

Seniors in Control At Vaughan School

By JACK LAUER
Today the Senior Class of the Birmingham Hills School is taking over control. Bob Scott has been chosen to take the place of Director William Shank and will direct the activities from the school office.
During the morning Phyllis Brown will handle the regular work and will be replaced by Bobbie White during the afternoon. All classes will be taught by members of the Senior class, who will also direct the study halls and like change of physical education, noon hour activities, etc.
The school faculty will not be in the classes. Those people taking charge are: Bill Newton, Bob Green, Vernon Coover, Harold Pickerman, Marion Green, Phoebe O'Neil, White, John Williams, Margery Clark, Martha Jean Hill, Shirley Craig, Dorothy Hadden, Gladys Parden, Patsy Calkins, Jean Kirk, Barbara Gray, Pat Daniels, Phyllis Brown and Ruth Randolph.
With the end of the first semester, the terms of the Student Council representatives expire. Only the president, vice-president and secretary are retained. In a school-wide election, Gladys Parden was re-elected, defeating Shirley Craig and Sigfred Krupis. The new class representatives are: 7th grade, Eddie Proctor and Suk Anderson; 8th, Bob Lewis and Pat Sussner; 9th, Andy and Shirley Sylvester; 10th, Stanton Clarke and Mary Jane Sidway; 11th, Sigfred Krupis and Mary Toepfer; 12th, Pat Daniels and Bob Green.
The students of Vaughan are now preparing the scripts for annual amateur hour which will be held in a few weeks. Each humorist will give a short skit.
Piano Recital Held
Miss May Jrasek, teacher of the piano in the school, presented 25 Birmingham students in a recital recently. Parents and friends assembled in the Community Room of the school at two o'clock and listened to an afternoon of piano music.
Students from the kindergarten and up participated in the recital, which is tending to become an annual affair.
In the Backlog
Brown—How is your son getting on at college?
Smith—Oh, he's a halfback.
Brown—I mean in studies.
Smith—Oh, he's a long way back.

Southfield Has 600 Registered

Southfield Township, through its chairman, Lee B. Durham, reports 600 persons registered for the Civilian Defense activities.
Mrs. J. W. Diederich, registrar, is continuing to receive registrations at the Township Hall, Berg and 10 1/2-Mile roads.
The Rev. C. G. Hoffman, chairman of medical services, reports three first aid classes in progress and a fourth being formed. The Civilian Defense class has appointed Mrs. E. K. Schadt to represent the township in the class room and will be conducting at Wayne University.
Mrs. Roger Baker, Mrs. Diederich and Mrs. Schadt have completed the lectures in fire protection given under the direction of Chief Griffiths of the Birmingham Fire Department.
The following women are carrying out definite responsibilities in the defense:
Mrs. Roger Baker, Mrs. Bruce Buchanan, Mrs. L. E. Butrick, Mrs. Kenneth Clarke, Mrs. Ralph Cunningham, Mrs. D. Dickinson, Mrs. J. Earl Doy, Mrs. E. D. Dyer, Mrs. L. M. Everett, Mrs. L. L. Galea, Mrs. M. Glass, Mrs. Louis Kahn, Mrs. J. H. Kellum, Mrs. L. L. Laine, Mrs. Glenn Lewis, Mrs. Arthur Mitchell, Mrs. E. K. Schadt, Mrs. R. P. Shultz, Mrs. Ernest Zaborzyk.
The efforts of these women are being coordinated by the chairman and the Council. As registration cards are classified and classes held, women will be stationed at the various points in the township which will be able to find their places in this exciting movement of Civilian Defense. Durham said.

Teachers Borrow From Own Union
At a recent meeting of the Birmingham Teachers' Credit Union, officers and board of directors reported that the credit union is passing on loans are Miss Inez McCoy, Miss Gertrude Herrick, and Mrs. S. Dierker. The supervisory committee is made up of Mrs. Cherman Corwell, Miss Helen Swanson, and Miss Margaret Kuder.
Loans made by the Credit Union in 1941 totaled $2,345. By far the largest total is loans made for attendance at summer school. Other purposes of borrowers are to purchase automobiles, meeting insurance premiums, doctor bills, unexpected expenses, and consolidation of obligations.
The Credit Union was organized ten years ago last November with $5,000. It is subject to state laws and is under the State Banking Commission. Its books are audited annually.

DO YOU KNOW
The National Council of the Masonic Temple in Pontiac for County is costing upwards of $1,081, more than the original estimate. That additional money was found? Why doesn't Oakland County think health as important? Submitted by the Birmingham League of Women Voters.
Collision on Woodward
Wesley Clark, 242 Webster, and K. E. Cross, Roseville, both driving south on Woodward avenue Thursday, collided near Lincoln. Damages were not severe.

About Larned G. Goodrich
Scouts are the parents' friend. Birmingham Scouts may know something about the men who are the leaders in the organization, the Birmingham District Committee will, from time to time, introduce through the ranks some of these leaders. The most important individual leader of scouts in any vicinity is the District Commissioner. This is true because he, through his Neighborhood Commissioners, is the actual liaison contact with the scout groups and the Scouts themselves.
Birmingham scouts are fortunate in having a man having training experience and personality is well fitted for the job of Scout Commissioner. He is Larned G. Goodrich.

Mr. Goodrich was born in Ionia, Mich., May 30, 1908. He attended Ionia schools, graduated from Western Michigan College (formerly Western State Teachers College), where he secured his life certificate and his A. B. degree and secured his Master of Arts degree from the University of Michigan, where he was affiliated with Phi Delta Kappa. Mr. Goodrich has participated in athletics, having been a member of both the track and tennis teams in college and playing football, baseball, basketball, tennis and track during his high school days. He has also played high school athletics and assisted in Y.M.C.A. summer camp.
Mr. Goodrich's 30 years teaching experience includes classroom teaching, high school principalship and supervising. At present he is a teacher at Baldwin High School and is director of Baldwin's Y.M.C.A. group.
