

Thanksgiving Day Guests to Be Entertained in Many Homes This Week

June Pointer Speaks Vows In Afternoon Ceremony

June Pointer was lovely in her gown of combination net and satin when she became the bride of Russell J. Martin, Jr., Prescott, Mich., Saturday afternoon in Christ Church Cranbrook. The Rev. William C. Hamm read the service at 4 o'clock, and was assisted by the Rev. Charles H. Cadigan.

Miss Pointer's dress was fashioned with a long torso of heavy white satin, a sweetheart neckline, and bracelet-length sleeves. A bouffant skirt of white net was casually caught up by tiny satin bows scattered on the fullness. A train of veiling was held in place by a coronet of white lace. She carried a prayer book with white orchids.

Wear Taffeta Faille

Mrs. Stuart Carpenter was her sister's matron of honor, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. David Martin, of Prescott, Mich., Mrs.

Miss Houff Weds Officer in Rites On Monday Morn

Before an altar decked with white mums and ferns, Patricia Houff spoke her marriage vows to Lt. Jack Fralick in the Holy Name Church at 10 o'clock Monday morning with the Rev. Fr. David J. Duncan singing the nuptial mass. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Houff, of Wadlington road.

After the ceremony there was reception at the home of the bride's mother. The bridal table was centered with a tiered wedding cake. Other features included crystal candelabra with burning tapers, and crystal bowls containing white chrysanthemums and gladioli.

The newlyweds left for Asheville, N. C., where they will spend their honeymoon; afterward, both will resume their studies at Michigan State College.

Jo-Anne Herzberg Tells Engagement

At the conclusion of a theater party Thursday evening, friends of Jo-Anne Herzberg learned of her engagement to Deloite Webster. Engagement rings, inscribed "Jo and Del" were designed on the bases of the glasses in which beverage was served the guests.

Jo-Anne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Herzberg, of East Lincoln avenue, and the bridegroom is the son of Carl B. Webster, of The Beaver road, Birmingham.

Jo-Anne was graduated from Baldwin High School last June, and Deloite is attending Michigan State College. No plans have been made for the wedding.

Couple Celebrates 60th Wedded Year

At a gala party given Friday night at the Baptist Church, Mrs. George L. Henning, of South Lyons, and George Todd, of West Maple, honored their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Todd, on their 60th wedding anniversary which occurs on Dec. 4. About 100 friends were on hand to greet the surprised couple who had only expected a small informal gathering.

At the end of this week, Mr. and Mrs. Todd will leave for the South where they will spend the winter, as they have done for years.

Miss Rayborn Wed In Home Ceremony

Witnessed by only immediate families, Mary Rayborn, daughter of Mrs. Eva Rayborn, of Cole street, became the bride of Orman Compton, son of Grover Compton, of Murfreesboro, Tenn., on the morning of Friday, Nov. 20. The Rev. Robert T. Burgess united the couple in the home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Aralie Givens.

For her wedding, the bride chose an ensemble of turquoise blue velvet, and she wore a shoulder corsage of gardenias and pink rosebuds. Mrs. Irene Rayborn, of Ferndale, was her sister's only attendant, and she wore a dress of tan crepe, accented with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Marvin Compton was his brother's best man.

The ceremony was followed by a wedding luncheon, after which the newlyweds left for a trip to middle Tennessee. Upon their return they plan to make their home in Birmingham.

Mrs. J. E. Peppercell Observes Birthday

Mrs. James E. Peppercell, of 324 Greenway avenue, celebrated her 75th birthday anniversary Tuesday evening by holding open house for her children and grandchildren.

For the occasion Mrs. Peppercell chose a black and white ensemble with which she wore a corsage of purple orchids. A buffet luncheon was served by her guests among whom were four of her five sons and their families. These include Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peppercell and daughters Barbara and Roberta; Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Peppercell and son, Monte; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peppercell and daughter, Patsy; Mr. and Mrs. "Pete" Peppercell and son, Kim.

Mrs. Peppercell's three daughters and their families are, namely, Mr. and Mrs. Oley Beal, of Royal Oak and sons, Robert, Jack and Donald; Mr. R. A. Williams, of Pontiac and son, Bracey; Jack Moore and daughter, Nancy; and a friend of the families, Mrs. William Pettypiece, of Amherstburg, Ont., was also present for the celebration.

Miss Houff

and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Fralick of Sherwood Forest.

Mrs. George Cavanaugh, Jr., sister of the bride, was matron of honor and William Fralick was his brother's best man.

The bride was gowned in a dress of heavy white satin fashioned with a tight bodice and a full skirt. White lace hemmed the dress and the sweetheart neckline. Her headpiece was a dainty Dutch cap trimmed with the lace and a waist-length veil. She carried a white prayer book tied with white orchids.

The matron-of-honor wore champagne-colored tulle with satin bolero. Her headpiece was three shades of orchid ostrich tips, and she wore long orchid gloves. She carried a colonial bouquet of violets.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Charles M. Houff, chose a new, expensive, trimmed, street-length dress with a pink feather hat and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Leroy J. Fralick's gold crepe dress with rhinestone trim had a brown velvet hat and brown orchids.

After the wedding breakfast held at the bride's home, the couple left for a short wedding trip. As for going-away ensemble the bride selected a light blue crepe dress worn with blue fur jacket, fuchsia-feather hat and black accessories.

Lt. and Mrs. Fralick will leave shortly for California where they will make their home.

THIS IS WORTH FIGHTING FOR

Thanksgiving means turkey and cranberries and pumpkin pie—but above all, it means the freedom that is the heritage of America... freedom of religion, of speech, of press and of assembly. This was worth fighting to obtain. This is worth fighting for now. We can all help achieve victory by saving materials... by saving money for War Bonds... by saving our good health for the arduous work that lies ahead. You'll save money by procuring your health needs here.

'Christmas House'
—Being a poem originally written and first published in 1930—

What a house of your own one day
With things that suit in every way
With a lamp and a chair and a favorite book
In a corner with a careless carpeted nook
As it owned by a person who likes to live
When day is done, and there's chance to give
Time to things of much import
Which you know, in your heart, has been all too short

There are good books in leather and gold
And a lot of volumes not so old
There, in your chair, you read a while
And then look up and gaze, and smile
For as you seek your cozy hours
You think of friends, and the thoughts pour
In your heart the feeling that life's worthwhile
For friends... true friends... are the cause of your smile

Genuine—sure, A smile, not a smirk
For the things are from friends who never smirk
Friends who thought before they gave
Of exactly what you'd like to have
And then, went to an interesting place
Where they found just the gift to fill that space
On your wall—An etching, in color, too
Meadow tones of brown, a sky of blue

Carved boxes from India, Chinese brass
While on your table there's crystal glass
And a photograph... framed in leather of red
Is placed on the mantel so that you
May easily see. And right nearby
Is a greeting card, Christmas! Wh—
What's this doing here?
And then you think, it's really near,

Christmas! In fancy you play hot
To those fine friends who matter most
Who always pictured you in thought
Judging from the things they bought
Because they always know so well
Into your sphere of home, and you can tell
That someone long fore Christmas planned
To have those gifts your friends demand.

And you think of this
As you write your list
And wonder what, and worry some
About when you'll get your shopping done
Then you'll start from out your home one day
And think of the friendly, worthwhile way
Of giving gifts that ne'er grow old.
Of china, brass, glass, books, and gold

And silver, pottery, leather and wood
And you'll say to yourself, I wish I could
Find the shop where gifts are fine
To give these many friends of mine...
And then at a lanterned, Old English sign
You'll step aside, a gift to find.
And you'll know full well, as you later there
It's the end of your search for gifts so rare.
