Only One Boy Wins In Barnum Bees

The only boy at Barnum to win a grade spelling bee this year, Teddy Laird, won the seventh grade bee on "attendance," defeating Ruth Kadell.

The word "aquarium" won the eighth grade bee for Barbara Westerby when she triumphed over Bill Tomlinson and Betty Smith.

Barbara Hughes became a champion for the first time as she spelled down the rest of the fifth grade. In a tense sixth grade bee, Ann Lundberg won her second dictionary on the word "excellent."

The school bees, in which the grade teams will compete, will be held early in April.

SEE BASKETBALL STARS

Recently the Baldwin basketball team, accompanied by several students and parents, attended the triple-header Parade of Champions at Olympia, Detroit.

Those attending were Jo Armstrong, Dick Hopkins, S. M. Hopkins, Stan Peterson, G. G. Steelman, Jack Steelman, Fred Zoellin, Jr., Fred Zoellin, Sr., Tom Zoellin, Doug Groves, Don Little, Jim Young, Harold Kelley, Paul Kelley, Tom Wells, Bob Murray.

Bob Hopper, Newell Wright, Bob Moody, Frank Wangberg, Ted Corson, and Henry Dahlquist.

CAR SKIDS

West Maple was very slippery Monday morning and one car slid off the road. W. T. Cushing, 355 Manor road, going east at 8:20 a. m. slowed for the cars ahead of him, and as he did so, Raymond F. Bethard, 1844 South Woodward, following behind, slid into Cushing's car, causing damage estimated at $10.

Patience

can be Patriotic, too . . .

PROBABLY at some time or other you have phoned The Detroit Edison Company for trouble service—when a fuse burned out or your electric iron required a new heating unit or some minor appliance needed repair. On more than 90 per cent of these calls, a Detroit Edison serviceman arrives at the customer's house within the hour. Promptness on trouble calls is important: Customers often comment favorably on the speed of our service.

Now our Nation is at war. Rubber tires and other critical materials are being rationed. Some of our experienced men in various departments—including repair and delivery—are leaving for the armed forces. One way we are trying to meet the situation is by routing customer calls . . . that is, by grouping all the calls in a certain area so that ONE serviceman can handle these in a single trip. This saves cars, tires, man-hours, gasoline—although you may have to wait a little longer for the Edison serviceman to arrive.

And—although it's surely older than this war, the one about the sentry who, hearing a footstep in the dark, cried: "Halt! Who's there?"

Came the answer: "An American."

Sentry: "Advance, American, and recite the second verse of 'The Star Spangled Banned.'"

"I don't know it."

Sentry: "Pass American!"—Minneapolis Star-Journal.

K. T. Keller to Talk At Cranbrook Fete

On Friday evening, March 14, Cranbrook School will hold its winter season athletic dinner at which the school's basketball, wrestling, fencing, and hockey teams will be honored. The dinner, which is held in the school dining hall, will be attended by all the students and teachers. There will also be several special guests.

The evening's program will be opened with introductory remarks by Dr. Rudolph D. Lindquist, headmaster. He will be followed by E. E. Raymond, basketball coach, F. Philler Curtis, fencing coach, Bruce N. Coulter, hockey coach, and Vernon B. Kellett, wrestling coach, all of whom will briefly summarize the successes and failures of their respective activities. Paul A. Thompson, director of athletics, will then award letters to the boys on the various teams. The singing of the Cranbrook School Hymn will conclude this portion of the program.

At eight o'clock in the evening the students, teachers, fathers, alumni and guests will assemble in the Auditorium for the second half of the program. After a few selections by the Cranbrook orchestra, Dr. Lindquist will introduce K. T. Keller, President of the Chrysler Corporation, who will speak briefly.

He will be followed by Dr. Carroll Sibley, author and lesturer, who will speak on "Careers for Youth."

Win at Tournament

Cranbrook School's rejuvenated basketball team won the State Tournament district playoffs for B class high schools last week in three hectic games. The Crane team, composed entirely of juniors and sophomores, won its first game of the series against Walled Lake by a slim 19 to 16 margin. Acting captain Jim Taylor of Birmingham was the spark plug of the combination and accounted for 10 of Cranbrook's 19 points.

On Friday evening Cranbrook went into the game with Farmington which was generally expected to hand the Bloomfield Hills boys a sound drubbing. Taylor of Cranbrook again came through brilliantly, leading his boys to a 25-23 victory. Herb Buckner, Dick Cushing, and Merril Hunter gave him lots of help in a game that held both players and spectators tense until the final gun.

Saturday night's game against Fenton started off easily for Cranbrook and gave them a 12-3 lead at half time. During the second half, Fenton led by Heemstra and Swarle put on the heat and pressed Cranbrook hard to the end. At the end of game time Cranbrook was leading 20 to 19, but the referee called a technical foul on Cranbrook, but Fenton missed the shot, leaving the final score 20-19.

The Cranbrook team will play its next game in the State tournament against the winner of Thursday night's game at Ypsilanti on Friday night.

Wrestling Record

Cranbrook School's wrestling team under Coach Vernon B. Kellett finished the season with five wins and three defeats. In addition to the regular schedule, the team placed men in the tournaments.

BALDWIN HI-LIGHTS

By ANN NONIMOUS

Hi, Kids,

Again in the basketball game was one of the big highlights of this week-end. Sorry to say it, but many a hot temper was flashed at the tough opponents for creaming a couple of our own B'hamites, namely, Steelman and Armstrong. Another season has passed and the boys will soon be even more in the limelight sporting their letters.

Saturday night, though muddy, turned out a fat success at the Village Players. Yep, another big dance. This time twas called The Blackout. For 20 minutes we all devoted ourselves to practice for an air raid. Lights were completely extinguished and the kids "made believe." The only difference between this and a real one was that the guys and gals weren't at all afraid, and actually seemed to be enjoying it. Somehow, they all found something to do that was very useful.

During the rest of the dance, huge lights were spotted at the murals on the wall. Bill McCall, the electrical genius spent most of his evening hanging on the beams fixing the spots "just so."

We were a little afraid Annette Stanley might get burned sitting on the footlights. Nothing happened, and all went well while her date Jack Paridee devoted his evening to making records of Tommy Maskill's orchestra.

We found Jack McCormick and Fletcher Plant busily buzzing around seeing that everyone had paid. Marge and Nancy didn't seem to be quite so enthusiastic about the escapade.

"Kate" Kemp and Pat Patterson, who are recently getting to be a habit, were enjoying themselves a lot.

The stag line was long enough to hang any poor chap who brought a date. Those boys always go over big with the gals, and Saturday night was no exception. We'll give Al Valpey, Andy Spiegel, Percy Guest, and Norm Porter most of the credit, and Bill Roberts, Al Jones, and Andy Burlingame the rest.

Dick Charleton, another dashing young stag, carried on the hottest jitterbug session in Ye Ol' B'ham center. The only trouble was that we all had to strike a match to see him, for 'twas during the fatal hour of the Blackout.

George Sterling tried his hand at Mary Bronson. Our guess is that he was impressed. Right, George?

Mattice Fritz had a job on her hands—Hank Dahlquist! Yep, he was as wild and woolly as ever.

The dance ended all too soon, but most of the gang resorted to refreshments to round out the evening.

Next week-end the girls will dominate once more. That's right, another Topsy Turvy dance. We'll see you then, gals, and don't forget to sharpen your claws.

So long, ANNIE

Rotarians Selling Seals for Children

Birmingham Rotarians last Tuesday began their annual campaign of selling Easter Seals, the proceeds of which are used to carry on work for crippled children in Oakland County and the State of Michigan. Each Rotarian will be designated a certain number of local people to canvass, and the campaign will run until April 5, according to Ralph I. Coryell, chairman of the Birmingham committee.

Assisting Mr. Coryell are Rotarians Howard R. Estes, in charge of sales; Oscar P. Peterson, treasurer; George R. Averill, publicity; and Dr. George E. Marin, president of the Club. Other members of the club are active in the selling of the seals.

At the Club's meeting last Monday William H. Wilmot, Pontiac Rotarian and president of the Oakland County Chapter of the Michigan Society for Crippled Children, spoke on the various activities of the organization in Oakland County. He stated that nearly 400 children are being aided in physical restoration, to the end that they may become self-supporting citizens.
