THIS MATTER OF MORALE

LOT has been written on the subject of morals. Some of it has come out of Washington, uttered by people to fit its accomedated that only isolationists and "obstructions of the word of the work of th

Americans Are American people are "Worshippers" here worshippers where worshippers where worshippers where worshippers with y have enough inherent love of life and adventure to want to look up to something great and ine—however, at times, they may be mistaken about the thing or ideal they are hereizing. In brief, they want to follow a leader, or leaders, who will take them high upon the mountain, so to speak, where they may dimpse the finer and lovelier environments of this world. That's one reason, currently speaking, why they elected Frankin D. Roosevelt to a third term; they—at least a big majerity of themself before the first of the state of t goes.

Why, oh why, cannot Mr. Roosevelt entrust some of his great powers in the hands of those he has selected to do the various jobs? The nation is getting disputed with the unceasing stories of inefficience, and power grabbing efforts of many of the President's "inner circle."

Our Churches port that a larger perform centage of the population of the United States maintains membership in the 50 religious bodies of this country.

Figures for 1940 show that forty-anine percent of the people in this country are members of some religious body. The record shows that there has been a gain in membership and what is more significant, a slight increase in the percentage of the population which belongs to organized churches.

The Yearhook of American Churches, is anded under the auspices of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in American, which was recently published, reveals some interesting facts about the religious hife of our people. In 1940, there were 64,391,594 church members in the country, attending 44,319 churches. The total of 250 religious bodies exceed any previous figure recorded.

Dividing Defense States be gan its Contracts vast armament representation of the program last summer, it was necessary for the Government to go to the large corporations in order to take advantage of existing industrial plants. Speed in the delivery of products was the prime consideration.

There has been considerable criticism of this policy although, in our opinion, the emergency justified the procedure. Nevertheless, the concentration and centralisation of industry was greatly increased by the placing of the first $8,000,000,000 centry one per cent of the first $8,000,000,000,000 of of lefense contracts were placed in twenty cities and city their immediately adjacent areas, and city, corporations.

The situation has now changed, according to Donald M. Nelson, Director of Purchases, OPM, who says that while speed is still imperative, greater consideration can now be given to decentralization in order to better adjust the economic future of the nation.
