

League Of Catholic Women Plan Bridge Luncheon, Fashion Show, Oct. 14

Mrs. J. R. Scolaro, Mrs. James Cornell Are Co-Chairmen

Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 14, has been set aside by the League of Catholic Women for their annual party, this year to be in the afternoon rather than the evening.

Mrs. James Cornell and Mrs. J. Ray Scularo, Jr., are co-chairmen of the event which is to be a bridge luncheon and a fashion show, plans for the latter already being underway.

The party, which will be held at the Community House, is being planned around a patriotic theme, with prizes being in war stamps and a part of the proceeds to be set aside for the USO.

Assisting Mrs. Cornell and Mrs. Scularo with plans for the party are Mrs. Martin Wendell, Mrs. James Harrison, Mrs. Joseph A. Flaherty, Mrs. Clifford Lawson, and Mrs. Carson Bingham.

Newlyweds On Honeymoon In East

Saturday at noon, Rosemary chose a dressmaker suit of soft blue wool accented by a plum colored hat and plum accessories, and wore a corsage of white orchids. Maid of honor, Macie Purdy, of Detroit, wore a white suit with brown accessories, and Lt. Stark's young sister, Joy, a bridesmaid wore a dress of yellow wool with brown accessories. Both honor attendants carried muffs of brown tulle covered with small bronze and gold mums.

Mrs. Schoulercraft was dressed in a green wool suit, matching hat, and a corsage of gardenias for her niece's wedding, and Mrs. Stark wore a gown of ivory crepe, a small purple hat trimmed with pink tipped feathers, and a corsage of baby iris and small rosebuds.

lieutenant and his bride start out on their honeymoon. Fortunately, Lt. Stark has a 17 day furlough, and the young couple plan to spend a week in New York and then return to Detroit and Birmingham for a few days before going down to Camp Pickett, Va. On Friday evening preceding the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Stark entertained at a rehearsal dinner and open house in honor of the young couple.

Tea For 50

Mrs. Paul S. Bigby, of San Diego boulevard, gave a tea Thursday for several guests of honor, among whom were: Mrs. Elizabeth Bigby of Denver, Col., who has spent the past few weeks visiting here; Mrs. Frederick Lister, Mrs. Bigby's mother and a contingent of new neighbors who lately have moved to the Townsite. Mrs. W. Wadlis recently bought the Douglas home; Mrs. Edwin Blake, new owner of the Tietz residence; Mrs. Homer Marrott, Mrs. Maurice Murphy, Mrs. Thomas North, Mrs. Kenneth Thompson, Mrs. Edward Kaiser, Mrs. Herbert De Coe were there. The table was decorated with a Venetian lace cloth with crystal and silver candlesticks at each end. The centerpiece was a silver bowl in which floated large lilies; small wax flowers nestled in the lily pads. About 50 guests attended the tea.

Good Books Will Help Fill the Void Of Gas Rationing

By LINDO MOORE

Pile the wood high on the fire one of these chilly evenings, put a dozen good tart red apples to sizzling before it, gather the family around and read aloud for a few hours—just like the pioneers.

Gas and rubber rationing meant nothing to those sturdy folk. But books were another matter. They weren't so plentiful in some parts and when a new one was acquired, the whole family hung on the words that one or another of them read aloud. Not a bad custom.

Great grandfathers listened toward "lives of the Saints" but around a present day fire you're more likely to hear a good mystery yarn, like "Murder in a Striped Suit" by the great "Four Years in Paradise" is a good one or a dip into fictionized American history, for instance, "Forward the Nation."

Perfect for before-the-fire reading is "Big Spring" by Shine Phillips, a travel book. Four new Library shelves. It is the story of a dusty little Texas town, told by the local druggist. As the story grows it becomes the paragon of the whole western catalog of mysteries, cowboys, boys, drunk and sober, justice, ladies and women (it) through its pages. It makes good reading.

Quartern PTA to Hear Russell Barnes At Dinner Meeting Monday Evening

Russell Barnes, Detroit News Commentator, will be the featured speaker at the Quartern School Parent-Teacher Association dinner, Monday evening, Oct. 5, at the Community House, at 8:45 o'clock.

Because of his background and his constant touch with the war situation in Europe, Mr. Barnes will be able to give his audience a first hand picture of the European situation. The speaker was Paris correspondent for the Detroit News from 1925-1931, and a year ago he spent three months in England on a mission for the government as a correspondent for his paper.

Five Generations

Five generations are pictured here. At the left is CHARLES E. MARVIN, 85, of Grand Rapids, the great great grandfather. Next to him is MRS. MABEL MARVIN FRENCH, of 1228 Cole, the great grandmother; then MRS. ADA FRENCH BRUNETTE, of Troy Township, the grandmother, who holds the baby, CRYSTAL ANN LOTERO, born June 29, 1942. Standing to the mother, MRS. JUNE BRUNETTE LOTERO, also of Troy Township. She was a student at Baldwin High when she was graduated in 1940. Except Mr. Marvin, who married at the age of 22, the others were married at 17.
