Like everyone else we are "MAKING THINGS DO"

to conserve materials for the war effort!

HOE BRISTLES for paint brushes (largely imported from China) ... tungsten (most of our supply comes over the Burma Road) ... rope (Manila hemp) and ligplap. These are just a few of the hard-to-get items that are now on the restricted list of materials needed for the war effort. Few people realize how long that list now is. It includes in addition to such well-known things as rubber and copper and aluminum—many steel alloys (containing manganese, chromium, molybdenum, nickel, cobalt), chlorine, tin, antimony, magnesium, cadmium, mercury, zinc. There are dozens of other critical materials.

Here in the Edison Company, we are pursuing a policy of "making things do" ... and of using substitutes wherever possible. We formerly built our farm lines of aluminum. When the shortage in aluminum developed over a year ago, we switched to copper. Now that copper is scarce, line extensions can't be made out on government priorities orders. So it goes all along the list.

We are using malleable iron castings instead of bronze, steel rods instead of brass on circuit breaker repair work. In our motor boxes, the "sleeving" on test leads is made of varnished cardboard instead of rubber. Even in major plant additions, we are making necessary design changes necessitated by shortage of critical materials. These are a few of the ways we are cooperating with the nation's war effort.

When it was known that General Pershing has a prize man, one who was surprised that he had that "statement" which has often been repeated. The army cannot save the nation; the navy cannot save the nation; the air force cannot save the nation. Nothing that multiplying Sunday Schools until they are as thick as schoolhouses will save America.

There are 24,000,000 people who never learn our American people. There are 47,000,000 people and adolescents who have never been taught to pray. We are teaching and teaching this vast army of ignorant people. We are teaching them to pray by keeping the prayer-books Sunday.

Procession of Palms In Christ Church Sunday at 4 p. m.

The traditional Palm Sunday Festival service will be held at Christ Church Cranbrook next Sunday, March 29, at 4 p. m. This service has a great appeal to parents and children because of the traditional procession of palms. The flags of many lands will be used in the procession along with the church banner. This colorful procession will be led by four choirs—the red, the blue, the boy choir and the purple choir. These choirs include a total of more than 110 children and young people. They will sing two anthems: "Bach's 'O Saviour Sweet'" and "My Blessing" by Teichow.

The assistant rector, the Rev. William C. Hamby, will give a short address for this occasion. At the close of the service the congregation will be invited to a procession of palms following the choir.

MRS. THOMAS M. CUMMINGS of Woodlake road, will be hostess to the members of her bridge club next Tuesday at luncheon in her home. Her guests will include Mrs. L. Clayton Hill, Mrs. James J. Vaughan Bowlers Will End Season

With this afternoon's session, the bowling season of 1941-1942 will come to an end for the bowling teams of Bloomfield Hills School. The a t e n d a n c e has dropped off slightly with each of the last two times and it is figured that with the warm spring weather, the students will want to stay outside and at four o'clock next Thursday afternoon, spring vacation will begin.

Kenneth Mills, English teacher at the school, will not be inducted into the army until spring vacation. This will enable him to be at the spring dance of the Junior class, of which he is home-room teacher, and also for the school's open house which will be held Monday and in which some of his classes will give exhibits.

At the open house, to take place Monday evening, the students of the school will display some of their work. Some of the members of the economics class will give short current-events talks while others are making charts for use in illustrating the lectures. During the course of the evening, Boy Scouts of troop B-6 will be being later on the school's bales.

White, school paper, distributed ballots to the members of the high school on which were listed the various features of the "perfect boy" and "perfect girl." After each, the student listed the boy or girl who in his opinion best fulfilled that quality. The results are to be announced in the next issue of the Blue and White.

The Whole Town is Sending EASTER CARDS They're Getting Them at La BELLE'S

★ ★ ★ PRACTICE SAFETY IN THE HOME

Your modern range enables you to follow our food authorities' vitamin-saving, waterless cooking method so that you can serve better, more nourishing foods. Your modern refrigerator keeps foods and leftovers safe. Now you can take another big step toward winning this war by helping to decrease the number of accidents that occur in the American home each year!

Would you believe that the deaths caused by accidents in the home last year were nearly equal to the number of deaths due to motor vehicle accidents? Think of it, nearly 32,000 deaths last year, but still more surprising is the fact that home accidents cause four times more disabling injuries than did auto accidents.

Let's put an end to all this grief and expense by guarding against many of these unnecessary accidents, by practicing greater safety in the home this year. There are a great many "Doses and Don'ts" for "Home Safety."
