Joan Gray Muzzy, Ensign Lerchen Speak Vows Here

Joan Gray Muzzy and Ensign Edward Hodson Lerchen exchanged their marriage vows Sunday at 4:30 o'clock in Christ Church Cranbrook with the Rev. Charles H. Cadigan officiating. The altar was banked with white mums and tall white tapers.

Joan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Gray Muzzy, of Martell drive, and Edward is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Lerchen of West Long Lake road, and the bride's father.

The lovely bride's gown was of ivory lace fashioned with a square neckline, a slight loop skirt and long sleeves that came to a point over her hands. Her headpiece was a fingertip veil held in place by a lace bow and she carried gardenias.

Mrs. Maxwell E. Fead, of Foxcroft, groomed in blue tulle with a full skirt of fringed ruffles, matching ostrich tips with bows in her hair and carrying a fuchsia Fuji chrysanthemum, acted as matron of honor.

Mr. William G. Lerchen, Jr., was his brother's best man and Richard Wallace, Edward Wilson, William Mead and the bride's brother, Richard Muzzy, were chosen as ushers.

Mrs. Muzzy wore a brown crepe afternoon dress with a beige velvet collar, matching beige hat and a brown orchid. Mrs. Lerchen chose a green dress with brown accessories and a brown orchid.

After the reception in the Cranbrook Hill Country Club the couple left for a short honeymoon. As her going-away ensemble, the bride chose a beige gabardine suit under a short fur jacket with brown accessories and a hat of shades of rust, gold and green and trimmed with a brown veil.

The bride is a graduate of Kingswood and of Smith College where she was affiliated with Psi Epsilon. The couple plan to make their home in Williamsburg, Va.

Bride Gloria Wagnitz, Jack Erickson Wed in Ferndale

Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Zion Lutheran Church, Ferndale, Gloria Agnes Wagnitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Wagnitz of Bloomfield court, became the bride of Jack Anders Erickson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Erickson of Bonnaville avenue, with the Rev. L. H. Porter officiating.

The bride's gown was of lovely white satin which fell in a long train and dainty lace edged the sweetheart neckline and the long sleeves. The fingertip veil was held in place by clusters of glazed orange blossoms and the bridal bouquet was made up of white carnations and baby mums. Joanne Maeskill, of Birmingham, was maid of honor in a dress of two shades of green tulle with matching shades of tulle and yellow damask. Mrs. Erickson also wore yellow mums on a brown crepe dress with brown and gold accessories.

A reception was held afterward. The couple will make their home in Ferndale after the honeymoon.

The bride is the graduate of Baldwin High School and the bridegroom also attended Baldwin.

Close Friends, Relatives Weds Capt. Shealor at Holt-Kelsey Nuptials in New York City

In a wedding gown her grandmother had worn 50 years ago, Caroline Holt spoke her vows to Harry Mitchell Kelsey last Friday at a simple ceremony in the flower-bedeked home of the bride. The Rev. Warner L. Forghy read the service and only close friends and relatives were present.

Caroline is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Farrington Holt, of Linden road, and Harry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William K. Kelsey, of Grasse Point.

The bride's dress, which had not been worn since her grandmother was bride, was of ivory satin with large leg of mutton sleeves, pleated bodice and wide square necked bodice of lace, a tulle of Duchess lace held in place by tiny orange blossoms and a floor length veil was her head-dress. She carried a bouquet of white sweet peas.

Jan Holt, sister of the bride, was her only attendant. Her dress was chartruese green with a square necked bodice of lace, a wide skirt of heavy faille and bracelet length sleeves. A green orchid adorned her curls. The bride's mother chose a fuchsia dinner gown trimmed with a wide sequined belt and a matching orchid on her shoulder. Mrs. Kelsey was unable to attend her son's wedding because of her work in Washington, D. C. Carl Kessler, of Ann Arbor, was the bridegroom's best man.

The couple plan to take a short trip to Ann Arbor after the reception at the home of Mr. Kelsey does not have to return to his base.

The bride graduated from Sacred Heart convent where she was teaching this year and also from the University of Michigan where she was affiliated with Gamma Phi Beta sorority.

Mr. Kelsey is a graduate of the University of Michigan where he enlisted in the national youth journalism fraternity, Sigma Delta Chi, and is now training at the Coast Guard Academy in New London, Conn.
