

Birmingham and Bloomfield Young People Preparing to Leave for College

Large Contingent to Enter M. S. C.; Many Schools Open Early This Fall

A quick look-see into the goings on of Birmingham and Bloomfield young people this week reveals that a goodly share of them are making preparations to leave for college. Many of them are going much earlier than usual this year.

Wellesley Opens Early

Patty Knowles left last evening for Wellesley College. Wellesley is beginning almost a month earlier this year, and will close down for six weeks at Christmas time—thus saving valuable fuel.

The contingent for Purdue is also leaving early—since classes there start on Wednesday, Sept. 2. Going down this week will be Dick Yalick, to be on hand for rushing at the Phi Gamma Delta house. Chuck Van Dusen, who is a Sigma Chi, plans to leave on Sunday. Phyllis Sander, a freshman there this year, is leaving today. Other new students include Chuck McCull, John Gillespie, Jim Juhl, Jean Gilbert, and Bill Kahn—only a few of course, of the many who will be going there.

State Dress

Michigan State College is drawing an unusually large number from Birmingham this year—not only because it's such a nice place to go to school, but also because it's close at hand and offers little or no transportation problem. Some of the freshmen will include Sally Carey, Girma Fellows, Sue Ayvick, Jeanne Burton, Sally Genung, and on and on. Others, some new and some returning for their second year, will be Marion Clark, Margorie Bull, Shirley Meeker, Margaret Stutton, Dick Keyes, Helen Lewis, Mary Ellen Haack, Holt Ackerman, Marcel Jean McGirr, Ginger Colgrove, and Dorothy.

Don Van Pelt and Brookie Oatman will be leaving around the middle of September for Cornell University. Eleanor Appell has made plans to attend Vassar. Eleanor Paton will go to Lawrence, while Nancy Hart and Betty Lee Hamilton have chosen Ward Beckett in the State.

At last hearing Carol Clark and Jane Ellzey had decided on Mary Washington Kask Carr and Elizabeth Doozer Cooper the Southern Seminary, and Jean Alice Potter was returning to Bryn Mawr.

U. of M. Contingent

As always a goodly number of Birminghamites will be matriculating at the University of Michigan. Included in the group are Ruth Whittlesey, Jeanne Atkinson, Barbara Edging, Mary Carthy, Barbara Houghton, Chuck Booth, Bruce Gentry, Bob Cole, Joan Badjsky, Warren Watts, Martha Meltinger, Barbara Sauer, Sue Wood, Diggins, Carrie, Bob Eade, Ed Hensell, Margaret Gardner, and of course many, many more whose names we do not have over at Kalamazoo College there will be Constance Peck, Cecelia Elch, Donald Barnett, Bob Malloy, and George Sterling. Also in Kalamazoo at Western Michigan College of Education will be Margery Jett, Paul Kelly, and Jane Fletcher, among others.

Caroline Biggers will return to Winston College at Norton, Pa. Helen Rounds will be back at Olivet, and Ginny Kallfus is going to Smith College again this year. This city will be represented at the University of Michigan by Joyce Roberts, Bruce Randall, Mary Gault, Hank Dahlgren, Boris Franklin, and Patty Burke.

Nurses Aide Evening Classes to Start Soon

Interviewing of applicants who wish to become nurses aides will begin next week, Mrs. Sheldon R. Noble, county chairman for Red Cross Volunteer services announced this week. Interviews will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings from 7 until 9 o'clock, and on Wednesday and Thursday evenings from 3 until 5 at Red Cross headquarters in Pontiac.

This is to be the first nurses' aide class here to be given in the evening. Many women, teachers, mothers with young children, business girls, have expressed a desire to be a nurse's aide, but could not, naturally, attend classes during the day. Classes will be held three evenings a week, starting at 7:30 p. m. in the middle of Sept.

There is an urgent need in all hospitals for nurses' aides. Registered nurses are a high school education, good health, and that the applicant be between 18 and 30 years of age, and last six months will be taught by Mrs. Lewis E. Daniels, of Birmingham. Upon graduation, nurses' aides have a minimum of 150 hours a year in work at hospitals.

MOEMS to Bring Records To Meeting This Evening

Members of the MOEMS Club are asked to bring photograph records, with them to the meeting this evening at 8:15 o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church. The records will be sent to army and navy service camps. Plans will also be discussed for the outfitting of a recreation room at the State Fair grounds for the 200 soldiers who have been stationed there this past week.

Mrs. Herbert H. Gardner, of Asper road, was the first member of the MOEMS Club to house a soldier overnight, under the plan whereby a soldier who is in Birmingham in the evening and has no place to stay, may go to the home of a MOEMS Club member. The police department holds a list of homes available. The Gardner's couple, but Jack Wagner, of Southern Ohio, who has been in the army about six weeks, and is stationed at Flint where he is attending a school to learn about airplane engines. He had come first to Birmingham to stay at the YMCA when he discovered there was no home.

The Gardner's enjoyed their guest and hope to be able to have another one soon. They have a young boy, Herbert H. Gardner, stationed in Australia.

Theo Club Raises Money for Stamps

Last Saturday night THEO gave a Slumber Party to raise money for defense stamps. The party, planned and conducted by Marie Baillie, Beverly and Virginia Johnstone, Nora Kolstad, and Eleanor Skuse, was held at the Johnstone home. Money was raised by fining the girls for the time it took them to get ready after being called for by stamps. This seems to be an excellent way of raising a good time and helping our country, too.

Motor Corps Volunteers Needed; Work They Do Explained

With duties for members of the Red Cross Motor Corps mounting higher and higher, the 70 volunteers already enrolled are barely enough to take care of all the work being done, according to Mrs. Hamilton H. Patterson, head of county motor corps work. One of the present projects is the starting of six staff-station wagons over at Sibley Field every day, where they are used as courtesy cars on the post—this enlisted men who formerly did such driving are freed for other more vital duties.

Then too, there is the group of women who get up early every morning to be at the six mile road in Detroit at 6 a. m. They go down there and pick up the boys who have enlisted in the army and navy but who are taking civilian pilot training, part time at the Pontiac Airport. These students are stationed at the Campus hotel, near U. of D.

When the early morning trucks started, it was discovered that no restaurants were open early enough to give the boys any breakfast—so the civilian coordinator has asked the Red Cross to do it as well. While the motor corps is on its way from Detroit with the students, the canteen corps, in the direction of Mrs. John W. Gillette, is preparing a breakfast for them out of doors at the airport.

The motor corps is also used to transport the canteen unit and it always accompanies the blood donor unit whenever a program is held.

Dalton Children Will Appear at Musicales And Tea on Friday

Alma B. Grimes, of South Bates street, is presenting two of her piano pupils, Nancy and Carson Dalton, children of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dalton, at a musicale tea to be given Friday afternoon at the Daltons' home on Puritan road. The program will include compositions by Haydn, Mozart, Beethoven, Schubert, Schumann, Brahms, Chopin, and Liszt, and will be prepared entirely from memory.

Salvage Fats Will Go Into Explosives

American kitchens are recently have been contributing the weight of more than two billion pounds of fat annually. New housewives are being urged to participate in a fat salvage campaign designed to convert kitchen refuse into explosives.

Through neighborhood leaders, the extension service of the Michigan State College, is urging the saving of excess cooking fats and arranging with meat dealers for collection. The fat is then passed on to remelters.

Waste fats should be saved and used when useful in preparing food. Seasoning, frying, baking or making greasy are logical uses. When the fat is dark and strong, or when a surplus is evident, this should be saved, kept cool and not permitted to get rancid.

Meat dealers have asked that the fat not be brought to them on weekends, as they are busy with their regular retail trade. Instead, the fat should be taken to the meat dealer earlier in the week, in quantities not less than a pound.

The salvage fat should be free of meat scraps and should not be carried to the meat dealer in glass containers, as breakage would involve danger to the handler and the glass fragments would be difficult to clean. Breakage would also cause the glass to become contaminated with fat and carrying the fat by market.

A few cents a pound will be paid for the fat, and the cost of the collection, along to the remelting firms.

FARMERS should send their waste fat to their local collection station.
