Dr. Popenoe is director of the Institute of Family Relations, Los Angeles, Calif., and in addition to teaching at the University of Michigan, is author of the book, 'Safety in Marriage', published by the University of Michigan Press, 1941.

MARRIAGE (Continued from Page One) Mrs. L. F. Fletcher, newspaper editor, Detroit, said she thought that people who get married under such circumstances are crazy. A marriage now might brighten their whole lives.

Mr. Lawrence DeFoe, secretary to Edward L. Heifetz, said: "I think that people that get married under such circumstances are crazy. A marriage now might brighten their whole lives."

Dr. Herman L. Shikler, superintendent of schools: "Like most anything else, it depends on the circumstances. From a general point of view, however, I would say that too many changes can occur. One can live a whole life-time during one battle."

Mr. Charles P. Stead, assistant treasurer of the Community House: "I really don't approve of a marriage under such circumstances. However, I realize how difficult it is for young people—they are at an age when it is natural and normal for them to be marrying and bringing up families."

DEFENSE (Continued from Page One) The east side of the city, and the west side of the city. Each of the 15 zones will have a zone warden, and two senior post wardens in each zone.
