GIRL SOCIAL BRIEFS

Troop No. 2
Troop No. 2 is working on the regular Girl Scout first aid course.
Troop No. 7
On Monday, Dec. 21, Troop No. 7 held its Christmas party in the Scout Room at the Community House, and it was reported that members have sold 573 boxes of cookies—which is quite a record. They also made a story-book and a doll for Virginia Dare, who is confined to her home with scarlet fever.

Troop No. 9
The Scout hike to the cabin in Springdale in which the Scouts, their leaders, and the troop committee participated, was a memorable event.
The girls hiked to the cabin from Harman School with Mrs. Peluso, a member of the troop committee providing the transportation into Birmingham.
As soon as the girls arrived at their destination, they sat down to a hot supper and spent the night in the heated cabin. Upon waking in the morning, they were greeted by a breakfast prepared by several of the girls, consisting of pancakes, pancakes and more pancakes.
All in all, the Scouts had a wonderful time and are thankful to their leaders, Mrs. Kam and Mrs. Thorne, and the troop committee for making the hike possible.
Just a week after the hike, the troop committee gave a very successful get-acquainted party for the mothers and Scouts. Dancing, singing, and refreshments were the order of the day.

Lady Lumberjacks Learn Tricks

While their boy friends serve in the armed forces, these Concord, N. H., girls are learning to be sawmill workers. They're using "tricks" to pull on logs floating in the mill slip. A group of eight women is being trained by the New England Timber Sologe Corp., and it measure is successful, other mills will employ women for the "see-man" jobs.

Marilyn Bard's Engagement Told

A centerpiece of a miniature lake with two figure skaters spelling out the words "Marilyn and Bob" and the names repeated on the dessert cakes, told the news of the engagement of Marilyn Bard and Aviation Cadet Robert E. Riecks at a family dinner at the Detroit Golf Club Thursday night.
Marilyn, who is home for the Christmas holidays from Connecticut College for Women, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar L. Bard, of Detroit, and is a graduate of Kingswood.
Bob, who was unable to attend the party as he is stationed in Squantum, Mass., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Riecks of 13 Mile road, and a graduate of Colgate University where he was a member of Phi Gamma Delta. Shortly after the first of the year he will be transferred to Pensacola to complete his training in the Navy Air Corps.
The date for the wedding will be announced later.
