Church Rites Unite Virginia Drury, Ensign W. D. Biggers on Monday Eve

Virginia Drury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Drury, of Ann Arbor, and Ensign William D. Biggers, of Pensacola, Fla., repeated their nuptial vows on Monday evening at a candle light service read by the Rev. C. W. Brashares in the Ann Arbor Methodist Church. Ensign Biggers is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Biggers of Old Salem Court, Bloomfield Hills.

The petite bride chose a charming wedding gown of white marquisette over white slipper satin, fashioned with a voluminous hoop skirt and a long waisted bodice which buttoned all the way up the back. The square neckline was edged with Valenciennes lace—the cap she wore having been made of a piece of lace from her mother's wedding dress. On either side of the cap were clusters of freesia. Her tulle veil was of fingertip length and she carried a bridal bouquet of white iris, freesia, and johanna hill roses in a shower arangement.

Virginia's maid of honor and her former college roommate, Jane Baits, of Grosse Pointe, wore a gown of Wedgewood blue marquisette over taffeta, made with a shirred bodice, bishop sleeves, and bouffant skirt. Her small pillbox cap was of fresh flowers in shades of blue, while her bouquet was of vari-colored spring flowers.

Clark Collins, of Birmingham attended the bridegroom as best man. Ushers were Richard Drury, brother of the bride, James Rae, of Toledo, Frederick Adams, of Birmingham, and Hugh Head, of Fort Thomas, Ky.

For her son's wedding Mrs. Biggers chose a gown of black lace, black accessories, and a corsage of deep coral camellias. Mrs. Drury wore a gray dress, accented by American beauty red accessories, and a corsage of tiger lilies.

Approximately 100 guests attended the reception at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. The young couple left by motor for their home in Pensacola, via the Smoky Mountains. For traveling young Mrs. Biggers wore a suit of beige gabardine, black accessories, and a corsage of white iris taken from her wedding bouquet.

Dorothy Roosevelt Featured Pianist at Concert Tuesday

Featured on the third concert of the series presented at the Jewish Community Center, Tuesday, March 31, by the Michigan WPA Symphony Orchestra under Valter Poole, will be Dorothy Kemp Roosevelt, of Birmingham, and Marguerite Kozenn, soprano.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who is the sister-in-law of Eleanor Roosevelt, has studied both piano and violin with the best teachers in Detroit and New York. Eventually the piano became her major interest. In 1922 she studied at Fontainbleau with Isador Phillipe.

Mrs. Roosevelt has appeared as soloist with the National Symphony Orchestra in Washington, D. C., the White House in Washington, the Detroit Federal Orchestra at Grosse Pointe and Cranbrook, the Women's City Club of Detroit, the Thursday Musicale in Birmingham, the Pontiac Music Club, and the Port Huron Music Club.

In 1940 Mrs. Roosevelt left the concert stage to become State Supervisor of the Michigan WPA Music Project, which at that time totaled almost one thousand professional musicians. Shortly thereafter she was appointed State Supervisor of all of the Public Activities Section of the Community Service Project, and in 1941 was appointed as the District Director of the Community Service Programs for Detroit and Wayne County.

Mrs. Roosevelt returns to the concert platform to perform the A-major concerto for piano and orchestra, by Liszt.

This concert is being sponsored by the Michigan Defense Savings Orchestra of the Treasury Department and the Jewish Community Center. Admission is free and open to the public. Defense Savings Staff Booth will be open for those attending the concert who wish to purchase either defense savings stamps or bonds.

To celebrate their eighth and tenth birthdays, respectively, DIANE and KAREN BELL, daughters of the Frederic Bells, entertained at a supper party on Saturday. Since it really was the first day of spring, even though the weather was being contrary—the party was essentially a spring one, and each guest received a corsage of seasonal flowers. Guests included Lynne Balliette, Barbara Averill, Sally Collins, Joan Hafley, Shirley Wood, Joan Burdick, Norma Waterbury, Margaret Vose, Marlene Thomas, Betsy Osler.

"A GIFT"

And what's finer to give opportunely this year, than that greatest of all gifts the Bible. Listen to Whittier who wrote: "We search the world for truth; we cull the good, the pure, the beautiful from every clime and written or scroll from the old flowers holded of the soul. And weary seekers for the best We come back laden from our quest, To find that all the sages said is in the Book our mothers read." This year we have a splendid selection, in different bindings from which to choose.
