

GARDEN FOR VICTORY

GARDEN ROUND TABLE
An enthusiastic group of Victory Gardeners gathered at the Community House Tuesday evening to hear about soil and insect control.

Mr. Porter told the essential needs of plant life and how to supply them by the use of fertilizers. As Michigan soil is apt to be low in phosphorus, a fertilizer rich in supplying this element should be used. The combination 4-10-8 was suggested, or in very small gardens, a complete plant food. For lawns, 10-6-4 was a better combination. Farmers analyze their soil and fertilize for a specific crop; in the home garden with many crops it is simpler to use one fertilizer that will supply the needs of all the crops.

Dr. Dibble gave important advice in insect control. Start with a regular schedule. The first battle against the enemy is to be waged against cut worms in a small garden, use a prepared bait, or mix a bait of a half cup of molasses and 6 lbs. of mixed with white arsenic or paragon. Scatter the bait all over plants, and use the bait before you set out young plants. This year you can not afford to buy 12 plants for yourself and 6 for the cut worms—your neighbor may want the plants. Use a regularly applied dust of pyrethrum or pyrethrum dust, starting when the plants are about an inch high, repeating in five days, then every two weeks. In large areas use a combination of 1 pound of pyrethrum and 10 pounds of kerosene (stiffed patent plaster will do). For root maggots, protect cabbage plants set out in spring with squares of tarpaper, with a hole for the plant stem. Make several sowings of radishes instead of one, so you will have 10 out of 5 sowings maggot free.

The writer spoke briefly about making a plan for a garden and urged the inclusion of some reasoning herbs to offset the common shortage.

PRINTED MATERIAL
The garden desk at Civilian Defense Service Center has pamphlets showing plans and also information on sprays and fertilizers for loaning for their own use.

Guard the Garden—Extension four 18, the insect control, brief and to the point.

Produce Your Own Vegetables—Extension folder F-11, the Home Vegetable Garden—Extension Bulletin 4 (third reprinting of 5th revision). Complete and indispensable.

Planting Time
Planting time for the semi-hardy vegetables is about now. These include beets, carrots, chard, endive, lettuce, potato, onion, etc. Wait until after May 10 to plant New Zealand spinach, beans, corn, tomato seeds.

The Civilian Defense Service Center is in the old Detroit Edison building on Pierce street, opposite the telephone exchange, phone 4014.

Track Team Trims Ypsilanti 83-20

The fast-stepping Maple Leaf track team of Ypsilanti High School scalped Ypsilanti's Roseville High at the track meet held at Ypsilanti Tuesday. By taking ten first places out of twelve and sweeping all the points in four events, the local sprinters gained 83 1/2 points to their out-clashed opponents' total of 20 1/2.

Jack Steelman paced the mile with 14 points, taking first in the 100- and 220-yard dashes, placing second in the broad jumps. To top off all this he ran a fine anchor leg in the 880-yard relay.

Jo Armstrong capped the 120-yard low hurdle event in the time of 15 seconds flat and then took the winner's spot in the broad jump with a leap of 20 feet 10 inches.

Birmingham swept the points in the mile when Gene Hadjiky Jack Hipple and Doug Groves second in that order. Fred Kaarsberg won the 440-yard dash in the time of 56.4 and Rob Carnahan and Harold Watts placed some fine kicks to take the other point winning positions for the Maples.

The grand slam idea carried into the 100-yard dash event when Jack Sloan, Doug Peterson, and Bob Murray finished one-two-three. The pole vault was completely dominated by Fred Goodrich, who took first place by a wide margin.

Frank Wangberg capped the half mile, followed by Ralph Penoyer in second place. Don Stoenberg capped the shot put with a toss of 45 feet ten inches.

Home Asparagus Provides Savings

If your Victory Garden plot is large enough, there is a plan for growing vegetables which are perennial and will be permanent fixtures in the garden.

Two important ones are asparagus and rhubarb, the former far the more important. It will last a lifetime if properly cared for.

Only a few clumps of rhubarb will be needed and they may be planted in any convenient corner of the domain, as their season of growth is long. A third perennial is the multiplier onion which gives the earliest of all growing onions and can become a garden standby and obviate the planting of sets each year.

The asparagus bed is one of the real economies computed on a cash basis that the vegetable can provide. Universally acknowledged, its purchase in the course of a season means real money. A supply of plants sufficient to cover a big bed costs less than two or three hundred of the vegetables.

Once established, your plants will always have a supply. If no other space seems convenient to give up for this purpose, the asparagus can be planted in a row along a boundary line or fence and utilized as a hedge of no mean ornamental quality later in the season.

Asparagus requires soil as rich and deep as you can make it at the start. The roots require deep and careful planting to become established with reasonable speed. They should not be closer than two feet apart. The rows with rows three or four feet apart for their best development. This plant is a heavy feeder. Dig a wide hole a foot or two deep and fill it with a mixture of soil and manure and form a mound six inches tall in the center of the hole. Set the plant on this and spread the roots out like the spokes of a wheel. Fill in the soil and firm it well and the asparagus bed is started. Do not start cutting until its second season.

The bed should be started as early as the ground can be worked to get the plants established and in vigorous growth their first season.

A great advantage of miniature golf is that in case of losing the ball you can always pick up the course and shake it.—Detroit News

Ordinance NUMBER 252 City of Birmingham Amending to Ordinance No. 224 An Ordinance to Amend Ordinance No. 116, by amending Section 6, thereof, That Section 6 of Ordinance No. 224, heretofore in effect, be and the same be amended to read as follows: Section 6. No person, firm, or corporation receiving a license under this Ordinance shall permit any disorderly conduct, or the use of any immoral, profane, or indecent language, or the use of any place of amusement or exhibition to become a place of resort for persons, or to remain in such place of amusement or exhibition shall not be held open after the hour of one-thirty o'clock in the morning of any day. PROVIDED, HOWEVER, that said place may be kept open until a later hour, for special occasions, exhibitions, when permission therefor, in writing, be obtained from the Chief of Police. The license is hereby made renewable for the carrying on of the above provisions, and any member of the board of health, or other person, who is authorized to enter the place, or to enter or exhibition to determine that the above provisions are being fully carried out.

This ordinance shall take effect immediately after the passage and upon publication thereof.

Made and passed by the Commission of the City of Birmingham this 27th day of April, A. D. 1942.

Moreland.

Forecast Deficit In School Budget

A $1,447 deficit in the school budget seems likely at the end of the school year, it was shown in the regular monthly financial report made Monday night by Business Manager Louis M. Randall.

He estimated that receipts would be $48,722. Expenses were estimated as follows: teacher and general payroll, $46,700, and accounts payable, $4,500—total, $51,200.

Tax payments are coming in better than last year. On the levy made Dec. 19, 1941, collections already total 88 per cent through-out the district, compared with 84 per cent on June 16, 1941.

Start Model Garden At Bates, Willits

Proving that a garden may be attractive as well as practical, members of the Victory Garden Committee have been hard at work for the past two weeks. Their model garden, located at the corner of Bates and Willits, is being sponsored by the Birmingham Branch of the National Farm and Garden Club.

A white picket fence has been erected around the lot. At the back of the garden evergreen trees and beds of white petunias have been planted. In front of these are four separate plots—one illustrating a summer garden, one a salad and herb garden, and the other two containing vegetables for canning and storage.
