What Happens when you call "Information" needlessly? Six out of every ten calls to "Information" are for numbers that are listed in the telephone directory. Every time "Information" is asked for a number that is listed, some fifty seconds of war-vital time are wasted. And those fifty seconds, multiplied by the thousands of such unnecessary calls, make a total of 1,180 hours of switchboard and operators' time lost each day in Michigan! We ask every patriotic telephone user to do these two things—please: Look in the directory before you call "Information." If the number isn't listed and you must call "Information," write it down so you'll have it next time. MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY * BUY MORE WAR BONDS—AND KEEP THEM!
