

RECREATION

School, with Jim Vaughn and Ann Sears, Quarton Play Center-supervisors, acting as host and hostess, and Mrs. Wilbur L. Johnstone as chairman of the adult committee. Ray Dennis, Holy Name supervisor, will be in charge of the refreshment booth, and Johnstone and Salisbury will furnish the music. A simplified version of La Conga will be demonstrated, in addition to the usual program of up-to-the-minute street and hot swing numbers. Another feature this week will be the old-fashioned square dance led by Ernest Morrow, in which dancers of all ages will be invited to join.

Dancers interested in assisting in Friday evening's square dancing are urged by Mrs. Johnstone to attend a special rehearsal lesson tonight, Thursday, July 18, on the Kroger parking lot at the corner of Willis and Woodward streets. Mr. Morrow will direct the group, and special recordings amplified through Ted Johnston's loud speaker will furnish the music.

Torrey Group Busy
The Torrey Neighbors, the organization formed last fall by residents of southeast Birmingham, are busy with their weekly magazine, "The Torrey Neighbors," which is published by the group. The magazine is a weekly publication, and is published by the group. The magazine is a weekly publication, and is published by the group.

PAPER SALVAGE BULLETIN
Use further notice, bring only magazines, newspapers and card-board to the paper salvage depot, Hunter Boulevard at E. Maple, separated according to kind and tied firmly in bundles. Ordinary waste scrap has dropped to 33 per cent, and look through your attic for paper salvage. The net proceeds from all paper salvage to the depot continue to be used to help support the Summer Recreation Program, so look through your attic once more for old magazines to bring with your current discarded papers. Keep coming weekly with your newspapers and card-board. Remember—BURN NO SCRAP!

Members of Board

Members are as follows:

Richard Gregory, Tim Reed, Deborah Beanson, Duane Kaiser, James Hackett, Robert Brown, Sally Buck, Bob Pruitt, Henry Pizer, Richard A. Adams, John Knott, Russell Blaisius, Harris Jackson, Clark Rogers.

Chairman Earl Boyd. Last week, as a voluntary service, Barney Campbell, committee member, Bill Smith, Marlyn Kreger, Hugh pledged needed repairs on Recreation Commission equipment at the center, including the four chain saws. This involved the removal of a quantity of heavy pipe and fittings for repair, as well as the replacement of four seats and two sets of chains, taking in all four hours of work. The Torrey Neighbors' contribution paid the bill for materials.

A donkey softball game will be sponsored by the Torrey Neighbors July 20 as a money-raising project for their community recreation work, at Torrey Play Center. Details on ticket sales and committees will be announced next week.

Plans Next Week
Special play center plans next week include a bike tournament at Quarton; a boys' soft-ball game between Pierce and Torrey teams; and a girls' picnic hike July 23, from Pierce. Adams plans a picnic for Wednesday, July 23, and Holy Name is scheduling a trip July 22 to the Baldwin Public Library to get cards for those who have none and to familiarize children with the library in general. Barnum Play Center plans hikes for all for Thursday, July 16, the girls visiting Baldwin Library while the boys will bring their lunches and hike to waterworks park.

Mrs. Jacqueline Schaefer, pool director, reports that both the boys' and girls' groups of the beginners' class are learning to dive, and adds that the girls are making more rapid progress than the boys at present. In the intermediate classes, races and relays are now being held to practice new strokes learned.

All swimming groups are open to the public, a season fee of 30 cents being charged for admission to the afternoon classes of children up to 18; while a $2 family pass admits to the evening adult periods for men, women and mixed groups. These latter passes, Citizens' adult swims, may be used to admit a group of friends or a special party, as well as single swimmers.

JAMES O'CASSIDY—THE IRISH NOVELIST—DOES NOT SPEAK OR WRITE ENGLISH—KNOWS ONLY GAELIC—ALTHOUGH HIS BOOKS HAVE BEEN PUBLISHED ONLY IN ENGLISH!

Mr. O' Cassidy has never been to school. One day in 1929 he visited London, carried with him his manuscript which he had prepared. They were accepted at once, translated into English.

THIS AND THAT
I'm not complaining that you folks in high governmental places stay up nights to figure out ways to make other races and nationalities bitter enemies of our own people. Neither am I saying that the leaders of every other nation do likewise. I am just trying to say, Gentlemen, is that you folks in Washington, (indeed in every State government), declare in every political campaign, regardless of your party, that you can deliver to us Citizens ad taxpayers four hundred—More or less—kinds of grand Utopia. If only will vote you into office. And then most of you fail us. Oh, I know that tremendous forces are at work the whole world over; some beyond your official control; but there are some things you can do. Office to make this world much better. Among them, Gentlemen, are the practice of personal and public honesty. Of calling a halt right now to "Politics as usual."

I am an American Mother, proud to be the cornerstone of what we're fighting. For these days to save, I've found that the building of a home is not unlike the raising of a nation, and the simple Decencies of policies that make a home substantial can be used to make our Nation great and strong. You men in lofty places in affairs of State, have not forgotten simple teachings and examples that were nurtured in your homes; Apply them now! They are the strong foundation stones in building against the flood of evil that now sweeps the world. I am an American Mother—and I speak for Millions like me. Heed my warning And restore to all your people Stronger confidence in that great Declaration that our nation's sound On "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness!" Or else, Gentlemen, ... or else ... G. R. A.

A list of 34 general occupations are being prepared covering the essential occupations. Another provision is that local boards will coordinate their reclassification so that neighboring localities will call men in the same categories at the same time. Birmingham, for example, might otherwise have to start calling married men before other places because there is a lesser proportion of single men here.

The local draft board was notified Wednesday that the school should leave the Birmingham railroad station on the 2:12 p. m. train July 24. John I. Church will be acting corporal in charge of

Oil for Streets Frozen by WPB

The War Production Board has frozen further shipments of street oil. City Manager Ebert reported Monday night, adding that he hoped to complete all current projects, the principal one being Yosemite avenue. Whether the restriction will be lifted to permit shipment

HEARING CONTINUES

The Lathrup Townsite injunction case was continued in Circuit Court this week but may end today. Residents seek to enjoin Mrs. Louise Lathrup Kelley from building 50 homes along Southfield road.

Call: Do you think the senator puts enough fire into his speech?

Call: My opinion is he did not put enough of his speech into the fire.

Lopez lives in Royal Oak and has two children, Joan, who is 2, and Carol, 6. He is familiar with Birmingham since he courted his wife here on the banks of the Rouge river. The reason this picture was not finished long ago is that Lopez was one of eight artists designated this year to paint pictures of activity in war plants. Lopez was assigned to the Detroit area. These paintings have been on display in Washington, D. C. and will be on exhibit in Detroit in the Art Institute around Sept. 12.
