Resident Collapses; Firemen Give Oxygen
The Fire Department's rescue squad was called to the home of Mrs. Christine Smith, 701 Purdy street, Wednesday at 5:35 p. m. when she suddenly collapsed. Firemen, using a resuscitator, were still administering oxygen at 10 p. m. when The Eccentric went to press, but it was reported that Mrs. Smith's condition was critical.

It was believed that a heart ailment was responsible. Fire Chief V. W. Griffin, after an investigation, said that the change-over to natural gas had no bearing in the case.

Mrs. Smith is the wife of Henry R. B. Smith.

World Wide Communion Sunday
Next Sunday in the Protestant churches affiliated with the Federal Council of Churches, World Wide Communion Sunday will be observed. This is the third annual observance of this sacrament. Church loyalty covenant cards, provided by the Federal Council to be used on that day call for pledges of renewed church attendance. Most churches of Birmingham are cooperating in what should mean a general "Go-to-Church Sunday."
