stephanotis tiara held in place her long length veil of illusion. The bride and groom were married by Rev. Van Harteveldt, of Bay Shore, Long Island, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was given a bouquet of white roses and a full circular skirt. She carried an unusual arm bouquet of African daisies, pale yellow roses, and green ivy, tied with yellow ribbon. The yellow was repeated again in a tiera of African daisies for her hair.

Roy V. Kaiser, of Dearborn, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Mrs. Strand chose a gown of ashes of roses, fashioned with a light-colored military skirt, for her daughter's wedding. She wore a purple orchid at her shoulder.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at which the bride and bridegroom cut the wedding cake with a military sash. The bride's table was centered with an arrangement of white flowers flanked on either side by white tapers in crystal candelabra.

When leaving for Camp Davis, N. C., the bride was wearing a silk jersey dress of large yellow and white print against a pale gray background. With this she wore a small yellow hat, carried a yellow top coat, and her other accessories were white, including her white orchid. Lieut. and Mrs. Kaiser will be at home at Wilmington, N. C., near Camp Davis, where Lieut. Kaiser is serving as an instructor in anti-aircraft.

Out of town guests included the bride's grandaunt, Ernest De Young and her niece, Martin J. DeYoung, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Holman, Mrs. Roy S. Young, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dunn, all of Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Hagner, of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Burns Roensch, of Houston, Texas.
