

Baldwin Basketeers To Play Hazel Park

By PAUL KELLY

With hope of adding another average of 21 points a game, Hazel Park is feared for the speed and remarkable eye for the basket.

Birmingham High School seniors will welcome a fast traveling Hazel Park team Friday, Jan. 30, at 8:00 at Baldwin gym.

Last week, playing before a small crowd of loyalists, the Birmingham basketeers were handed a defeat by the sprawling Toledo Macomber quintet in a fast, thrilling game which ended 33-22. This defeat was the final loss in an against five wins for the Maples so far this year.

Record Similar

The Hazel Park team enjoys a similar record, having lost three and won four of their games this season. As the records show, the teams are evenly matched and the game should be one of the best of the season.

The invaders will place most of their hopes on their star center, Jack Scott, a veteran, one of four lettermen left from last year's team. He is this year's scoring ace and was one of the main reasons for the defeat Baldwin suffered at the hands of Hazel Park last year. Scott has the amazing

Baldwin Succumbs In Heart-Breaker

By FRANK KANE

In the last 30 seconds of a thrillingly fast quarter, a long shot from the center of the floor handed Birmingham's cagers a 28-22 defeat by Toledo Macomber High last Saturday night on the Maples' court.

The starting quint of fate made the defeat one of the bitterest in years as Paul Kelly, Maple guard, sank another long shot suddenly, roughly with the final gun, only to hear Ferrelle Collins declare the ball invalid because the timer had informed him that the gun had jammed and had barked after local playing time had expired.

Starting Teams

The starting team for Birmingham will be Ted Carson and Stan Peterson, guards; Jack Steelman and Jo Armstrong, forwards; and Dennis Therian, center.

The sixth graders are making a history movie. They have a newspaper with Bill Robertson as editor assisted by Bill Pratt. Adviser is Miss Elizabeth Reynolds.

Sports Showup

By RAY DENNIS

Eight graders played five victories and three defeats. At first glance, this slate seems most impressive for a basketball team. But let's look at the record. Victories have been gained from Kings Harbor, Cranbrook, Lincoln Park, Plymouth, and Ford Trade School. Defeat has been suffered from Cranbrook, Oak, and Toledo Macomber, all large class A schools, the latter having an enrollment of 3,000 students.

The Maples have scored 254 points, as have their opponents. One of the most serious faults of the team has been their lack of luck at the free throw line. Only 64 free throws have been made out of 135 attempts. There can be no complaint against Jo Armstrong for this reason, as Jo has hit the hoop 12 times out of 14 attempts.

Dennis Therian has scored twice as many points as any other Maple player this season, with 78 points on 40 shots. He has scored free throws out of 29 attempts. Therian's closest competitor is Paul Kelly with 22 points. Therian has only two more games to play for Baldwin.

Future opponents of Baldwin not far off yet last week

Lincoln Park, Toledo Macomber and Pontiac fell to Saeinac Arthur Hill 30-28. Ferrelle won its first victory in seven starts, downing East Detroit 24-10. Ferrelle, East Detroit, Roseville, and Pontiac remain on the Maple's basket ball schedule.

THE STORY OF ELECTRICITY

Number Two in a series published by The Detroit Edison Company

For more than 2,000 years after Thales' experiments with amber and lodestone, his discoveries lay dormant. No one recognized their great importance and significance, or troubled to follow them further. Not until the year 1600, in the reign of Queen Elizabeth of England, was the thread of electrical knowledge again picked up.

Dr. William Gilbert, Physician in Ordinary to the Queen, was a far from ordinary person. A doctor by profession, he performed and recorded so many experiments with "electrics" that his observations were published in a book, "De Magnete." This monumental work represented 17 years of study and research, and is a magnificent example of inductive philosophy. Written with the "inquiring mind" of a scientist, Gilbert's book laid the foundation of the whole science of magnetism as we know it today. Queen Elizabeth and her Court were so interested in his demonstrations that he was granted a pension of £100 a year to further his studies.

Gilbert took up the study of amber, and showed that its power of attraction was common to many other materials: glass, resin, sulphur, rock crystal, sapphires, diamonds. These substances he called "electrics." He also showed that the earth itself is a giant magnet, and that this explained the behaviour of the magnetic compass. He used a sphere of lodestone to demonstrate the earth's magnetism. He also devised the "versorium," a light needle or pointer mounted on a pivot for detecting electric charges. The Great Fire of 1666 destroyed nearly all of Gilbert's instruments.
