

Junior League's Semi-Annual Bundle Tea Scheduled to Take Place April 29

Affair to Benefit Thrift Shop at Community House

The semi-annual bundle tea, sponsored by the Junior League and the Birmingham Community House, is scheduled to take place on Wednesday afternoon, April 29, at the Community House as always.

The bundle teas, given each fall and spring, are the only public benefits given for the support of the Thrift Shop, which operates the year around at the Community House. Everyone is welcome at the tea and price of admission is a bundle containing usable clothing or any kind of household articles such as lamps, towels, dishes, baby carriages and the like.

This year two door prizes are being offered, one for the individual who brings the most people to the tea, and one for the person who brings a bundle containing the most articles.

The board of directors for the Thrift Shop is meeting next Wednesday at the Bloomfield Green Hunt Club at noon for luncheon and a session to discuss further plans for the tea.

A novel method of revealing the betrothal news was employed—namely small cards, engraved with the names "Rhoda and Harry," were tied to the handles of tea cups.

An all-white theme was used for the tea table which was centered with an arrangement of white sweet peas, snapdragons and study in a crystal bowl. Decorations were completed by lighted white candles in crystal candelabra.

For the tea Rhoda wore a navy blue crepe afternoon dress with lingerie trim and a corsage of white orchids. Mrs. Medbury wore a print dress of gray and red and a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Mellon was gowned in an aquamarine dress and hat, and she also wore gardenias.
