Bits of Birmingham

Early last Thursday morning, J. W. Erickson, 12245 Riverwood and William Beaudin, 1339 Holland, were driving east on Maple, near Walled Lake, and they picked up one Kenneth Gordon Hay, who said he had been in an accident and could not remember where he lived. Officers here referred the man to State Police, but a check made this week with the SP failed to reveal anything further of interest.

By accident, some one raised the flag upside-down on the library pole, Thanksgiving Day. One of the post office employees righted it.

Last Wednesday and Monday, people hereabouts noticed a tiny plane so high in the sky that the frozen vapor from its engine made long white streamers in the sky—the sort of thing we've read about over the English Channel when Spitfires and Focke-wulfs fought at 30,000 feet and upwards. Could it be Charles A. Lindbergh again in the plane? He has been doing some testing at the Willow Run bomber plant.

Overheard in a camera store: "Maybe I should put in a couple dozen of film before those damn hoodlums get started!"

Eugene B. Elliott, Michigan's superintendent of public instruction, writes in the current weekly bulletin: "Every high school in Michigan should have a program of physical training NOW for every physically able boy and girl, five periods a week." Because if we have only one gym here, students get two days in the gym, one day of hygiene some day.

The City Commission set a new record Monday night when official business was completed at 8:20 p.m. The war is the reason; there's no building going on today eliminating many street, sewer, zoning and other problems.

We are permitted by the Weather Bureau to say that there was a fall of snow during last weekend. This Wanderer has not asked for permission to say so, but on his own responsibility he predicts more snow during the coming winter.

A special Thanksgiving cover for Lutheran Church bulletins on Thanksgiving Day was illustrated with a rural scene in full color, painted by a Detroit artist who used the Birmingham Lutheran Church as his model. The cover was used in all Synodical conference Lutheran churches.

We used quite a story last week about the old buggies of Jervis Wells being painted in Joe McNeal's garage. For some reason, the Detroit writer who cooked up the story forgot to mention Bert Moore, Birmingham's leading sign painter who did most of the work. In fact, Bert is an old-time buggy man and died to put on those fine stripes.

Mrs. Ernest Engel, 1629 Croft street, shot her first buck, an eight-point (200-pounder) at Grand Marais on Nov. 18 about 2 o'clock. She was so excited, she shot the deer four times and later found that all the bullets had hit him. This was the second time she had gone hunting and was accompanied by her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Smith, of Bay City. Of the 70 bucks on the boat coming back, Mrs. Engel's and Mr. Smith's were the largest. Hers weighed 200 dressed.

Postmaster Joe Byrne is seeking to rent five trucks for the holiday rush; he wants them badly. (The government ought to pay for the foregoing ad but the Postmaster says it might take until Easter to get permission to pay for it, so we might as well handle it free.) So, if you have an idle truck, see Joe.

SLIPPERY
D. H. Reynolds, 207 High street, collided Monday afternoon while driving west on Martin with a car being backed from the curb by Arthur L. Kreger. Reynolds, who damaged a fender, could not stop quickly because of the ice.

MEN IN SERVICE

AT NAVAL STATION GREAT LAKES, Ill.—Four more Birmingham, Mich., men, sworn to average Pearl Harbor, have reported to the U. S. Naval Training Station here to begin recruit training.

Here the new recruits will be physically hardened, and thoroughly schooled in the fundamentals of seamanship, and naval customs and procedure. They will be given a series of aptitude tests designed to place each man in the job for which he is best fitted.

The new Birmingham recruits are John Sherman McConnell, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. McConnell, 1255 Lamb street; Russell Kenneth Treacy, 34, husband of Mrs. Maud B. Treacy, 18155 13-Mile road; Edward John Bell, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bell, 701 Tucker road and William John Rosen, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rosen, 685 East Long Lake road.

ANTI-AIRCRAFT
Commissions in the Coast Artillery Anti-Aircraft are open to former officers who have completed mathematics up to and including trigonometry, it was announced today by Major General H. S. Aurand, commanding general of the Sixth Service Command with headquarters in Chicago.

Candidates must be physically qualified for general military service, under 35 years of age, and must be former officers of a component of the Army, the Navy, Coast Guard, graduates of the United States Naval Academy or qualified R.O.T.C. or C.M.T.C. graduates.

ONE LEAVES, TWO HOME
Garth Pearsall, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wylie Pearsall, Sr., 915 East Maple, left Monday, having enlisted in the Air Force, but before he left there were several parties in his honor. Sunday night, Pvt. Lee Pearsall, of the Field Artillery, Camp Gruber, Okla., arrived home on furlough, while

Tuesday night, Corp. Wylie, Jr., a radio operator with the sea search-attack command, Air Force, Langley Field, Va., surprised his parents by walking in the door. He expects to attend officer candidate school.

PROMOTED
Pfc. Duane A. Meeker, of the 65th medical regiment at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., has been promoted to corporal with a medical technician rating. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Meeker, of Wallace street.

IN RESERVE
Charles Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Lewis, Hawthorne road, has been accepted in the Army Aviation Reserve. He is now a student at Denison University in Granville, Ohio.

HOME ON FURLOUGH
Second Lt. Clay Herbst, Jr., recently commissioned an officer in the infantry at Fort Benning, Ga., is visiting his parents at their home on Oxford drive. He was inducted a year ago at this time.

Staff Sgt. Henry P. Potere, Jr., is visiting his parents on Villa road, home on a 10-day furlough from the Air Force flying school at Mercede, Calif., where Sgt. Potere is a dispatcher of trucks. He was inducted eight months ago.

THEY GET AHEAD
We may be prejudiced, but the editor of this column believes there are few cities whose sons have made faster progress in the armed forces. Enlisted or drafted—IT HAD MADE ANY DIFFERENCE.

ADD ENLISTMENTS
William Jean Periard, 235 Cortland, Detroit, Army Cavalry, Robert Thomas Dean, Chicago, formerly of Northwestern Highway, near Birmingham, Navy.

QUICK COURSE
Aviation Cadet John Shaffner, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Laurance Shaffner, 824 Wembleton, was inducted into the Army in July but is getting ahead fast. He has just completed a 14-week training course at Scott Field, Ill., and has been selected as one of a small group of outstanding students to remain there for a month's course which, when completed will lead immediately to a second lieutenant's commission. He will then go to Miami Beach, Fla., for further two-months of training. Hitherto, the officer candidate course has been a three-months' duration. He is engaged in Air Force communications.

SIGNAL CORPS
Pvt. Alton Harris formerly stationed at Camp Robler in Sacramento, Calif., where he drilled new recruits, has been transferred to Camp Crowder, Mo., where he will start his training Dec. 18 as a lineman in the Signal Corps. Pvt. Harris is the son of Mrs. Carrie M. Harris, of Haynes street.

10 DAYS AT HOME
Lt. L. P. Mercer, son of Mrs. L. P. Mercer, of East Maple avenue, returned to Camp Carson, Colo., last weekend after spending a 10-day leave at his home.

TO ALL OUR CUSTOMERS:

There is no shortage of electricity in this area. Other things are scarce. Tires are not to be had; a pound of coffee is a real prize; it is no disgrace to wear a well-darned stocking; there are not enough buses or street cars at the rush hour; sugar is rationed; but you can have what electricity you need, even at the electric rush hour in the early evening.

Perhaps we were just lucky: Our judgment could have been wrong; we have been wrong before. But more than five years ago we raised the money and placed the orders for the first of the three big new turbines that make us pretty sure now that electricity will not have to be rationed here.

And so it is with coal for our power houses. No shortage has developed but just the same we have enough coal on hand to last many months at full tilt if our supply should be cut off. That stock of coal cost us six million dollars but electricity is too vital a thing to take chances on.
