SIXTY-FIFTH YEAR—NO. 21

THIS and THAT

By G. R. A.

Even Al Weber (Himself) Can Be Inconsistent... My good old friend, Al H. Weber, publisher of the Cheboygan, Michigan, Observer...

My good old friend, Al H. Weber, publisher of the Cheboygan, Michigan, Observer, is a fine man; he has a heart as big as the state...

Written Al (himself), on this postal card: How do you along with your Editor Chief, who feels Judge Homer Ferguson of Detroit is not legally entitled to any office...

There's grand and fine-sounding words, Al. Your premise is right, but the legal question...

But to get back to the inconsistency, as I started to say at the beginning of this column...

Of course, I can understand why Al would support the re-appointment amendment; it would have resulted in less representation...

Our U. S. Leaderless Leadership Failing... Isn't it too bad for the welfare of the United States (and therefore of the whole world)...

Gas Station Men Like New Hours... Gasoline station operators generally were reported here this week to be in a happy mood...

Tough Bluegills... City employees hardly believed their eyes this week when they saw the fish...

Shoeshining Era Appears Over In the Schools

By G. R. A.

The 1942-43 school budget was tentatively adopted by the Board of Education Tuesday night, and reveals that for the first time since pre-depression years, financed not by tax but by a shoe-shining...

Thanks to the 2 1/2 mills voted by the people early this summer, plus a mill gained when that amount was taken from the County, the millage increase will amount to 2.75...

ever, for the value of the property within the school district has increased $633,445 over last year. If the sum is shown that the increased revenue would be $56,445.34...

But to get back to the inconsistency, as I started to say at the beginning of this column...
