so that the music would appear to come from the room in which the middle of the transcription, which the young people had made themselves, the program paused and news of the engagement was given out in a new broadcast manner. At the same time a large colored caricature of Della Mae and Waldo was unveiled.

Della Mae was wearing a sheer white dress of powder blue and a corsage of white orchids for all of the excitement. Her mother chose a cocoa brown crepe ensemble and a spray of green carnations for the party. Mrs. Bird wore a black crepe dress complimented by lavender orchids.

The news of the wedding will be announced in the future. Della Mae is a graduate of Kingswood School and Smith College. She also attended the Michigan Academy of Art. Waldo was graduated from Cranbrook, attended Yale University and now is at the University of Michigan where he is a member of Nu Sigma Nu. He plans to finish his medical course at Harvard.

P. MacKay Home Scene of Wedding

Stewart C. Torrey and Frances Hendrick, both of Detroit, were married on Sept. 1. They are the sons of Mr. Torrey's uncle the Rev. P. M. MacKay, of Hann Street, in the presence of the bridegroom's mother and sister and a few intimate friends of the bride.

Iola Gerard as bridesmaid and Kenneth Armstrong, best man. The service was held from St. Paul's Episcopal Church, decorated with seasonal flowers. The bride wore a dress of white brocade made with a full skirt and basque waist. The groom wore a dark suit of white tulle. The bridal bouquet was of white roses and ferns. The bridesmaid wore a similar dress of blue and carried pink roses.

After a short trip the young couple will make their home in Detroit where Mr. Torrey is employed.

Brockie Oatman Fetes Girls Leaving for School

BROCKIE OATMAN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Atwood B. Oatman of Pilgrim road, was hostess to about forty of her friends who were leaving for school in her home. The party was given in honor of three Brockies' friends who are going away to school.

Guests of honor were:

Mary Anne Fry, who is going to Mary Burnham; Honey Mayo White, who goes to the Colgate-Pearl River High School; and Dorothy Smith, who will be a student at Mount Holyoke. Assisting Brockie at her tea were: Marion Clarke, Dorothy Clark, Shirley Clark, Anna White, Margaret Clark, and Alice Steinbaugh.

FATH PARKYN, who has spent the summer at South Haven, returned this week to be with her parents, the PERCY PARKYNS until school opens at Michigan State this fall. Margaret Parkyn, a student at the Marion Methodist Hospital. She spent her three-week vacation with her parents at the E. A. HOUSEWORTHS.

TOMORROW evening Charles Renfrew is entertaining his classmates at a formal dance at the home of his parents, the Charles Renfrews of Henley drive. The party which is to be held on the porch, is in the way of a farewell get-together for the senior class who is moving out of town on the following day.

The Renfrews porch will be all lighted up with Christmas lights and tape recorders will provide music for dancing. Nancy Neuman and Carolyn Byers will assist Charles Renfrew in his duties.

The wedding date has been set for Oct. 4, further arrangements will be announced later.

Guests include Nancy Merriam, Nancy Morris, Marjorie Thompson, Gloria Fish, Robin Pearson, Mary Ann, Edith, and Dorothy Jones, Nancy Vayberg, Leary, and Dorothy Adams.
