

Birmingham Musicales to Feature Two of City's Own Artists In Concert

Nora Ann Neafie Weds Douglas Livy

Nora Ann Neafie, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Neafie, of Orchard Lake road, Pontiac, became the bride of Douglas K. Livy, seaman first class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Livy, of Detroit, at 11:00 o'clock, Thursday, Oct. 22 in St. Phillip's Episcopal Church, Charleston, S. C. Following the wedding ceremony, the guests were served breakfast at St. John's Hotel.

The bride wore a dressmaker suit of aqua crepe and a tiny hat trimmed with brown-flowers from which escaped a mist of aqua veiling. The bridal bouquet of white roses was centered by a white orchid.

Mr. Livy, father of the bridegroom, performed the duties of best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Neafie chose a dahlia crepe dress with emphasis by black accessories and a gardenia corsage. Multi-colored sequins trimmed the brown crepe gown of Mrs. Livy. She wore a similar corsage of white gardenias.

The newlyweds left for a trip to Savannah, Ga., and will finally arrive in Georgetown, S. C., where they will reside temporarily.

Mrs. Livy is a graduate of Frances Shimer Junior College and a member of the Amies Alumnae. Mr. Livy was graduated from Baldwin High School.

36 Attend Rally of Horticultural Group

A reunion of all past and present members of the Bloomfield Hills and District Horticultural Society was held at the Pope estate, Franklin road, on Friday, Oct. 30. There were 36 members present, coming from Grosse Pointe, Grosse Ile, and Pontiac. After renewing old friendships and exchanging the Star Spangled Banner, the program was continued by several short speeches given by older members of the society. Piano selections were then rendered by W. Wayne, of Royal Oak.

Refreshments were served by host Karl Rhodes and family. The group adjourned after singing Auld Lang Syne. Walter Killing was general chairman for the reunion.

Arthur Townsend Weds Miss Green

Miss Rose Lee Green and Arthur Townsend were united in marriage at a simple candlelight service Saturday evening, Oct. 24, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Green, of Woodward avenue. The Rev. J. O. Nelson performed the double ring ceremony at 8 o'clock.

For her wedding, Miss Green chose a dress ensemble of teal green accented with accessories of brown. She carried the traditional bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Emma Rupeet, of Wyandotte, Mich., attended Miss Green as matron of honor, wearing a light blue suit with black trim. Her flowers were a corsage of yellow and bronze mums. Donald Watson, of Ovid, Mich., performed the duties of best man.

Mrs. Green, mother of the bride, wore a dress of mulberry crepe and a corsage of pink sweet peas, while Mr. Townsend was in a victory blue suit with a similar corsage of pink sweet peas.

Mr. and Mrs. Townsend plan to make their home in Pontiac.

Village Playhouse To Be Open Friday For Games Party

The Village Playhouse will be open to the players and their guests at 8:30 o'clock, tomorrow evening for the annual Thanksgiving games party. W. A. P. Johns will act as general chairman of the party, assisted by C. G. Eden and George W. Dwellley, who will sacrifice his voice as announcer.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner M. Cobb are in charge of labels and arrangement, and the prizes are in the hands of Mrs. A. L. Genung. Mrs. Richard W. Wenzell will manage floor stewards and also make plans for refreshments.

Arrangements for music will be taken care of by Ward Tollzien, and the public address system will be managed by Rolf C. Spinning. Mrs. W. A. P. Johns and Mrs. Clyde Hagerman constitute the decorating committee and Mrs. George Howard Fox is in charge of tickets.

Many Parties Held For Patricia Houff

Patricia Houff, popular November bride-elect, will be feted at many parties before she becomes the bride of Officer Candidate Jack Fraick on the morning of Nov. 23 at Holy Name Church. Patricia is the daughter of the Charles M. Houffs and the bridegroom-elect is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Howard Fox of Sherwood Forest.

Mrs. Fraick will introduce Patricia at a luncheon this afternoon at the D.A.C. Next Wednesday evening Mrs. Harry Mellon, a recent Birmingham bride, will be the bride of Officer Candidate Jack Fraick at a personal shower, and the afternoon of Nov. 14 will be aside for a luncheon and kitchen shower to be given at Devon Tables Tea Room by Mrs. Philip J. Carey. Plans for still another party for Patricia are being made by Gay Carey.

Violinist and Singer Are Booked on Program

The Birmingham Musicales will present an evening concert Nov. 16, at which time the community will have the privilege of hearing two of Birmingham's own artists, Charles Turner and Lois Thomason Bampton. The concert will be presented at the Community House at 8:30 o'clock.

Charles Turner, talented young violinist, has studied with William G. King of Detroit, with Lea Luboshutz at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, with Edouard Debaur at the Juillard School in New York, and with Hugh McGeheeny of Indianapolis. He is a graduate of the Detroit Institute of Musical Art and is a member of the faculty. He is a member of the United States Naval Reserve.

Women's Farm and Garden Association To Consider Holiday Table Arrangements

The next meeting of the Birmingham branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association will be held Monday, November 9, at 8:00 o'clock, in the Community House. Mrs. F. H. McKinney will discuss "Ideas for Tablecloths, Thanksgiving and Christmas."

Elbridge G. Nyshell will show colored slides of the village demonstration garden. Mrs. Nevan C. Barnes will talk on Thanksgiving and Christmas arrangements.

Following the meeting, tea will be served by the social committee.

Junior Musicales Holds Audition for New Members

An audition for prospective members was the high note of a Junior Musicales meeting, held at the home of Featon Mathews on Brown Street last Monday evening.

Memorie Upp played "Clair de Lune" by Debussy and Wynema Reuter played "Minuet" by Paul Ewerick. Both were piano selections.

Mrs. Minks announced her violin solo as "Sousvent" by Dilla. "To The Rising Sun" by Tolpelt, was played by Dorothy Atkinson on the piano. Nancy Annan played "Theme From Piano Concerto in A Minor" by Grieg and Gordon Cole sang Clarke's "Blind Plowman."

In the business meeting it was decided that the group would meet promptly at 8:00 o'clock every other Monday.

Ruth Peritt, conductor, announced that the Junior Musicales' annual spring concert will be held on the evening of May 7.

Pretty Wedding at Southfield Church

Before an altar decorated with fern candelabra and white Myrsintheums and cladioli, Margaret Pearl Bedlow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theophilus Bedlow, spoke her marriage vows to Robert James Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brooks, on Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The double ring ceremony was read in French by Father Bedlow, officiating.

Mrs. Bedlow, who was escorted to the altar on the arm of her father, wore a lovely gown of white satin styled on princess lines with a lace-trimmed neckline. Her long tulle veil fell from a heartshaped tarta of seed pearls. She wore a string of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom, and carried a shower bouquet of white chrysanthemums and gladioli.

Betty Bedlow, as maid of honor for her sister, wore a becoming gown, combining a buff skirt of white net and a navy blue velvet bodice. She carried a nosegay bouquet of chrysanthemums and sweetheart roses. The bridesmaids, Betty Brooks, sister of the bridegroom, and Shirley Aikens, wore similar gowns of white net skirts and their bodices were of violet and gold velvet. They carried arm bouquets of sweetheart roses.

John Brooks, Jr., was his brother's best man, and seating the guests were Russell and Alfred Lavin, Tommy Bedlow, young brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

Mrs. Bedlow chose a gown of soldier blue velvet with matching hat and a corsage of gardenias. Mrs. Brooks' slate blue dress trimmed with sequins matched her hat. She wore a corsage of gardenias.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the parlor of the church.

When she left for Kentucky with her husband, Margaret wore an ensemble of black. Upon their return, the young couple will reside on 12-Mile road.

GIRL SCOUTS Club Notes

Along with the Girl Scout Week Cookie Sale we have the growing interest in the Girl Scout Victory Fund drive which lasts until Thanksgiving Day. A national report on the sale of bonds will be in the papers for Dec. 7. This is a fitting time to report on help Girl Scouts are going to give all over the world when the War is over.

Milbolland's put in a very fine window for Girl Scout week. We thank them for their interest.

The Marmors are working at meetings and between on the items for their sale of gifts. The proceeds will go to the Girl Scout Victory Fund. The Marmors received donations for the Birmingham Halloween party. They had a representative at Hill School on Saturday for this job.

All scouting is not work. There were several Halloween parties and autumn hikes. For instance, we have the following news from Troop 5, at Barrum: "We went on a hike Saturday and had a very nice time. Monday, Oct. 26, we had a tea for our mothers. Every girl is asked to try to sell 12 boxes of cookies."

The Brownies, troop 11 at Adams School, report that they have had their initiation ceremony and have the following new members: Allison Bivens, Betty Bivens, Elizabeth Cobb, Mary Goldberg, Barbara Graham, Kitty
