

Perhaps the best single phrase that can describe what this world war is being fought for by the United States is: "Personal freedom to progress." That phrase is akin to the statement: "The best governed nation is the least governed. I reckon that post-war returning soldiers will have something to say about that!"

SIXTY-FIFTH YEAR—NO. 19

The Birmingham Post-Herald

PART TWO

BIRMINGHAM, OAKLAND COUNTY, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, AUGUST 6, 1942

$1.50 PER YEAR (In Oakland County)—SINGLE COPIES, 5c

A Park Site For Only $8500

A natural woodland setting—a hillside and a stream—everything you've wanted, yet only a few minutes walk from the shops and bus. Besides the living room, dining room and kitchen—a real piano and music room add to the first floor charm. Each of the 4 bedrooms has cross ventilation and the master's—a lovely fireplace.

Oil heat—cost only $130 last year—a basement garage and a large well-landscaped lot make a grand total for a modest price. Shown gladly by appointment.

Start New Drive for Scrap Metal, Cans

Ask Public Save Prepared Tin Cans 'til End of Month

With the steel and tin supply getting more critical daily, a new drive to salvage these materials has been announced in Birmingham and elsewhere throughout the country.

Salvage Chairman John H. Harwood said: "May I call on the boys and girls, especially, to do a summer-time project to comb their own house and yard and call on the neighbors to get out the scrap."

pared this way: Rinse out the can, remove the label, open both ends, wash in the tops and flatten with your foot.

Waste Fats Householders are also asked to save waste fats. These should be strained and kept in a cool place until enough is accumulated to sell to a meat market man.

610 LINDEN ROAD

Its aptly demonstrated by the extraordinarily beautiful lines of this home. Fact is, too, that the interior treatment is quite as lovely as the exterior. The designer, Mr. Harry C. Muchlin, is widely known for his authentic style.

Deeply set back from the street in a park-like district, the peacefulness of the surroundings can do something for you!

There's a grand spacious master bedroom and bath; 3 other bedrooms and bath. Everything in the premises is modern up-to-the-minute. Butler's pantry, 2 car garage.

Owner's move to California is occasion for sale, needless to say you should.

Buying a Home?

A slight increase in the quotas of tea and coffee allowed Oakland County citizens was granted last week, bringing the new quota up to about 87 1/2 per cent of the quantities used during the same period of 1941.

Is there such an item of feminine wearing apparel as a red, white, and blue ensemble of slacks? A curious local male this week asked this department about it—and we had to admit that we'd never seen so glorious an assortment of habilliment—although quite an assortment of colors has been paraded hereabouts.

Oakland County voters September 16 will vote on whether they want the county sheriff, under-sheriff, clerk, treasurer, and register-deeds to work on straight

BITS OF BIRMINGHAM

This is about the time of year when that thick-matted green grass, will shoot forth tiny seeds, to sprout next year.

When Birmingham's City Commission, recently disposed of its usual Monday night meeting in 29th Street, it was recorded that week in The Eclectic.

A fellow named Galbraith, accused of beating a woman named Cranbrook property, failed to show up for his examination, so Prosecutor Charles L. Wilson, himself, went after the man, accompanied by no less than Sgt. Clark Ochs, head of the State Police post at Keokuk, Harbort.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Bissett, of Henretta street, Monday attended the funeral services, in Fremont, Ohio, of Mrs. Bissett's mother, who had passed away on Thursday of last week.

In their rounds night Birmingham police inspect doors and windows in the business section of town. Hardly a night passes but what, next morning, the police blotter records failures of owners and clerks to close windows and lock doors in more than one establishment.

Pierce Ryan and Charles Kenworthy, who operate the Birmingham Tug and Storage Co., are leaving today by plane for Chicago where they will spend the week end combining business with pleasure.

Perhaps the strength of something or other is seen in the case of the Tennessee prohibitionists, who are trying to run a race to ride on tires made of alcohol. He says he would rather walk than ride on such a product from the family of Demon Rum.

Many dogs are running at large in Birmingham these days, according to daily information of complaints registered at the police station. Some of them, when identified, are returned to their owners; others are taken to the dog pound.

John B. Minton, local Grand Trunk passenger agent, knows that kids like to "watch the trains go by." But he doesn't like to have the youngsters congregating near the station and throw stones at passing trains—which is why, Thursday of last week, he summoned police to warn kids who were doing that from the railroad bridge at East Maple avenue.

Officer Larry Kamin Thursday of last week found a bicycle being ridden by a dog owned by the owner, Howard Richards, 367 Hamilton avenue.

At 4:50 o'clock last Friday morning telephone local operators summoned Birmingham police to investigate the continual blowing horn of a parked car in the rear of the Pierce street building.

Notables on List For Wednesday Town Hall Series

Recent news of Town Hall speakers who'll be coming to the Fisher Theatre, soon at Detroit's popular Wednesday morning series promises a lecture series of unusual vitality.

As of today, August 6, 1942, the CAT BUREAU, states J. Backeridge, Jr., executive secretary of the bureau, will suspend operations for the duration of the war plus six months due to the fact that I have been drafted and will be able to be at two places at once.

Is your house too large for your family? Would you like to remodel, if necessary, part of it to provide room for a local school teacher and his wife?

Henry Timm, deck officer at Birmingham, recently completed a week's cruise on the steamer South America, which is owned by Detroit and stopping at Isle Royale, in Lake Superior, and Duluth.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. LaBelle, of LaBelle, West Maple avenue, have returned from an extensive buying trip in the East.

Notice of intention to file bankruptcy proceedings was given on Pontiac last week by Henry B. Parks, 1128 Pierce street, Fred Craven, 2131 East Maple avenue, and Katherine E. Hulse, 19400 Thirteen Mile road, according to Birmingham Credit Bureau report.

Birmingham citizens continue to telephone local police, day and night, that suspicious-looking persons, perhaps " prowlers," are in their neighborhood. In most cases, by the time the police arrive the "invader" has vanished.

That combination electrical storm and downpour of rain about two o'clock Sunday morning made Birmingham, and all of Oakland County, take on the appearance of the environment in which you must have found himself in the famous ark. A heavy wind accompanied the storm, resulting in the usual blowing down of trees, scattering of loose items about yards, etc.

The Birmingham Movers have recently acquired permits to handle long distance moving as well as their local business. The first long distance move was that of Ford H. Broad of 3247 Westchester, Beverly Hills. The Broad family moved to St. Louis, Missouri, last Monday, August third.

Frederick S.oman, who returned recently from San Diego, Calif., where he has lived for the last 1 1/2 years, lives in Park street instead of at 611 Purdy street as was stated in last week's paper.
