Martin-Coss Vows Repeated Sunday

An informal wedding took place Sunday afternoon, March 8, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Martin when Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Martin, became the bride of Olin W. Coss, of Crescent Lake, son of Mr. Carrie Coss of Htica, Mich. The Rev. Dan B. Johnson officiated at 2 o'clock in the afternoon before an improvised altar banked with white stock and ferns. Miss Martin was given in marriage by her father.

The bride wore a street-length gown of navy blue and pink crepe, a pompadour hat of matching pink, draped with a short blue veil. Her corsage was of blue forget-me-nots, white freesias, and pale pink sweet peas, centered by gardenias. Mrs. Vesta Martin, of Wyandotte, was the only attendant for her sister and wore an afternoon frock of blue crepe, and a corsage of forget-me-nots and gardenias. "O Promise Me" was sung by another sister, Beulah Martin, who came from Michigan State Normal. For the occasion the wedding march was played by the bride's mother, who was wearing a dress of black crepe with white accessories and a gardenia corsage. Mrs. Coss was dressed in navy blue and white and also had gardenias.

Twenty-five friends and members of the immediate family witnessed the ceremony, which was followed by a wedding reception. Mr. and Mrs. Coss left for a week's trip to Toledo.

Eleanor Allen Wears White Organdy For Marriage to Lt. Hiram P. Todd

A charming home wedding took place last Saturday afternoon when Eleanor Clizbe Allen and Lt. Hiram P. Todd repeated their nuptial vows in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allen, on West Maple avenue. Lt. Todd is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram P. Todd, of Memphis, Tenn. Dr. W. Glen Harris read the services before an improvised altar which was banked with bouquets of white tulips, stock, and gladi.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white organdy, a replica of a Givley print. Her floor length skirt was very full, the fitted bodice was distinguished by a high neckline with a small round collar and full sleeves gathered in at the wrists. Her faulte basque jacket was fashioned with bell-shaped sleeves and was fastened up the front with tiny buttons. A Juliet cap of organza held Eleanor's shoulder length tulle veil in place. The bridal bouquet was of bouvardia, centered with white carnations. Lt. Todd's boutonniere was an antique cameo brooch which had belonged to her maternal great-grandmother, Richardson, a pioneer in Birmingham. Former college roommate of the bride, Edith Alston, of Ann Arbor, was maid-of-honor and only attendant. Her bouffant gown of sea foam marquisette was made with a long waisted bodice and trimmed with scrolls of Valenciennes lace, round neckline, and short, puffed sleeves. Miss Eleanor wore a bandeau of blue flowers in her hair and carried a bouquet of autumn lilies. Lt. Todd's brother, Edwin, was best man, and guests were ushered by the bride's brother, James C. Allen. Ruth Peritt played the wedding march. Mrs. Allen chose a novelty hair chignon gown with a silk jacket of the same shade for the occasion. Her flowers were pink carnations. Mrs. Todd wore navy blue with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations. An informal reception followed the wedding ceremony after which the young couple left for a week's stay in Chicago before going on to Fort Sheridan where Lt. Todd is stationed. When leaving the bride wore a three-piece suit of bright navy blue, the topcoat being collared racoon. Completing her costume was a gray hat and matching accessories. Out of town guests included Mrs. Todd from Memphis, Edwin Todd, of New York City, Jane Lord, of Evanston, Ill., and Beulah Winstell, of Fort Thomas, Ky.

Unsworth-Wood Vows Exchanged

Edith Unsworth, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Unsworth, of Edgewood drive, became the bride of Vernon Lee Wood, of Detroit, Saturday afternoon at a ceremony performed by the Rev. Carroll McKay at the Hope Lutheran Church in Detroit. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Wynne Wood, of Hutchinson, Kan. The bride wore a green silk afternoon gown with blue accessories and a corsage of gardenias. For her wedding, Mrs. William Unsworth, matron of honor, wore a street length frock of gray and wine silk print, black accessories, and a corsage of white saxa peaches and red roses. Mrs. Unsworth chose a dress of brown crepe with huge accessories and a corsage of talisman roses for her daughter's wedding. William Unsworth was the best man.

Following the ceremony the bridal party and wedding guests were entertained at dinner at the Atlantic Gardens in Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Wood left on a short wedding trip, destination unknown.

Shirley Busby and Herb Poppleton have decided on Saturday, April 4, as the day for their marriage, which is to take place at 7 o'clock in the evening at the First Presbyterian Church. Shirley has already asked Catherine Haefner to be her maid of honor, while Bill spinning will be the best man. Ushers are to be Art Miller and Jim Bickford. Parties are to be in full swing for Shirley who has been staying with her sister, Mrs. Harry W. McDonald this winter while her parents are in Florida. Last evening Jean McKinney honored the bride-elect at a kitchen shower in her home on Puritan road. Next Tuesday evening, March 17, Dorothy Prussing is giving a dinner party and pantry shower for Shirley, and for the following evening Madeline Pease has planned a bathroom shower. Shirley Smith is giving an evening party and personal shower at her home during the following week, and Elvada Medbury is to fete the popular bride-elect on Thursday, March 26.

Barbara B. Sears, Irving Billheimer To Wed Today

There was much excitement this week at the Clinton B. Sears home, when their daughter Barbara flew up from Cincinnati with the news that she was going to be married on Thursday. The young man is Irving Tomey Billheimer, of Cincinnati, son of Mrs. Irving K.

Barbara had made tentative plans for a wedding later on in the spring, but decided in a hurry to take the big step now. The ceremony, which is to be a very simple one, will take place this afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Sears' home on Springdale avenue. Guests will include only close friends and members of the immediate families. Dr. W. Glen Harris will read the nuptial services. Betty Sears drove up from Sanibel Island, Fla. this week to be the maid of honor for her sister, and Jack Rullen is coming in from Chicago to be the best man. Other out of town guests will include Miss Isabel Sears, Miss Ruth Sears, Miss Helen Colyn, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sears, all of Cincinnati. Following the ceremony there will be a reception after which the young couple will leave for a Southern wedding trip. They plan to make their home in Cincinnati, Ohio. Mrs. Richard Kalbfus entertained in honor of Barb and Mr. Billheimer at a cocktail party last evening in her home. This noon Mrs. Louis Harral is giving a luncheon for the bridal couple members of the family, and out of town wedding guests.
