

Men in Service

Editor's Note—Men in the armed forces, and parents, are invited to send us news of the boys' whereabouts and activities. Service men scattered across the country are hungry for news of their friends. Give the address of a newly-placed dependent man or of interest.

HUNGRY FOR NEWS
Birmingham boys in many parts of the world are avid readers of the Eccentric, and they follow the news and activities through this column. So, home folks, send us your men in service news. This column can become increasingly interesting.

TO BE NAVIGATOR
ALBANY, Ga.—Navigation Cadet Norman Lyle, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lyle, of Birmingham, Mich., has reported to the Air Corps that he is attending the School at Turner Field for the final stage of training as an Aviator.

HE GOT HOME
Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Waugh, 706 Hoade, are proudly proud of their nephew, Sgt. Phil Fred Hiley, of Toronto, formerly a member of the Royal Canadian Air Force in England.

CLAWSON YOUTH LOST
Recent casualty lists include the name of Dale Francis Hain, 19 son of Mr. H. E. Smith, Clawson. He was graduated in 1940, enlisted in the Navy and served aboard a destroyer which apparently was lost in the Java sea battle. He is listed as missing.

BOB BACK TO FLY
Bob Back, former Eccentric employee was in the City this week on furlough, prior to his return to training as an air cadet with the Army Force. He en-

THAT PAY RAISE
Men in service are awaiting the day when they get their increased pay. Almost every rookie has testified that it is hard to get by on $21 a month.

AN INTERESTING LETTER
Kirk Martin, Birmingham flying cadet, gives a description of Randolph Field, the West Point of the Air, in a recent letter to his parents, who live at 815 Oakland Avenue.
"Randolph Field! I'll give you a blow by blow account of this world-famous flying school. I got time, right now, in the future, the boys will go to Custer, then all come home for a 14-day furlough, and then they go back with transportation furnished by the government. When the furlough is over and the group goes back to Custer, that will be the time of the farewell observations. That sounds sensible.

instrument work; the cockpit is covered to simulate blind flying and one puts his plane through...
Bathrick Heads A. A. Gun School
D. U. Bathrick, Birmingham resident and general salesman of Pontiac Motor Division, heads up Pontiac's school for trainee instructors and observers for the Navy anti-aircraft cannon school at Pontiac in manufacturing, according to an announcement Wednesday. Bathrick, a Marine Corps commissioned officer in the last war, will continue his sales duties, it was reported.

OVERSEAS?
Mrs. Robert Andrews, son of Mrs. L. H. Eby, and son Charles Fletcher, son of Mr. and Mrs.

Remember, too, that if you wish to mail The Eccentric to some one in the armed forces, we send it at the special rate of $1.50 a year, reduction from the usual out-of-pocket rate.

Located on the low rolling plains of picturesque South Georgia, Turner Field is an advanced school of the Southeast Air Corps Training Center, one of the four major schools in the country. "Prepare For Combat" is the motto. Victory is the byword.

JOIN THE NAVY
Joining the ranks of the hundreds of young men who are leaving their flying in the U. S. Navy, four young men of this area were reported to have joined the U. S. Navy. They are BYRON P. COLGROVE, and E. COLGROVE, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Colgrove, 452 Puritan, Birmingham; ROBERT F. COLGROVE, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Craig Orchard Ridge Road, and J. RICHARD C. KERN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kern, East Long Lake Road, of Bloomfield Hills.

Craig attended Lehigh University, Philadelphia, where he was employed by the American Airlines, Inc., immediately prior to his enlistment in the U. S. Navy. L. E. Colgrove, Jr., was a first year student at Purdue University, majoring in an aeronautical engineering.

SELECTEES' LEAVES COMING
About two months ago, the induction rules were changed so that local physical exams were practically eliminated. When the selectees left, none knew for sure whether he would be rejected, none knew whether to quit his job, and so on.

Conservation Officers Concentrated Here
LANSING—Concentration of fresh lake conservation officers in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb and Monroe counties to check on reported disregard for game laws among some newly arrived war workers was now an experimental basis. U. S. Game Warden, J. W. C. Sawyer, chief of the Conservation Department's law enforcement agency, said today.
