Hills Horticultural Society Will Hold Annual Show Here This Weekend

Display Exhibits Sept. 12 and 13 at Community House

The annual flower, fruit, and vegetable show sponsored each fall by the Bloomfield Hills and District Horticultural Society, will be held this weekend, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 12 and 13, at the Birmingham Community House. Walter Thorndyke is general chairman of the show.

One particular display, which is expected to draw a great deal of interest, will illustrate the possible products of an ordinary Victory Garden. Ribbons will be awarded to exhibitors, but there are no prizes offered this year. All exhibits must be in place by noon on Saturday.

There are twelve classifications, a total of 164 individual classes in all, most of which are open for the public to enter. They are: cut flowers (collections), vases (perennials), vases (annuals), roses (outdoor grown only), dahlias and gladiolus.

Members only are allowed to enter classes for artistic arrangement, but open to the public again are the following classifications: fruits (dishes), vegetables (collection and dish), artistic arrangements of flowers, and open classes.

Village Variety

Scheduled to be one of the more popular spots in Birmingham this Saturday evening is the Frank R. Pierce home, where some 75 friends will congregate for a cocktail party and buffet supper. Assisting Mr. and Mrs. Pierce at the party will be the H. G. Littles, the John P. St. Clairs, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Gawne, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barr Field.

The George D. Clarks seem to have been flying from one party to another ever since they announced their intention to leave here for Sewanee, Tenn. They expect to be gone next Monday or Tuesday, the exact date depending on the movers.

Last Friday evening the Wally Herdricks gave a steak roast in honor of the departees and the following evening the Lanee Mitchells entertained for them at dinner. There have been several small affairs this week to be climaxed Sunday night at a buffet supper being given by the George T. Hendries.

NEWS MILITARY

From Miami Beach, Fla., comes the news that Mrs. John L. McQuigg, with young Jack and Sassie, is nicely settled there and near enough to Lieut. McQuigg so that he can get home very often. Another former Birminghamite at Miami is Major Loren T. Robinson, who received his commission just a short time ago. Also in Florida, but with the Navy, is Neill E. Graham, now a lieutenant, s.g., in the photographic department of the Naval Air Corps at Pensacola. In civilian life, Lt. Graham was an attorney, with photography mostly his hobby. Mrs. Graham and seven-year-old Barbara plan to remain in Birmingham.

Pvt. Harry Limbocker, who, with his wife, spent the past month at the home of his mother, Mrs. L. E. Limbocker, left Saturday for Camp Blanding, Ga. At present Harry is a soldier unassigned, having just transferred from the cavalry division to the air forces. Young Mrs. Limbocker plans to spend a few weeks with her parents, the Gerald Guinans, of Pontiac, before rejoining her husband.

RETURNERS

Coming home this past weekend from a summer spent at Northport Pointe and Blaney Park were Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Edwards—incidentally this is the first time for 25 years that the Edwards' summer home at Ledgemere, Me., has remained closed for the entire season.

Expected around Sept. 15 are Mrs. Arthur G. Rippey, Jr., and the three Rippey young ones—Cynthia, Gordon, and Bruce—who have been at their summer home in Colorado. H. Victor Spike and Shirley came back last weekend from Harbor Springs in order to get Shirley off to the St. Mary Academy in Monroe this week. Mr. Spike is going up again this weekend and will bring Mrs. Spike and Jo Jo back with him.

VACATIONING YET

Barbara Foster, who has been more than busy this summer, learning to fly and also doing a grand job of selling war stamps for AWVS at the Birmingham Theatre, is enjoying a week or so of fun up at Ludington as the guest of Pat Heinmiller.

Mrs. Elmore F. Wollering and Norma left yesterday for a few days' visit in Minnesota . . . Also leaving Wednesday were the Bert Morleys, who have been at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club most of the summer, and now are returning to Phoenix, Ariz. . . Dr. and Mrs. Donald Frazer McDonald are enjoying a trip through California for a few weeks . . .

Interesting guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard H. Heinz on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Nelson, of Detroit now, but formerly of Stockholm, Sweden. The Nelsons came over recently from Sweden on the Grisholm . . . Guests of the C. E. Botsfords out in Franklin for the past few days have been their daughter, Mrs. Richard Dayton Calhoun (the former June Botsford) and her small daughter, Jacqueline, of Madison, Wis. Dr. Calhoun, who, you will remember, is a lieutenant in the Navy, has been on active duty now for more than a year.

OFF TO SCHOOL

Big doings on Suffield avenue yesterday afternoon centered around the Welch home where Barbara was giving a tea—one last chance to see all her friends together before she leaves for Wheaton College, Norton, Mass., where she is to be a freshman. Assisting Barbara were: Jane Ley, of Detroit, Helen Lewis, of Huntington Woods, Susan Tupker, Eleanor Paton, Jane Ray, Joyce Webster, Maggie Newell, Shirley Wallace, Mary Welch, and Clover Babcock.

Are you as valiant as a soldier?

The family can opener is due for a rest; WPB has ordered that fewer tin cans be made from now on, and in larger sizes, to save critical metals.

THIS IS EVERGREEN TIME

The home owner is now doing everything possible to keep his home and grounds in good presentable condition.

Along this line may we suggest that you take an inventory now of your plantings and make necessary changes and additions this fall. This time is now most favorable for fall planting of evergreens.

You will be pleased with our stock of evergreens and will doubtless wish to make your reservations early. Shrubs and trees will be ready to plant a little later but you may now see them at the nurseries in their summer foliage.

Landscape advice and estimates on request.

Rosemary Stuart, Harry Stark Tell Of Wedding Plans

Rosemary Stuart and Harry S. Stark, Jr., have just completed final plans for their marriage, which is to take place on Saturday, Sept. 26. That is, the plans are as final as they can be, when the War Department also figures in the wedding.

Harry is to graduate from Officers' Training School on Thursday, Sept. 24, and he hopes to be able to make it up here in time for a rehearsal dinner the following evening, but of course won't know until the last minute whether or not he will be able to do so. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Stark, of Madison avenue. The bride-elect is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. William D. Schoolcraft, of Detroit.

The wedding will be held at high noon in the Gesu Church, Detroit. Marie Purdy, of Detroit and Joy Ann Stark, sister of the bride-to-be-elect, will be Rosemary's attendants.

Then on Monday evening, Sept. 14, Peggy Rosden will be hostess at a dinner and personal shower, while on the following Thursday Frannie Fisher will entertain for Rosemary at another dinner, and bathroom and closet shower.

Amy Roosevelt Returns From White House Visit

Amy Roosevelt, of Birmingham, and Patsy Prowse, of Ann Arbor, returned this past weekend from a thrilling trip through the East, which included participating in the National Girls' Amateur Tennis Finals and a stay at the White House.

Arriving on Thursday in Philadelphia they had two days to practice on lawn courts before their appearance in the tournament. Amy won her first match, 6-4, 6-1, on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 22, from Catherine Heebner, of Philadelphia. She lost the next one, 6-1, 6-2, to Anne LeDuc, Philadelphia champion, that same afternoon.

From Philadelphia they went on to Washington, D. C., where they were guests for two days of Amy's uncle and aunt, President and Mrs. Roosevelt, at the White House. The first evening they dined with the famous couple, later attending a movie. The following day attended a luncheon in the state dining room. Guests at the latter affair included, among others, the Grand Duchess of Luxembourg, her husband, and children, Mr. and Mrs. Cordell Hull, Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Welles, and the President and his wife.

Leaving Washington, the girls went up to New York City, where they parted company. Amy spent two days at Great Neck, L. I., and then three at Hyde Park. Before returning to Birmingham she also visited with friends at Harrisburg, Pa., for a few days. Amy will be a senior at Baldwin High School this fall.

Fast driving is regretful.

LT. FREDERIC C. PEW is now stationed at the Army Air Forces Navigation School in Monroe, La. Mrs. Pew has just returned from a visit there.
