

Elton R. Eaton
Becomes Candidate
For U. S. Senate

Latest to join the list of candidates for the office of United States Senator from Michigan, in opposition to the reelection of incumbent Democrat, Franklin D. Brown, is Elton R. Eaton, publisher of the Plymouth Mail. Eaton, a Republican, has been in the city for some time, and he is expected to be a strong contender for the nomination for President, and for the office of Governor.

Senator Brown formally announced his campaign for reelection last Sunday. He is seeking his first six-year term in the Senate, having served before that two terms in the House of Congress.

Mr. Eaton, one of the most militant of Republicans, and all his life an enemy of predatory political machines, had planned on running for the same office two years ago, but was defeated when Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg failed to win the nomination for President, and for the office of Governor.

Calla Brown, "Machine Politician," who has been a powerful force in the winning of the war. He accused Senator Brown of "being so concerned in politics that he is unable to do otherwise than devote a large part of his time to politics."

Eaton stated that Senator Brown opposed the Hatch Bill for clean politics in Congress, and that he was a member of the Michigan Highway Dept. political machine.

The Plymouth Mail publisher, himself a member of the Michigan House of Representatives for two terms, and similar with the Michigan Highway Dept. political machine, also stated that "if he should Senator Brown be elected, he would be a member of the Michigan Highway Dept. political machine, and he would be a member of the Michigan Highway Dept. political machine."

Poppy Day Set For May 23
American Legion

Poppies of patriotic remembrance will bloom in Birmingham on Saturday, May 23, Mrs. Wylie Pearson, secretary of the American Legion Auxiliary, announced today.

Every man, woman and child in the city will be asked to wear a poppy on that day in honor of the men who have given their lives for America. The poppies will be distributed by volunteer workers from the Legion and Auxiliary and the coins contributed for them will be used in Legion and Auxiliary work for the war disabled, their families and the families of the dead.

The poppies which will be distributed here have been made by disabled veterans at the Veteran's Hospital at Battle Creek. Making the little red flowers has given many veterans employment during the winter and spring months.

Poppy Day has been observed by the Legion and Auxiliary annually for the past 20 years. With the nation again at war, the poppy has new significance this year and will be worn as a symbol of patriotism by millions of Americans throughout the country.

"Victims of the present war are naturally turning to the Legion and Auxiliary for aid, and we want to give them the benefit of our poppies," said Mrs. Pearson.

She said that the poppies are made by disabled veterans at the Veteran's Hospital at Battle Creek. Making the little red flowers has given many veterans employment during the winter and spring months.

Building Permits
During April Up
To $46,487 Total

Despite the fact that Washington's freezing orders have given builders the chill, the number of permits issued by the City of Birmingham during April was the best so far this year. Permits were issued by the City Building Department, totaling $46,487.

There were 8 new single-family residences totaling $26,600; six new two-family residences totaling $17,765 and 8 house alterations totaling $2,122. Alterations, particularly, showed an upswing for they are permitted up to $500.

The total for the month of April, contrasted with $34,580 in March and $10,450 for the month of April, 1941.

Following are the permits issued:

522 Henrietta, W. E. Atkins, garage, $2,122.
502 Woodland, J. E. Porrie, alterations, $2,122.

profit may result, but that is not contemplated.

"We are not seeking any profit," Manager Egbert commented. "We want to contribute this metal to the war effort, but we can't afford to go into street repairs."

MacIntyre said that if two air raid sirens were used, the cost could finish the job in about 40 or 45 days, removing the double track, saving 90 pounds to the foot. It is not expected that traffic will be halted on either side of the street during the operation.

If the spikes are reclaimed, they will be for about $40 a ton, Sweeney said. The controlled price of rails is now about $19 a ton, which does not reflect their true value in this crisis.

Sweeney emphasized the direct need for steel scrap, which is used in open hearth furnaces (up iron will not serve).

"One ton of scrap is worth five tons of steel," he said.

Steel rails make the best scrap because of their strength.

Either Sweeney or MacIntyre will attend the Commission meeting Monday to answer any questions which may come up when that body decides whether to approve the project.

The meeting Wednesday was a high spot in Birmingham's Salvage Week.

Not All Sweets
Need to Be Sugar

Sugar continues to make news and history but it isn't necessary to dip into the sugar supply to sweeten many of the normal Michigan meals.

Suggestions from the home economics extension service at Michigan State College indicate the several ways a cook can turn to save sugar.

One cup of refined white sugar can be replaced by one cup of maple syrup, maple syrup or honey or 3 1/2 cups of sorghum syrup or cane syrup or by two cups of corn syrup.

In the lemonade season a handy recipe can be used without disturbing the sugar. A gassy hot weather drink includes 1/2 cups of strained lemon juice and an eighth teaspoon of salt. Mix the corn syrup and water and add the lemon juice and half and serve with ice cubes.

In changing from sugar to syrup for sweetening, one modification is made in most recipes in the liquid.

Michigan State College authorities recommended:

For cakes and cookies, use honey to replace sugar, cup for cup, but use only half the quantity of other liquid usually recommended.

Suggests a cup of sugar and a cup of milk, then the cook can use a half cup of syrup and half a cup of milk.

When corn, cane or maple syrups replace sugar, reduce the liquid in the recipe by one-third.

Those who turn to sorghum syrup can follow the same recipe with other syrups, but the lathering powder should be reduced. A half teaspoon of soda should be added for each cup of sorghum and this has the lathering power of two teaspoons of baking powder.

Evergreen Trees
Damaged by Moth

A shy, pink-bodied moth so retiring it only dies at night is fast becoming a headache to evergreen growers in Michigan, except those that spray with a white pine.

Surveys conducted by the entomology department at Michigan State College indicate the European spruce sawfly moth has now become established practically throughout the state. Larvae tunnel under the growth, especially in the lower branches, and cause a break off of a few infested tips of evergreens.

One larvae can kill several shoots in a season, and a heavy infestation soon kills off what have been healthy trees.

Emergence of the moth depends on the weather. But trees to be protected should be sprayed within 10 days after the moth begins to fly, repeating the spray 10 days later. Evergreen growers puzzled as to when the moth may appear can break off a few infested tips, place these in a close-screened jar, open to determine when the moths begin to fly.

Spray machines should be capable of high pressure and volume and be adequately. The college authorities advise of spray containing three pounds of water, plus a number of summer oil.

While we admit that many controls are necessary in war, I'm afraid that some of those radical New Dealers will want to keep them after the war—and where will this nation go when men and women are denied a decent reward for their own ambition and talents?

Well, the discussion went back and forth as they do in those short sessions when many of us try to solve encyclopedic problems between soup and a hard sandwich.

My contribution to the conversation was something like this: "Nothing any change of government in the United States can do will ever suffice, for any great length of time, the present man desire to work and create—without the promise of personal physical reward may be diminished at times. Life is an adventure, like going fishing; you don't always catch fish, but the deep urge for this adventurous sport makes you go fishing again and again, as they do in those short sessions when many of us try to solve encyclopedic problems between soup and a hard sandwich."

A highlight of the meeting was an unrehearsed "sample solicitation" stated between Charles E. James, co-chairman of the Birmingham campaign, with Herbert H. Gardner, one of the captains. Mr. James acted as a canvasser, Mr. Gardner as a typical householder, being solicited. Many points were brought out, and the audience also participated in the open forum discussion that followed.

SCHOOL CALENDAR SET

The school calendar was adopted. In September, classes will resume on Sept. 14. Next spring vacation will be called, extending only from April 22 to April 27. If there is a Washington trip, students may be excused a week of days, or they may take the trip in June, when classes end June 11, 1943.

Hereafter, elementary students will receive four report cards a year instead of three. A parent-teacher conference for every student will be added.
